Suits and Coats

Introducing the Paris Vogue of Bolivia and Velvet

We have just received a number of authentic Paris copies of Fur-trimmed Suits and Coats, embodying the very latest style ideas.

Nothing handsomer will be shown this season, and this is an unusual opportunity to secure an uncommon and exclusive model at a moderate price.

The originals are from Cheruit, Georgette, Lanvin, Drecoll, Doucet, Calot, Jenny and Worth—these faithful reproductions are about one-half the cost of the originals, but retain all of the clever and artistic ideas of these great producers.

Not many of them—don't delay.

EVENTS OF INTEREST IN AND OUT OF TOWN

Hospitalities Planning for the Secretary of War and Mrs. Baker.

Letter Returns From Cincinnati.

Dinner Dances at Chevy Chase Club Bring Midweek Gayety.

Some Late October Weddings.

Mrs. Newton Baker, wife of the Secretary of War, returned to Washington yesterday after a ten-day visit at her former home at Cleveland, Ohio. A number of the early season hospitalities, especially in the army circle, will be complimentary to the Secretary of War and Mrs. Baker, who did not come to Washington until the close of last season. Mrs. Baker and the children not arriving until the close of school.

Jonkheer and Mme. von Starkenborgh-Stachouwer have returned to Washington from Baltimore, where they spent the week end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore guests were Mr. Archibald Livingstone Parsons, U. S. N., and Mrs. Parsons, Commander and Mrs. James O. Richardson, Commander Wilson Brown, Lieutenant and Mrs. Bladell and Miss Ollie Hudson.

Mrs. George M. Davie of Louisville, Ky., and Mrs. Preston Davie of Tuxedo, N. Y., are spending several days at the Willard, having come to Washington to attend the wedding of the former's niece, Miss Margaret Draper, and Prince Andrea Boncompagni.

St. John's Church in Lafayette Square was the scene of a beautiful wedding last evening at 8 o'clock, when Miss Margaret Lillington Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pearson Parker, became the bride of Mr. John Hanson Boyden, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis Boyden, of Glendale, Prince Georges county, Md. Rev. Dr. Roland Cotton Smith, pastor of St. John's officiated, assisted by Rev. Peter Meriwether Boyden of New Market, Md. The church was elaborately decorated with white chrysanthemums and Easter lilies, banked with palms and ferns.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a handsome gown of ivory satin and a long point lace veil and carried a shower of lilies of the valley and white orchids. Miss Anne McRae Parker, sister of the bride, and Miss Natalie Talcott Hollerth, the maids of honor, wore gowns of gold charmeuse and tulle with touches of purple velvet on the bodices, and carried old-fashioned bouquets in white lace holders. The bride's other attendants, Miss Maude Nelson Parker, Miss Mary Hardin, Parker, Miss Margaret Douglas Boyden and Mrs. Daniel Thomas Hall of West River, Md., wore gowns of turquoise charmeuse and tulle with touches of vio-

Marburg, at their home in Mount Vernon place. Mr. and Mrs. Marburg are just back from Chester, Nova Scotia, where they spent the summer and early autumn. Jonkheer and Mme. von Starkenborgh, who are still at Edgewood, will take possession next week of Mrs. Bower's house in Connecticut avenue, which they have recently leased.

A pretty wedding took place last evening at 8 o'clock at Hamline M. E. Church, when Miss Mary Pearl Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Torrence Robinson, became the bride of Mr. Charles W. Friede, formerly of St. Louis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Friede of St. Louis. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Lucius C. Clark, pastor of the church. Yellow chrysanthemums, white cosmos and autumn leaves were used to decorate the church and the home of the bride's parents, in Euclid street, where a small reception for the bride and groom followed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a charming gown of bridal satin made with a long train from the waist and draped with point applique lace. Her long tulle veil, which reached to the hem of her train, was arranged in a cap effect edged with duchesse lace. She carried a shower of orchids and lilies of the valley, and wore the bridegroom's gift, a platinum pin set with pearls and aquamarines. Miss May Wagenaar, the maid of honor, wore a draped gown of yellow charmeuse, fashioned in a panther effect of layers of tulle and silver lace. Her flowers were yellow chrysanthemums held by a bow of silver tissue. Little Miss Beverly Bouke, the flower girl, wore white organdy, with aash of yellow tulle, and carried a basket of yellow roses.

Mr. E. E. McCoy was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Leonard Bowen, Mr. Walter N. White, Mr. William Waugh Adams and Mr. P. A. Brobaugh. A beautiful musical program was given preceding the ceremony by Miss Edith B. Athey, at the organ, assisted by Mr. Dore Walten, cellist, and Mr. William Kost, violinist.

Mrs. Robinson, the bride's mother, who assisted the young couple in receiving, wore a handsome gown of pearl-gray marquisette over gray satin, with cut steel trimmings.

Mr. and Mrs. Friede left later for their wedding trip, the bride wearing a traveling gown of black and blue tulle and a long coat of blue velvet, with hat to match trimmed with blue ostrich plumes.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Ontario place, the house being decorated with white and yellow chrysanthemums and palms.

Mrs. Parker, the bride's mother, and Mrs. Boyden, the bridegroom's mother, assisted in receiving, the former wearing a gown of orchid satin and the latter pearl gray charmeuse.

The bride and bridegroom left later in the evening for their wedding trip, the latter traveling in a smartly tailored suit of burgundy gabardine, trimmed in seal, and a small hat of the same shade.

They will make their home at Kalorama, Prince Georges county, Md.

Among the out-of-town guests were Rev. and Mrs. P. M. Boyden, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom; Mrs. Robert E. Jewett, aunt of the bride, of Winston-Salem, N. C.; Miss Boyden of Albemarle county, Md.; Mrs. Henry A. Drury of West River, Md.; Mrs. Arthur Owens of Baltimore, Miss Della Norfleet of Norfolk, Va., and Miss Adele Boyden of New Market, Md.

Miss Marion Kennedy of New York is a guest for a few days of former Senator and Mrs. Joseph Bailey.
