

Housekeepers' Sale

The Palais Royal Basement Store August Sale of Housekeepers' Needs is looked forward to by a vast army of old friends and patrons. They need not be told that tomorrow's sales will be as great as ordinarily in a week, and that the prompt delivery of all purchases will be a physical impossibility. Please allow more than usual time for delivery, or if in urgent need request special delivery. Another fact to remember—while the quantities in most lots are vast, they are limited in some. Remember, too, the demand will be six times greater than if regular prices were asked. Let your first visit be to this Basement Store—4 seconds from street floor by 4 elevators. Read the list below carefully—your need is surely mentioned.

CHESELDINE. In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband, PHILIP T. CHESELDINE, who departed this life two years ago today, August 1, 1913. The death I cannot tell. At the loss of the one I love so well. And while he is in peaceful sleep. Friends may think he has been dead. But little do they know the sorrow. That lies within my heart, unshared. BY HIS SISTER, ALICE.

FAY. In sad but loving remembrance of my beloved brother, THOMAS FAY, who departed this life one year ago today, August 1, 1914. "Loved in life; in death remembered." BY HIS SISTER, ALICE.

FAY. In sad but loving remembrance of my beloved brother, THOMAS FAY, who departed this life one year ago today, August 1, 1914. "Loved in life; in death remembered." BY HIS DEVOTED SISTERS, KATHARINE AND LILLIAN.

FAY. In loving remembrance of my dear brother, THOMAS FAY, who departed this life one year ago today, August 1, 1914. One year has passed and still I miss you. Friends may think the grief has healed. But little do they know the sorrow. That lies within my heart, unshared. BY HIS SISTER, ALICE.

GOLWAY. In sad but loving remembrance of my daughter ETHEL, who died one year ago today, August 1, 1914. BY HER MOTHER.

GRADY. In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, JULIA GRADY, who departed this life one year ago today, August 1, 1914. Sweet is the memory that shall never fade. Anticipatory of the joy that is ahead. BY HER LOVING CHILDREN.

MEYER. Sacred to the memory of my beloved daughter and our sister, BERTHA T. MEYER, who departed this life one year ago today, August 1, 1914. Safe in God's tender care. BY THE FAMILY.

THOMAS. Sacred to the memory of our dear and devoted mother and grandmother, HARRIET THOMAS, who entered into eternal rest one year ago today, August 1, 1914. Oh, could we open wide the grave. And see her face once more. And bid her say "I love you" once. As in the days of yore. EDNA.

Dear is the grave where my mother is laid. Sweet is her memory that never shall fade. Howe'er may wither, howe'er may fade. Though others forget you, never will I. BY HER DAUGHTER, EDNA.

TWIFORD. In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, LORRAINE TWIFORD, who departed this life one year ago today, August 1, 1914. We miss your kind and loving hand. Your fond and earnest care. Our loving mother, whose memory we cherish. We miss you everywhere. BY HER LOVING HUSBAND AND CHILDREN.
