London Keeps German Street Names. Correspondence of the Associated Press. LONDON, March 24.—War feeling is not likely to obliterate German names from London streets, since the London county council has turned down a number of petitions on the ground that a sufficient case for an alteration had not been made out.

LABOR MEN TO BE ASKED TO BOYCOTT LOCAL BEER

Striking Brewery Workers Will Petition All Organizations in District to Join Them.

The striking brewery workers of this city unfolded enough of their plans today to show that by tomorrow night every labor organization in the District of Columbia will have been requested to join the strikers in boycotting Washington-brewed beer.

It is estimated that there are about 200 saloons in this city. The strikers were considerably pleased by this news and admitted that their campaign is directed entirely to forcing the brewers to terms by cutting into their business. "It is estimated that there are about 200 saloons in this city. The strikers were considerably pleased by this news and admitted that their campaign is directed entirely to forcing the brewers to terms by cutting into their business."

Must Buy of Landlord. "One saloon man who rents from a brewery has a clause in his contract which doubles his rent if he uses beer from any other source than the landlord. It is a saloon patronized by union men."

Didn't Work. From the Boston Transcript. "When my wife starts talking on an embarrassing subject, I always change it."

AMERICAN NOTE INQUIRY RATHER THAN PROTEST

Seeks Further Information Regarding Attitude of Great Britain Concerning Blockade.

LONDON, April 5, 1:38 p.m.—It may be stated on good authority that the American note is an inquiry rather than a protest. It seeks further information in regard to the attitude of Great Britain and makes clear under what conditions the United States will expect damages for interference with shipping.

Although entirely friendly in tone, the note definitely outlines the American conception of a legal blockade, departing from which, it is contended, would entitle neutral shippers to reimbursement for losses.

The American government's reply to Great Britain regarding the British order in council, which virtually established an embargo on commerce to and from Germany, will be given out at the State Department late today for simultaneous publication here and in London in tomorrow morning's papers.

SUFFRAGISTS STILL HOLD DEMOCRATS RESPONSIBLE

Congressional Union Has Not Abandoned Its Fight on Party. Says Miss Burns.

The Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage has not abandoned its policy of holding the party in power responsible for the failure of Congress at the recent session to adopt a resolution submitting the suffrage amendment.

Miss Lucy Burns, vice-chairman of the union, reiterated vigorously today the denial by Miss Alice Paul in New York yesterday of the statement that the union had abandoned its fight on the democratic party now in control in Congress.

Weighty Problems Face Convention at Albany Tomorrow.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 5.—Weighty problems face the constitutional convention which convenes here tomorrow at noon. Twenty-one years have elapsed since the last constitution was drawn. Since then the population of the state has almost doubled and in nearly every line of human endeavor many changes are required, and it is expected that the convention will be long drawn out, extending perhaps into the fall.

PRESIDENT TO CONTINUE HIS VACATION PROGRAM

Engagements for Present Week to Be Comparatively Few—May Attend Confederate Reunion.

The President's engagements for the present week are comparatively few. He will continue the program of making no special engagements during his study in the White House and the executive offices are not likely to be used during the week. The President's program is, in a measure, a partial vacation and has been pursued since about a week after Congress adjourned.

PEACE OVERTURES DENIED. Austro-Hungarian Embassy Calls London Report Invention.

The Austro-Hungarian embassy here has issued official denial, by instruction from Minister of Foreign Affairs Burian, of the published report that Austria-Hungary has made overtures to Russia for a separate peace. The text of the foreign minister's message is announced as follows: "London Morning Post published news, according to which Austria-Hungary pretendedly has opened negotiations with Russia in order to obtain a separate peace. The whole story in the Morning Post is an invention pure and simple. Austria-Hungary has made no offer for peace."

CHANGES IN CONSTITUTION. Secretary Redfield Sends Daily Newspaper Reports to President.

Daily reports of prosperity in the country, as gleaned from the newspapers sent to the Department of Commerce, are forwarded to President Wilson by Secretary Redfield. Reports so far sent to the President, it is declared, seem to have given the impression that prosperity in the country was on the increase. The reports, it is asserted, go to the White House without any comment from Secretary Redfield.
