

BEAUTY OF BLOOM VARIETY IN COLOR

Rare Collection of Beautiful Flowers at the Masonic Temple, Brookland.

GROWERS OF THE PLANTS UNITE IN THE DISPLAY

Award of Medals and Other Prizes—Show Continues Today and This Evening.

Thousands of roses of every variety, color and scent are on exhibition today at the third annual rose show being held under the auspices of the Brookland Citizens' Association, the University Heights and Vicinity Citizens' Association, the Rhode Island Avenue Suburban Rose Society in the Masonic Temple, 12th and Monroe streets, Brookland. The show opened last night and continues today and this evening.

It was not only the rose cultivators who expressed admiration of the magnificent exhibition last night. Folk from Washington who perhaps never grew a rose of their own in their lives were loud in their praises of the dark red Baron de Bonatennis and the Baby Rambler and the White Killarneys and countless others. As for the citizens of Brookland, from Charles F. Tansill, who has 10,000 roses in his back yard, to the tiniest lad on the streets, they are all rose enthusiasts.

The tulip fanciers of old Holland were never half so much in love with their roses. Out in the suburban town today there isn't a man or woman who doesn't trade the great pink Caroline Testout rose, owned by Dr. William Turner, which won the gold medal for the best individual flower, for all the black tulips that ever were. Brookland is a riot of roses.

Sweet Brier Roses Shown.

One of the interesting exhibits are the hedge or Sweet Brier roses, exhibited by Dr. Turner. They were clipped from the hedge around his house, said to be the only successful hedge of the Lord Penzance sweet briers known in this country. They are from the nursery of the Vanderbilt estate, Baltimore, Ashville, N. C.

Many people prominent in the official and social life of Washington, visited the show last night, including the senator and Mrs. Ashhurst of New Mexico, the assistant secretary of the interior and Mrs. Jones, the Misses Burleson, daughters of the Postmaster General; Mrs. Carter, widow of former Senator Thomas H. Carter, and Mrs. Stonerod of Monterey, Cal.

Award of Medals.

Special mention should be made of the medal awards, which were awarded yesterday for the first time by the Brookland Rose Society. The gold medal for the best individual collective exhibit, considering quantity, quality and variety, was given to Charles F. Tansill; the second gold premium or silver medal, to Dr. William Turner, and the bronze medal to C. H. Etz. Dr. Turner also won the gold medal for the best individual rose, regardless of kind or color, with the beautiful Madame Caroline Testout. It seems that stickers grow on a rosesetter in proportion to the beauty of the blossom, for the Madam Caroline has the largest and stickiest collection of stickers of any rose in the show.

The awards were made before the exhibition was opened to the public last night at 6 o'clock by the following judges: Dr. Walter Van Fleet, George W. Hess, superintendent of the United States Botanic Garden, and Mrs. Edwin F. Sweet.

Additional Prizes.

In addition to the special medals already mentioned, the following awards were made:

CAMPS FOR STUDENTS NOT TO BE ABANDONED

War Department to Continue Military Instruction, Despite Mexican Crisis. There will be no suspension or abandonment of the elaborate plans of the War Department for holding the students' military instruction camps this summer because of the Mexican crisis. In fact, the Mexican trouble has served to emphasize the necessity for such preparation of the youth of the country, in the opinion of the general staff. Many letters are being received from heads of educational institutions and from individual students asking for information as to the department's plans for the summer. Answers are being returned that the four camps for student instruction will be held at Asheville, N. C., July 6 to August 7, inclusive; at Burlington, Vt., and Ludington, Mich., during the same period, and at Monterey, Cal., from June 25 to July 31. Army officers have been detailed to duty at the three latter camps as follows: Asheville—First Lieut. Joseph F. Ware, infantry; Clyde R. Abraham, 27th Infantry, and Joseph M. Cummins, 18th Infantry, and Second Lieut. Allen M. Burdett, 17th Infantry. Burlington—First Lieut. Henry T. Bull, cavalry; Robert T. Philney, infantry; Walton Goodwin, Jr., 5th Infantry; Andrew D. Chaffin, 20th Infantry; and Charles C. Herman, Jr., infantry. Ludington—First Lieut. Philip G. Wrightson, infantry; Edwin Gunner, infantry; Frederick B. Terrell, infantry, and Russell James, 3d Infantry.

LESS USE OF THE COURT BETTER FOR COMMUNITIES

Justice Riddell of Ontario Says Also That It Is an Evil.

CHICAGO, May 29.—"A court is an evil," said Justice William Renwick Riddell of the supreme court of Ontario, Canada, in an address before the Illinois Bar Association here yesterday. "The less the courts are called into play," continued the justice, "the better it is for the community. Courts were made for men, not men for courts. However, the court is the recognized means of settling disputes. Whenever arbitration is preferred to a court decision it is a disgrace, in most instances, to the courts. Arbitration for Last Resort. "International arbitration is also a thing to be avoided except as a last resort to prevent war," asserted Justice Riddell. He said that he hoped the Panama canal dispute between this country and England would never come to the stage of being arbitrated. "The American people are the guardians of their own honor and need no advice from me," he explained. "I merely wish to mention that I was speaking of the canal to a friend, a member of the United States Supreme Court. I hope that question will go to The Hague," he said. "I replied: 'I hope not.' And when he asked me my reason I told him that I hoped there would be no necessity, and that the nations could settle the matter without litigation. There is no settling what heart burning and discontent might arise over the subsequent decision. We in Canada still remember the Alaska boundary award." CONGRESS YESTERDAY. The report was made in response to a request by the House District committee that the District Commissioners express their views as to the desirability of the passage of an act providing for universal transfers on all street railway companies, heretofore companies and other passenger transportation lines doing business in the District of Columbia. The Commissioners turned the request over to the trustees, which takes the position that, in view of its power to regulate transportation service in the District, the legislation proposed is unnecessary. It passes to read the want columns of The Star. Hundreds of situations are filled through them.
