CONSCRIPTION OPPOSED BY BRITISH LABORERS

Trades Union Congress Unanimously Adopts Resolve Against Forced Army Service.

BRISTOL, England, September 7, 12:44 p.m.—A resolution against conscription was adopted unanimously, with great cheering, at today's session of the Trades Union Congress. The resolution was forwarded to Premier Asquith, Earl Kitchener, David Lloyd George and Lord Northcliffe. The congress also declared in favor of nationalization of the railroads, taking the position that the experience of the government in managing the roads during the war was sufficiently encouraging to justify this step.

Problems Raised by War.

The congress, which is expected to be one of the most important gatherings in British labor history, held its first session here yesterday. In his opening address James Andrew Seddon, the chairman of the congress, discussed the problems of the day, giving chief place to those arising from conscription. Such complex questions as the regulation of food products, the regulation of labor under war conditions and female labor would be discussed, test the nation to its foundation, and demanded immediate and unambiguous answers.

Foresees World-Wide Conflict.

"I feel confident," he added, "that I carry the gravest bulk of this congress with me when I say we offer our sorely stricken Belgian comrades our whole-hearted sympathy, and, if assurance be needed, our determination that their rights shall be restored to the people of Belgium before we agree to lay down the sword."

Summer is passing and the uppermost thought in the home-builder's mind will be: "Will my new house be comfortable this winter?"

This question has been settled for buyers of Moses houses. The hot-water heating apparatus is of the most efficient kind; the boiler has been placed adjacent to a window and to the coal bin. The bin is of brick and the boiler is of iron, so that the bin is so situated that coal can be put into it direct from the wagon, thus avoiding coal-carrying charges. A large brick fireplace in the front room is fitted to burn coal, wood or gas.

But the construction of the house itself, not always patent to the buyer, insures winter comfort, with a minimum of fuel cost. Our unique guarantees are back of every house we build and sell.

A ventilator, brick vegetable and fruit vault is a minor feature, making for additional winter comfort (as well as summer).
