

MR. WILSON WORKS ON OFFICIAL MAIL

Lack of Engagements Affords Chance to Catch Up With Correspondence.

TO DEFEND STEPS TAKEN TO AVERT RAIL STRIKE

Expected to Be Feature of Speech Scheduled for Saturday at Shadow Lawn.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., September 21.—President Wilson had no engagements here today, but worked during the morning on official correspondence and plans for his campaign. Secretary Tumulty went to New York for a brief stay. Mr. Wilson has considerably reduced the list of men under consideration for several commissions and boards he is to appoint. Arrangements have been made at Shadow Lawn for the accommodation of a large crowd Saturday, when the President will receive a delegation of business men from New Jersey. If the weather is good Mr. Wilson will speak on the lawn. He has begun the preparation of his address.

Predicts New York Victory.

Victory for the democratic ticket in New York state in the November elections was predicted by President Wilson, following the receipt of returns from the Tuesday primaries. The President indicated his belief that progressive voters in New York will support the democrats.

Taking his first active part in the campaign, Mr. Wilson sent telegrams of congratulation to William F. McCombs, the democratic nominee for the United States Senate, and to Judge Samuel Seabury, the nominee for governor. The message to Mr. McCombs follows:

His telegram to Judge Seabury follows:

Your nomination by the democrats of New York for the governorship of the state gratifies me very deeply, as it must gratify all friends of progressive government. I warmly congratulate you and predict a decisive victory in November.

To Defend Strike Policy.

Continued reference by Charles E. Hughes, the republican nominee, to the settlement by the President of his policy of maintaining the railroad strike, has led Mr. Wilson to determine to devote much of his attention to his forthcoming speeches to this subject.

He is expected to outline his position on this question Saturday, when he speaks to more than 200 business men who are expected to make a pilgrimage to Shadow Lawn. Officials said he plans to reiterate his belief that society has sanctioned the eight-hour day and to point to his program of legislation recommended to Congress as the best possible method of avoiding railroad strikes in the future.

President Wilson also plans to attack the republicans for bringing sectionalism into the campaign, it was said by officials. This attack will be based on the reference of republican speakers to the number of committee chairmanships in Congress held by southern senators and representatives.

The President played a round of golf with Mrs. Wilson late yesterday at Spring Lake, N. J. On his way to and from the club he was recognized by a number of vacationists who waved to him as he passed in his automobile.

PLANS FOR CO-OPERATION TO CURB TUBERCULOSIS

National Association Sets Aside Week in December for Inaugurating System of Education.

To arouse the people of the United States to co-operate in a systematic campaign for preparedness against tuberculosis, the week of December 3 to 19 have been set aside by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis for special work in the United States.

During this week an effort will be made to enlist the co-operation of every church, school, and public health organization, every lodge and each workmen's organization in the United States.

Three special feature days will be held during the week. December 6 will be national medical examination day. On that day an effort will be made to get everybody, men, women and children, whether sick or well, to be examined in order to find out if they have any defects or impairments of their bodies that need attention. It is not possible on December 6, appointments will be made then for later examinations.

Special Day for Children.

December 8 will be children's health crusade day. It is hoped at that time to launch a national organization of modern health crusaders, an association of the children of the United States in the public schools, for fighting against tuberculosis and for better health.

December 9 or 10 will be observed, according to the convenience of the churches, as tuberculosis day. A special sermon and a series of talking points for ministers and others have been prepared and will be ready for distribution in the near future.

Last year more than 150,000 organizations and institutions took part in the tuberculosis campaign. It is expected that this year this number will be greatly increased.

NO FURTHER SCHOOL DELAY.

New York Health Commissioner Assumes Responsibility for Opening.

NEW YORK, September 21.—The League of Parents' Associations, representing 16,000 public school pupils, appealed today to the mayor to prevent the closing of schools from opening the schools next Monday.

Members of the league assert that infantile paralysis has not yet subsided to a point where it would be safe to assemble the children of the schools. Several physicians joined with the parents in pleading for a postponement.

Health Commissioner Emerson replied that he would "bear full responsibility for anything that happened" because of the opening of the schools on September 25.

WOOLLEY ASSAILS RECORD OF HUGHES

Plays on Candidate's Name and Calls Him Apostle of Political Negation.

In advance of President Wilson's invasion of the middle west, where his managers announce, he will undertake to answer Judge Hughes' attack on the recent strike legislation, the democratic national committee, from its New York headquarters, has issued a pamphlet in which the republican candidate is referred to as "Charles E. Vasion Hughes" and which also contains a sample of the administration's defense of the Adamson eight-hour law.

The pamphlet is described in a special circular issued for the benefit of newspaper writers by R. W. Woolley, formerly director of the mint and now director of publicity for the democratic campaign. The major portion of the descriptive matter is given over to a personal attack upon Judge Hughes.

"Apostle of Political Negation."

For instance in describing the pamphlet Mr. Woolley says: "The writer matter deals with Charles E. Hughes, an apostle of political negation and a negative governor, and who stands before the public as a negative candidate."

The pamphlet does not mention Judge Hughes' first public appearance in the insurance investigation, but condemns him as a governor, saying that "no man today the anti-gambling law, the statute creating the upstate and New York city public service commissions and a series of negative acts."

These latter include the veto of the two-cent-a-mile-passenger-fare bill; veto of the full-crew bill; veto of the proposed law for equal pay to male and female teachers.

Under caption, "Is 100 per cent a candidate, and this same," the railway strike and the Adamson eight-hour law are treated. On these the pamphlet says: "Charles E. Hughes has qualified as the nation's leading expert in the art of how to prevent wars, strikes, etc., after they have been prevented."

Of President Wilson's success in avoiding war with Germany over the submarine issue, Hughes has said that some "other course—just what course not stated—would have served equally well. So, too, he now says, of the great railway strike.

Propheet After Event.

"In the face of the united testimony of the heads of the railway brotherhoods and the railway managers and presidents to the contrary, Charles E. Hughes has asserted that the strike would have been avoided had the Adamson eight-hour law not been passed. This is one of the numerous Hughes' propheeties after the event."

"Prior to the settlement of the railroad strike, Candidate Hughes said nothing of the controversy between the 400,000 railway trainmen and the railway managers of the United States. Though the chosen leader of a great political party, he neither said nor did anything to help prevent the catastrophe to the prosperity of the country which the strike would have caused."

"However, on September 4, two days after the Adamson eight-hour law had been enacted, and the danger of a strike had passed, Candidate Hughes assailed the method by which the catastrophe was averted. Repeatedly thereafter he continued this form of attack."

"Mr. Hughes wants the people of the United States to forget the dread in which they stood when they faced the fact that the most widespread labor war in the history of the world had been ordered to begin the morning of September 4."

"The maximum estimated cost to the United States of applying the eight-hour law is $60,000,000 a year. Why doesn't Hughes, in assailing the methods, come with the fact that a general railway strike would have cost the railroads and the people of the United States $60,000,000 a year?"

Asserts Mine Sank the Kelvinia.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., September 21.—That there is absolutely no foundation for the report that the British steamer Kelvinia was the victim of a German submarine was the statement made yesterday by F. C. Powell, conducting officer of the vessel, on his return to this city. Mr. Powell also denied that there was a panic on board following the explosion which heralded the destruction of the Kelvinia.

Mr. Powell stated that the unanimous opinion of the officers of the ship was that a mine was responsible for the loss of the steamer.

IMPROVEMENTS URGED IN SOUTH WASHINGTON

All Present Officers of Citizens' Association Elected for Another Term.

The entire board of officers was re-elected at the annual meeting of the South Washington Citizens' Association last evening at the Jefferson School building. They are Dr. Louis A. Johnson, president; William W. Riley, vice president; Thomas P. Brown, treasurer, and Helge Murray, secretary. Helge Murray, the secretary, tendered his resignation, but at the urgent request of the association he reconsidered, and will hold that office until some one else is elected.

The executive committee which was chosen to serve another year consists of R. Harrison Johnson, Dr. M. F. Thompson and William A. H. Church.

The reports of the treasurer and the committee on railroads also were read.

Program for Improvements.

Improvements in southwest to be asked of the Commissioners and approved at last night's meeting are:

That a special appropriation be made for the removal of the granite block roadway on 7th street southwest between B and Water streets, and the improvement of the thoroughfare by a suitable smooth paving material.

The abandonment of No. 6 engine house and the recommendation for an appropriation for a new site and the erection of a new house.

That the arc lights on 7th street southwest be replaced with a type of light and lamp post similar to those on Maryland avenue between 6th and 7th streets southwest on C street between 7th and 8th streets southwest.

Lights Wanted in Alleys.

The placing of lights in the two north and south alleys in the square between D and E and 6th and 7th streets; also lights on the north side of D street southwest between 6th and 6 1/2 streets.

That the remaining portion of the James Creek canal from N street to the river be filled.

The placing of additional policemen in the southwest.

The establishment of suitable playgrounds for the white children of the southwest.

The sweeping of the streets three times a week in certain sections of the city.

CLEAN STREETS OF CITIES THEY EXPECTED TO RULE

BERLIN, September 21, by wireless to Sayville.—"It is reported from Sofia," says the Overseas News Agency, "that the Russian army which entered eastern Rumania had with it a whole brigade of officials, who were to administer conquered Bulgarian cities. These officials were captured, and are now at work cleaning the streets of the same cities which they were to govern."

Dr. Adoniram B. Judson Dead.

NEW YORK, September 21.—Dr. Adoniram Brown Judson, recognized as an authority on orthopedic surgery and public health, has died here at the age of seventy-nine years. Dr. Judson was a graduate of Brown University and Harvard Medical School. He was president of the American Orthopedic Association in 1891.
