

ATTENDANCE AT OPENING GAME TODAY SURE TO BREAK RECORD

All Tickets Sold and President Lannin Is Forced to Buy Some Pasteboards From Speculators.

BY J. ED GRILLO. BOSTON, October 7.—A crowd of more than 45,000 is expected to be in the inclosure of Braves' Field here this afternoon to witness the first game of the 1916 world series. Last year the record crowd on the local grounds was 42,300, and this is certain to be exceeded. This is indicated by the enormous demand which has been made for reserved seats. Everything in the way of boxes and reserved seats was disposed of long before noon yesterday, and it is an absolute fact that President Joe Lannin bought some tickets at advanced prices from speculators who happened to get hold of a small quantity of them, for some intimate friends of his whom he had forgotten in the rush for seats.

Last season the arrangements for handling the crowd were very poor, and at various points nearly as many people as could have witnessed the games were in attendance. It is understood that the proper handling of the crowd will bring about the largest attendance in the history of the sport.

The umpires will be placed in this way in today's game: Tommy Connolly behind the plate, Bill Dineen at first base, while Dineen and Quigley will be in the outfield positions. Inasmuch as there are no ground rules in effect, it is expected that the umpires will be in the stands as usual. The umpires are commencing to arrive at the stadium at 10 o'clock, and are expected to be in the stadium at 11 o'clock for the start of the game.

"My team is in good shape and full of confidence," said Wilbert Robinson, this morning. "I will have no excuses to offer if we are defeated. I have not yet decided which one of my pitchers I will work, but it lies between Jack Coombs and Babe Marquard. Both are ready, in my judgment, and will be able to give our opponents a hard fight."

"I am not doing any boasting or making any predictions, but I am certain that my players will do their best in an effort to win."

Manager Carrigan refused to make any change in the announcement made in his press conference, but he admitted that he might warm up both of his left-handers and try to see just what sort of form they are in. Many of the local fans and critics believe Carrigan will pitch Ruth against most guard, but there are others who insist that he will work Leonard, because Carrigan has always pitched Detroit in a position in the opening game where he can direct the play himself.

The four umpires who are to work in this series—Herb Griffith, Tommy Connolly and Bill Quigley—will be arranged so that there will be an American League umpire in each of the four games, and a National League umpire calling the balls and strikes when the games are played in Brooklyn, beginning Tuesday.

The fact that the series is being started in Boston, and that the umpires are to be in the stadium at 10 o'clock, was a surprise to many of the fans. It was expected that the series would be started in New York, and that the umpires would be in the stadium at 11 o'clock.

According to Sam Johnson, there is a rumor in Boston that the umpires will be in the stadium at 10 o'clock, and that the series will be started in New York. Johnson said that he had heard this rumor from a reliable source, and that he was sure it was true.

Jack Barry, George Foster and Del Gainer to Sit on Bench, Carrigan Says.

BOSTON, October 7.—Bill Carrigan today announced that three of his players would not appear in the world series unless something untoward happens. They are Jack Barry, George Foster and Del Gainer. Barry and Foster were stars last season, Barry's fielding being one of the stellar features of the series, while Foster won two games from the Phillies.

It had been announced several days ago that Barry would not play, but last that the Boston captain would take his regular place at second base. "Jack will not start the series," said Carrigan today, "unless he is absolutely sure he can win. He is not in any of the games. Barry was a big hit to us until he was hurt, and we feel pretty bad about losing him. But young Hal Javrin has played ball in the west that amazed me. I always thought he was a great player, but he never showed me anything before like the game he played when I was in the west last trip through the west."

Hoblitzell to Stay at First. Foster is in no shape to work. He has not pitched a ball since the Red Sox played in St. Louis, their first stop on their tour of the States. He is expected to stay at first base, and will be in the lineup for the first game of the series.

"We will get along all right without Foster," said Carrigan. "You may remember that he was never in the lineup for the last game. We will get along all right without Foster, and we will get along all right without Foster."

South Should Have the Best Eleven in History of Game

Virginia Team Believed to Be Only One Likely to Fall Below Standard of Last Year—C. U. Backfield Strong.

BY H. C. BYRD. The foot ball team now in the process of development in the south are likely to be the best in the history of the game, speaking generally. Some one or two institutions are not going to have as powerful combinations as those which represented them in 1915, but the others give indications of attaining higher standards. It is not thought that Virginia will be able to develop as great a machine as that which were the Orange and Blue last season, but not one of the others should fall below the best of their previous outputs.

Because Georgetown lost several veteran linemen the opinion seems to have grown around that the university will not be represented by as good an eleven as that of last year. But the latter fact, the Blue and Gray should have just as capable a team as that which swept southern teams off their feet in 1915, played Princeton and Army desperately close games and beat the Navy. True it is that the line is somewhat weaker, but the backfield should be much stronger than last year's. Georgetown's eleven this year should not suffer by comparison with the eleven of 1915.

North Carolina University, North Carolina A. and M., the two big institutions of North Carolina, are banking on their line. Both started their seasons last week with victories over fairly good opposition from the south. North Carolina defeated Wake Forest and the last season, Clemson College, coached this season by Washington's team, was stronger than last year, and the same is true of the Virginia Military Institute. Washington and Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Washington and Virginia Polytechnic Institute, which had a great team a year ago, but now the head coach comes out with the statement that the team will be as good as the one of a year ago, if not better. The squad is one of great possibilities, especially the backfield. Two new men should develop into great players—Willie Williams and Munnell. Williams is heavy, fast, and has had considerable experience. Williams weighs close to 300 pounds and Munnell about 170. The former played with the Fordham crew eleven last year, and the latter with a high school in Pittsburgh. The backfield of other colleges is not quite as heavy as the others, is a brilliant ground gainer. Nevell, tackle at Bates College, is a player who is not quite as heavy as the others, is a brilliant ground gainer. Nevell, tackle at Bates College, is a player who is not quite as heavy as the others, is a brilliant ground gainer.

More than a hundred students of the Georgetown Law School left this morning for Washington to see the game. The students are expected to be in the stadium at 10 o'clock, and will be in the stadium at 10 o'clock.

Catholic University and the Maryland State College are playing at Brookland and College Park. The former has Richmond College as its opponent. The latter Dickinson, C. U. should win by a good margin, but the Marylanders will have a tough proposition on their hands.

BIG ELEVENS WILL PLAY

South and West Send Teams East to Tackle Leading Universities Today.

NEW YORK, October 7.—Several eleven from southern colleges and one from Ohio invaded the east today to give battle to the leading universities of this section. Some of the southern teams are considered the strongest in the country.

More than usual interest at this stage of the foot ball season is displayed in the Yale-Virginia game at New Haven, owing to the defeat which the northern administered to the Connecticut men last year. The Yale men regard their eleven as 50 per cent stronger than the one Virginia beat last year.

Princeton players look for a strong opposition from North Carolina at Princeton, particularly as the Princeton team is reported not in its best condition. The University of Pennsylvania has rather a weak eleven, but Franklin and Marshall eleven, but the experts prophesy the Army will catch a fairly big game in Washington and Lee. Ohio is pitted against Syracuse at Syracuse. Harvard and Tufts, which have not met for several years, play at Cambridge.
