

URGES COMPULSORY MILITARY SERVICE

Col. Griffiths' Resolution Side-tracked at Session of Association of Military Surgeons.

RUPERT BLUE IS MADE HEAD OF ORGANIZATION

Maj. Owen Urges More Hospital Units for U. S. Services, Citing Present Deficiency.

Compulsory military service for every American of military age was urged at the convention of the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States in session at the Army Medical School today.

Col. Jefferson R. Kean, Medical Corps, U. S. Army, president of the association, balked, for the time being, the attempts to get the resolution passed.

Col. Griffiths' resolution, proposed by Col. Jefferson Davis Griffiths, Medical Corps, National Guard of Missouri, was introduced following the paper of Maj. William O. Owen, Medical Corps, U. S. Army, who had told of the lack of military hospital units to cope with the wars of the future.

Officers Are Elected. The officers elected during the executive session were: President, Surgeon Gen. Rupert Blue, United States public health service; first vice president, Medical Director George A. Lung, United States Navy; second vice president, Col. Henry Allers, Medical Corps.

Likened to Wrecking Crew. Likening the military medical services to a wrecking crew, he pointed out that it was the duty of the surgeon in time of battle to go through the wreckage and pick out the slightly wounded and attend to them, so that they could return to the fighting.

Much Training Needed. Maj. Owen pointed out that much training was needed by medical officers to fit them for service in battle. No soldier, he said, would think of going into battle with untrained units.

Untrained Personnel Expensive. "To provide a unit that is so small that it cannot be properly trained in peace for its war functions is to provide at all for its war functions," he said, in conclusion.

Don't Bet Against Yourself. You are throwing away your best chance of getting results and losing money in the bargain when you do not advertise in the paper of largest circulation.

These underwater craft, according to the paper, "The unprecedented action of the underwater boat during the present war has filled the public with every variety of emotion from admiration to horror."

Every Man Must Be Fit. Every man must be physically able and well, he said. An illness which aboard a battleship would not incapacitate a man for work might affect the safety of the underwater craft and endanger the lives of all on board.

Dangers Within and Without. "The dangers from within and without menace the submarine crews continually," the paper said, "yet a more cheery, complaintless, courageous set of officers and men is hard to find."

Plans for strict enforcement of the law prohibiting use of glaring headlights on vehicles is planned by the police department.

Text of Regulation. The regulation in question is as follows: It shall be unlawful to use any acetylene or electric headlight or sidelight on the streets, avenues or public highways of the District of Columbia unless the rear reflectors are removed from the same, or the front glass or electric light bulb either ground or covered with muslin, paper or other material of sufficient density to prevent the light being dazzling or blinding to persons using the streets, or unless equipped with anti-dazzling device or devices which have been approved by the major and superintendent of police.
