TWO MORE ENLIST FOR DUTY IN GUARD

Three Men Who Proffer Services Are Rejected by Recruiting Officers.

Two more enlistments for the National Guard of the District of Columbia were secured this morning, according to the recruiting headquarters at 412 L street northwest. The recruits were William E. McCarty and Charles H. Miller, who were assigned to Battery A. Field Artillery. Three rejections were reported.

Recruiting Station Closed.

Maj. Whitaker, assigned to take charge of a station established in the Washington Loan and Trust Company building, has been temporarily relieved from recruiting duty and the station temporarily closed. The three enlisted men who had been detailed there returned to Camp Ordway. There now are three National Guard recruiting stations in the city, at 419 8th street northwest, at 5th street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest and at 1915 L street northwest. The latter is a colored station. Maj. Thacker V. Walker, in charge of National Guard recruiting for Washington, stated that the 1st Separate Battalion has made the best showing in regard to numerical strength of any unit of the District militia. He said that this organization, which now is at Naco, Ariz., is nearer its maximum strength than any other military body, regular or militia, on the border. It needs but forty more men to bring it up to this strength. About ten men are ready to be sent down to the border. Five recruits were secured yesterday. They were: Earl McCarthy, who was sent to Troop A; Marcellus A. Fisher and William J. Connolly, who were sent to the 3d Infantry; Frank J. Lupac, who was sent to the field artillery, and John Farrow, who was assigned to the 1st Separate Battalion.

PLATE PRINTERS ON OUTING.

Ideal Weather Favors Annual Excursion to Chesapeake Beach.

Favored by excellent weather, the excursion being held to Chesapeake Beach today by the Plate Printers' Union, Local No. 2, promises to be one of the most successful ever given by the organization. While a large number of persons, including families and friends of the members of the union, went to the resort this morning, by far the larger portion of the crowd is expected to go on the afternoon train. The first part of the program has been reserved for this afternoon and evening. The committees having charge of the affair promise that there will not be a dull moment and that all who go will have one of the "times of their lives."

HUNDRED BOYS TAKE PART IN ATHLETIC FIELD MEET

New Grounds Adjacent to Old Central High School Building Opened This Morning.

Washington's new athletic field opened this morning at 9 o'clock, with nearly 100 boys and many onlookers in attendance. The playground department has succeeded in having the grounds adjoining the old Central High School, at 7th and O streets northwest, turned over to it, and this morning William A. Frey, jr., and Harold Keats were on hand at the opening hour to take charge of activities.

Soon after the grounds were opened a crowd of boys gathered to take part in the sports. This morning it was baseball, and it was not long before several games were in progress. No apparatus is to be installed, as it is the object of the playground department to show that a playground can be successfully operated without such equipment. Base ball, foot ball, basket ball and soccer ball are among the games planned for the older boys, and milder sports are in store for the smaller boys.

The section of the city in the vicinity of the playground is thickly populated, and it is expected that crowds of youngsters will have the field daily. Until the schools open the grounds are to be available every morning at 9 o'clock, and close at dark.
