DEFEAT THE CALIFORNIANS

Bundy and Hendrick Go Down Before the Steady Playing of the Veterans.

NEWPORT, R. I., August 18.—Playing a steady game in the face of more brilliant execution with the racket, Frederick B. Alexander and Harold H. Hackett retained the national lawn tennis doubles championship yesterday.

In every aspect the match was a notable one. The play was brightly, a lively breeze set the pennants and flags about the historic field a-flutter, while a throng of several thousands, all eyes alive to the fine points of the sport, watched and applauded the spirited rallies and good shots.

The early morning brought cheer to the hearts of the players for the weather through the clouds. It had rained almost without ceasing for the two days that the players have been waiting for the courts receiving a thorough grooming, and the conditions, except for the breeze, which was made possible at the narrow escape at the hands of W. M. Washburn, the fifteen-year-old boy who is the Columbia Intercollegiate champion.

Several radical changes have been made in American foot ball, according to the rules which will govern this fall. They were issued yesterday. The changes adopted are revolutionary in character and calculated to minimize the danger of fatal accidents occurring during the game.

ROQUE TOURNAMENT

Championships of 1911 to be Held in Norwich, Conn.

NORWICH, Conn., August 18.—The National Roque Association members yesterday decided to come back here next year for the annual tournament, in spite of the efforts of the Philadelphia delegation to have the national tournament held in that city.

POLAND SPRINGS GOLF

Dr. W. S. Harban Finishes Second in Qualifying Round for Chick Cup.

POLAND SPRINGS, Me., August 18.—The qualifying round of the Chick cup and championship tournament was played on the local course yesterday.

Hard Work "Spring Fever" Weather

Weariness and thirst follow. "Bracers" won't do—there's a come back. Water doesn't satisfy—it's not "wet" enough.

It refreshes mentally and physically—relieves fatigue and quenches the thirst. Wholesome as the purest water and lots nicer to drink.

RADICAL CHANGES IN FOOT BALL RULES

Game Will Be Played in "Quarters" This Fall, and Flying Tackle Is Abolished.

Several radical changes have been made in American foot ball, according to the rules which will govern this fall. They were issued yesterday. The changes adopted are revolutionary in character and calculated to minimize the danger of fatal accidents occurring during the game.

BASE BALL BRIEFS

One of the funny things about a base ball fan is that he will howl at a visiting pitcher for passing a hard hitter in a pinch, but will cheer a home pitcher for doing the same thing.

For the first time in several weeks Stallings will today present his regular line-up. Hat Chesney is fit for duty. He did not worked since Ed Sweeney recovered.

Jack Dunn is hot on the trail of Harry Kromm, the big right-hander who has pitched such splendid ball for the Maryland Athletic Club. Jack has had his eye on the big fellow for some time, but it is said that Harry objects to playing professional ball.

A deal is now pending between Manager Weiland of the York Tri-State League and the Philadelphia club of the big league. His team is not setting the circuit on fire, so the peppery catcher-manager is out on a still hunt for talent.

They build them strong on the west and south. Paddy Livingston, Athletic catcher, should make a fine catcher in white.

"UNCLE JOE" TALKS TO OLD SETTLERS

Recalls Pioneer Days at Iroquois County Meeting—Demagogues Are Denounced.

NEWPORT, R. I., August 18.—After signing a warrant authorizing his own arrest, Chief of Police James R. Crowley pleaded not guilty in the district court to a charge of "dangerous assault" on former Mayor Frederick P. Garretson and furnished bail of $100 for his appearance at a continued hearing August 22.

Mr. Garretson has been active in raising $10,000 for the entertainment of the officers and enlisted men of the Atlantic fleet in port. Yesterday he directed the attention of the chief of police to the fact that on one of the streets a gambling device, consisting of a revolving wheel of the roulette pattern, with an American flag bearing numbers and serving as a "lay out," was in operation.

"My children and your children have a common lot in the general prosperity of this country, or the lack of it, and we have not only to take care of ourselves, but of the demagogues, who have hampered the general progress with their false statements and false promises."

During his talk the speaker showed little evidence of fatigue, despite the intense heat, although he frequently held pieces of cracked ice to his head and held pieces of cracked ice to his head and held pieces of cracked ice to his head.

The demagogues would have you destroy the railroads," he said, "which are the backbone of our country. Mr. God send enough men into public life, honest, brave and courageous men, to stop this kind of thing."

"You might think, to hear certain parties talking of conservation and of the average traveler in our country, that we depopulate our cities and farms to restore the forests to their old-time glory."

"We must determine, with deliberation, the policies that are best for us and then adhere to them. I might make myself popular with the populists by advocating destruction, but I thank the Lord there are few populists in this district."

"But we have to go on taking care of ourselves, while for the next two years Kansas and Quincy railroad in eastern Pennsylvania, particularly in the case of President Eliot's 'five-foot shelf' of books from his parlor cars."

"President Eliot has so many years of useful life to look back upon that the ordinary person cannot look at him nostalgically," said Mr. Hill. "He moves in a much higher plane than most of mankind."

"Books that might appeal to President Eliot probably wouldn't cause the average traveler to shudder. His books require too much heavy thinking for a railroad journey. People these days are averse to heavy thinking."

"I know no more about the 'five-foot shelf' than what I have seen in the newspapers," declared the Burlington was justified in throwing it out."

ELIOT BOOKS TOO HEAVY FOR RAILROAD READERS

James J. Hill Says "Five-Foot Shelf" Is Out of Place in Parlor Cars.

CHICAGO, Ill., August 18.—That Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard University, "moves on a higher plane than most of mankind," and consequently is not the proper person to make a selection of books for the traveling public, is the opinion of James J. Hill, the railway magnate.

Mr. Hill, while in Chicago yesterday, had a few comments to make regarding the recent action of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad in ordering President Eliot's "five-foot shelf" of books from his parlor cars.

"President Eliot has so many years of useful life to look back upon that the ordinary person cannot look at him nostalgically," said Mr. Hill. "He moves in a much higher plane than most of mankind."

PERLAN BOYS COMING HERE

Three Youths of Noble Birth to Enter Public Schools.

NEW YORK, August 18.—Ancient Perla is awakening to the advantages of a western education. Three Perlan youths, two of them sons of Perla's minister, are expected to arrive here today to enter the public schools in Washington. They were accompanied by the Perlan charge d'affaires, Mirza Ali Kull Khan, who has lived here for several years and has become interested in the education of the Perlan boys.

The boys are fifteen, fourteen and ten years old. "All three," said the charge d'affaires, "are of noble birth, and are the first young noblemen of my country to seek an education in America. Mirza Ali Kull Khan, the eldest, has been an excellent student, a science practically unknown in Persia, and where the most primitive of education, arrived at by the Mohammedan, the next oldest, will take up the study of surgery, while the youngest, will make a specialty of political economy."

He had given such glowing descriptions of America, particularly its educational institutions, that the shah, his ministers and other public officials had become interested in the education of the Perlan youths who had been sent here.

WARM SERIES

Yankees and Giants to Clash in Battle for Gotham's Title.

NEW YORK, August 18.—It was stated yesterday that a post-season series of nine games between the Giants and Highlanders has been practically arranged and will be officially clinched by Presidents Farrell and Brush.

The players of both teams are unanimously in favor of the series and so are Managers McGraw and Stallings. The fans are anxious to have the question of supremacy put to a test and are also roosting for a pitching duel between Christy Mathewson and Russell Ford.

Those who are strongly in favor of vocating interest in New Yorkers that the world's championship and may draw greater crowds. The Highlanders and the Giants have never met on the diamond, although the rivalry between the local clubs is bitter.

This year the teams will meet nearly to about evenly matched, and there is an increasing demand for a series. President Farrell has already been ready to play and needs no urging to reach a definite agreement.

President Brush is believed to be in favor of the series and will probably be advised by the Secretary Knowles and Manager McGraw to come to terms.

The arrangement of the series will not be formally announced until it is known positively that the Giants have no chance to win the pennant.
