

MERCHANT MARINE UP IN THE SENATE

Mr. Jones Advocates Discriminating Duties in Favor of American Vessels.

NOT A PARTY QUESTION, HE TELLS COLLEAGUES

Urges That All Thoughts of Politics Be Laid Aside in Consideration of Subject.

The first shot in the anticipated struggle in the Senate over a law to build up an American merchant marine was fired today by Senator Jones of Washington, who addressed the Senate in support of a bill which he has introduced establishing a system of discriminating duties which would give American vessels the advantage of carrying goods to the United States.

He insisted that the democrats in advocating government ownership and operation of merchant marine vessels were abandoning a principle often stated by their party, to the effect that the American merchant marine should be built up without additional burdens upon the people of the country.

Senator Jones said that the administration points of view on the subject of the new proposed to spend many millions of dollars, which must be taken from the people by taxation, for the purchase of merchant vessels.

"The building up of our merchant marine is not a party question," said Senator Jones. "There is no difference of opinion as to the importance of building up a merchant marine, and the great question is in the form or manner in which our differences are over it should be settled."

Wants Politics Laid Aside.

Senator Jones urged that all thought of party be laid aside in the consideration of this great question. He pointed out that democrats in the House had gone on record time and again in favor of adopting such a plan as suggested by him in his bill to aid in developing a merchant marine, and that many republicans also had favored it.

The main objection urged against the adoption of such a policy, he said, "has been that it would involve the abrogation of many treaties and invite the addition of new ones."

"These treaties will handicap us and our rivals. Other nations do not hesitate to use every possible commercial device or subterfuge to keep us off the seas or from securing the world's markets. It is patriotic wisdom to prepare for the contest by terminating these treaties."

Revised Figures Show Force Will Be Larger Than Was at First Thought.

Revised figures on the army reorganization bill as agreed upon by the House and Senate conference and submitted to the Senate today by Chairman Chamberlain show that the new army will be even larger than anticipated when agreement was reached.

Careful analysis shows the maximum number in the force will be 718,500 staff officers and men, including 25,000 staff troops, Philippine scouts and unassigned troops, and that the war strength will be 236,500 officers and combatant troops, which with staff troops, scouts, etc., added, will bring the total to 718,500 available.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"Little pimples appeared on my baby's head and they itched awfully and he would scratch them until they would bleed and finally they made sore eruptions as large as a silver dollar. The more I did for them, the larger and angrier they got. My baby cried and could not sleep."

ROMANCE OF SICK ROOM LEADS TO MATRIMONY

Silas D. Lewis, 75, Retired Member of Police Force, Weds Miss Mary Coughlin.

The tenderness and care shown him during an illness caused Silas D. Lewis, seventy-five years old, a retired member of the Metropolitan police department, to fall in love with Miss Mary Coughlin, thirty-five years old, yesterday afternoon at Rockville, Md., made her his wife.

The elopement of the couple to the Maryland "Green" became known today. Only one friend of the couple knew of the marriage yesterday, and that one accompanied them to witness the ceremony.

Mr. Lewis, who is a veteran of the civil war, was born in Virginia, February 6, 1841. He was appointed a member of the police force March 30, 1879, and October 1 last was retired on a pension. For a number of years prior to his retirement he was detailed at the harbor office. Mrs. Lewis also is a native of Virginia, but has resided in this city for a number of years. Mr. Lewis' first wife died nearly three years ago.

last night about 11:30 o'clock alarmed occupants of other apartments in the building and prompted a police investigation. It appears that Maj. Ely yesterday was called to service on the Mexican border, and Mrs. Ely, who was sick, was taken to a hospital.

A son of the couple was alone in the apartment last night when he stated, he saw an intruder and shot at him. He was unable to furnish the police a description of the man, not having gotten a good view of him.

Escape From Asylum Hospital. Emma Bryson and Edna Holmes, sixteen-year-old colored girls, last night escaped from Washington Asylum Hospital, where they were detained as prisoners under medical treatment.
