TREATY WITH HAITI RATIFIED BY SENATE

Plans for Putting the Convention Into Effect Soon to Be Formulated.

TERMS ARE ACCEPTABLE TO THE HAITIAN CONGRESS

United States to Control Finances and Policing of Island—Guarantee of Integrity Given.

Plans for putting into effect the Haitian treaty providing for a financial protectorate over the republic by the United States, which was ratified by the unanimous vote of the Senate late yesterday.

The treaty was negotiated last year with the D'Arigueuane government, set up after marines and bluejackets under Rear Admiral Caperton had put down the revolution which overthrew President Vilbrun Guillaume.

During the preceding few years Haiti had seen eight presidents deposed and most of them murdered or exiled.

Principal Articles of Treaty. The principal articles of the convention provide for: American supervision of finances and the collection of customs.

American supervision of the payment of the public debt, inquiry into the validity of existing debts and regulation of the contracting of future debts.

Development of Haitian resources under American auspices. It is set forth particularly that the United States shall by its good offices aid the Haitian government in proper and efficient development of its agricultural, mineral and commercial resources.

When formal ratifications have been exchanged, the President of Haiti will appoint, upon nomination by the President of the United States, a general receiver and such employees as may be necessary.

Another provision is that Haiti shall not increase its public debt except by previous agreement with the United States and unless ordinary resources of the government are adequate to pay interest and provide a sinking fund for final discharge of such a debt.

Relating to Increase of Debt. Another provision is that Haiti shall not increase its public debt except by previous agreement with the United States and unless ordinary resources of the government are adequate to pay interest and provide a sinking fund for final discharge of such a debt.

ALLEGED RECRUITING PLOT LEADS TO THREE ARRESTS. Gen. Wisser of Hawaiian Department Investigating Unusual Number of Discharges Recently.

HONOLULU, February 23.—A report that Brig. Gen. John B. Wisser, commanding the Hawaiian Department, had a conference with the staff over the unusual number of soldiers who within the last three months have purchased their discharges, was the latest development today in the alleged recruiting plot in connection with which three men are under arrest here.

The three men now in custody are W. E. Seligson, alias W. R. Stein; C. D. Randall, alias Henderson, alias England, and a recently discharged sergeant of the 4th United States Cavalry, named Jefferson.

Documents seized by the federal authorities when the men were arrested disclosed the fact that 156 recruits for the British army had been obtained, of whom 154 had gone to the front.

P. O. APPROPRIATION BILL IS PASSED BY THE HOUSE Provides Space Basis Pay for Carrying Mails; Forbids Increased Weight Parcel Post Packages.

The post office appropriation bill, with its provision for substituting a space basis for the present weight system of paying railroads for carrying mail and prohibiting any increase in the existing limit of fifty pounds on parcel post packages, passed the House late yesterday after an exciting debate.

The fight against the space payment plan, long advocated by the Post Office Department and vigorously opposed by the railroads, was led by Representative Cannon of Illinois.

CRITICISING FEDERATION, WEST END CITIZENS BOLT

Association Withdraws From Central Organization After a Spirited Debate.

Severely criticizing the methods of the Federation of Citizens' Associations, the West End Citizens' Association last night withdrew from the federation following a spirited debate at the Powhatan Hotel.

Strong protests against withdrawing were made by George W. Evans, Ogile H. Singleton and Dr. William B. Hudson, but the vote on the question stood 56 for withdrawal, as against 13 to remain.

The resolution adopted for the withdrawal of the West End association stated: "That the present method of conducting the business of the Federation of Citizens' Associations, coming to the knowledge of the members of this association does not meet with our approval."

Following the reading of the resolution Secretary William R. Nagel, secretary of the association, read a statement prepared by H. Randall Webb, alternate for the association at the meeting, in which he stated that the statements made were merely suggestions.

They set forth, in part, that "whereas the federation was organized for the beautification of Washington, nothing of importance is done by it."

The federation is now controlled by a clique, and this in turn is controlled by the Anti-Saloon League, the statements continued. "Members of the federation who are not in this clique receive little courtesy."

Mr. Webb explained that the statements were "only insinuations" which he had received of the situation.

Alleged Chief Drawback. Morris Hahn, another speaker, urged that as he understood it "the main drawback is the president. In that case wouldn't it be to our own best interests to try to have him deposed and put in a man who would be fair to all organizations?" asked Mr. Hahn.

"This is a matter of principle," said Edward M. Dullin, "and it is a principle which we should stand on. I think we should withdraw until the federation has a competent man at its head."

That the matter of rate adjustment be left to the interstate commerce commission was defeated, 79 to 54.

Intervention by the United States if necessary to preserve order and for guaranteeing territorial integrity and independence.

Development of Haitian resources under American auspices. It is set forth particularly that the United States shall by its good offices aid the Haitian government in proper and efficient development of its agricultural, mineral and commercial resources.

When formal ratifications have been exchanged, the President of Haiti will appoint, upon nomination by the President of the United States, a general receiver and such employees as may be necessary.

regarded by the federation. We are the keystone of the federation. We had a talk with the president of the federation recently and he told me he was very grieved to think he had been considered discourteous to any one. I do not believe for one moment that the federation did not mean to be discourteous to the West End association. I do not believe for one moment that the federation intended to hurt anybody's feelings. Let us be above that attitude of "cutting off our nose to spite our face."

Mark F. Finley, president of the organization, urged that his association should not withdraw from the federation on his account. The newspapers, he said, had misquoted him in what he had said about receiving discourteous treatment. He did object, however, he said, to having members of the federation in the room call out that a speaker's time was up. "The matter of time is in the hands of the president," he said. "There was no personal discourtesy to me. It was the discourtesy to the side which I represented to which I objected."

Pleds Against Split. Dr. Hudson, in a brief talk urging the association not to withdraw, made the suggestion that steps might be taken whereby representation in the federation might be in proportion to membership of an association. He further urged that it would be a more manly thing to stay in the federation and fight out any difficulties rather than to withdraw.

Mr. Singleton urged that the association adopt resolutions censuring the methods of the federation in conducting its affairs, but that the association should not withdraw.

"I feel that I must apologize for speaking before this association just after having been elected to membership," said Mr. Singleton, "but the only apology which I can offer is that I am deeply interested in this matter. I feel that it is one of the greatest importance to us but we are also of value to the federation. I hope that all here will remember that point: that we are of value to the federation and therefore should not withdraw."

Hugh F. Harvey, an advocate of withdrawing, declared: "Any member of this association with red blood in his veins would have felt like withdrawing at the last meeting. There was enough coolness here, however, to have the matter held over for one month. I am for organization, but I think the time has arrived when we should withdraw out of respect for ourselves."

Resolutions urging the building of an armory for the National Guard at 13th and B streets northwest were adopted, following presentation by Mr. Evans. Resolutions also were adopted urging that the night schools be kept open until May 15 or later; the placing of a letter box at 22d street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest; the installation of glass windows in all summer cars so as to protect the motormen; the "fake advertising" bill and the bill providing for an increase in interest charges of pawnbrokers.

Resolutions regarding suffrage in the District, with a delegate in Congress, were laid on the table, while committees were advised to take up a number of resolutions brought up, including a campaign against rats and mice and the increase of pay for janitors in the public schools.

Dr. Elmer Sotheron, chairman of the committee on entertainment, announced that plans for the association's banquet, to be held at the Powhatan Hotel, March 6, were complete, and that invitations to attend had been accepted by Senator Pomerene, Chief Justice Covington, E. C. Brandenburg and P. T. Moran.

These new members were elected: F. Allmond, Alfred Cammack, Dr. N. Duvall Brecht, L. Folstein, Stephen J. Demas, Henry M. Smith, Dr. H. C. Duffy, Henry D. Schmidt, C. Jacobson, John T.
