KEEPING UP WITH THE JONESES — A Trifle Was Right.

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS HEAR GYPSY SMITH, JR.

Largest Crowd of Present Series Attended Last Night's Meeting at the Tabernacle.

Evangelist Gypsy Smith, Jr., held his most enthusiastic meeting of the present series in the tabernacle last evening, when Secretary Lansing of the State Department and other high government officials were in attendance with the largest crowd which has yet gained admission to the building.

Crowded on the ground in front of the platform was the Boy Scouts Band of the District. It was under the direction of Executive J. W. Fatten of the Boy Scout organization.

Tabernacle Fund Complete. When the collection was taken it was found that it amounted to $205, and completed the five-thousand-dollar fund necessary to pay for the tabernacle, and hereafter no more collections will be taken in the big building with the exception of the offering at the closing services on Sunday afternoon and evening for the evangelist and his party.

When near the close of the meeting Gypsy Smith, Jr., made his appeal to those to come forward who wished to lead Christian lives the response was the largest of the series. The chapter of the evangelist and his party, announced this afternoon that ninety-six cards had been signed and turned in by those who came forward at the evangelist's invitation.

Text of His Sermon. Evangelist Smith took for his text at the service from Daniel, 5:27, "Thou art weighed in the balance and found wanting."

After a vivid description of the feast of Belshazzar at Babylon and the handwriting on the wall, he said: "You and I are weighed in God's balances. You may be heavy with sin, or your wife's eyes, but in God's scales you fall far short. You will find the heaviest sinners in the chapter of Exodus. Thou shalt not. If you are living for society, or dress, or applause, get it. But God help you when it goes. God can and will forgive any sin. I may do if I ask Him, but nature will not. If you sin everbody who loves and respects you will have to bear the shame, and you will not be able to get on in the world. Your children will have to read what you have done. The lust for gold is one of the damnable sins of the age. How people lie for it! Steal for it! And then they say their god and make God play second fiddle to it. If some of you passed away tonight, they could take your pocket cards, eyebrow pencils and power puffs and tell the story of your life."

Standard of Right Living. "Let's put these commandments in the scales and then jump in and see how much we weigh. If you won't take the commandments as the standard of right living you are not fit to live in the community."

"Step in the scales on the other side, but take with you the Son of God, and then you will find that you are not weighed."

At the service this evening at 7:30 o'clock Evangelist Smith will take his text from Acts, 27:24, "I hope that we should be saved was then taken away." This chapter refers to the shipwreck of St. Paul while on his way to Rome a prisoner.

George Washington and Commodore Barry. To the Editor of The Star: February 22, 1797, the last birthday that Washington spent in the executive chambers, he issued the first commission, marked No. 1, which made John Barry the senior officer (commander-in-chief) of all the naval forces of the United States (to take rank from the 14th day of June, 1794), and which Washington took occasion to hand in person to Commodore Barry. The frigate USS Constitution, the flagship, was the first ship that got into the water under the present organization of the navy.

The following are the names of our first line of battleships and which became renowned as the six fighting frigates: The United States, the Independence, the Constitution, the Constellation, the President, the Chesapeake and Congress.

In "The American State Papers on Naval Affairs, 1829," volume 1, appears a report of the building of the six frigates authorized by an act of Congress March 27, 1794. The building and equipment of these frigates was under the immediate supervision of a committee, consisting of John Barry, chairman, Richard Dale and Thomas Truxton. WILLIAM BARRY MEANY.

Elliott, retired police captain, who died at his home, 3121 11th street, Monday morning, were held at his late home at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. Rev. Walter Smith, pastor of Whitney Avenue Methodist Church, officiating. Interment was in Glenwood cemetery.

Vital Truths

The vital truths are old and gray; they're old because they're true; the vital truth we spring today old Father Noah knew. If any man comes up, forthsooth, and says that he can show a truly modern vital truth, oh, lay the faker low. A man might rustle up a lie that bears the signs of youth, but never, friend, will you descry a strictly recent truth. The vital truth is that which leads the sons of men aright, to useful lives and goodly deeds, and records clean and white. We know that industry will pay, that honesty is great; and truths like these, however gray, are never out of date. Old Adam knew them as he wrought among the first green trees, and he rehearsed them as he sought his missing swarm of bees. Oh, every blessed rule of life that's likely to exalt was old when Lot's devoted wife became a chunk of salt. The vital truths are but a few and easy to adopt; the truths which seem grotesquely new don't count and may be dropped. WALT MASON.

De Witt Lothair Burnside Believes Extra Hour Could Be Used for Military Training.

Much enthusiasm was shown during the evening, beginning when Speaker Champ Clark entered the banquet hall, when all present rose and greeted him with a Delt yell, until a late hour. The climax was reached at the end, when Carl H. Butman, president of the southern division of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, led the time-honored "walk-around," during which the corps of friends, 1214 F st. n.w., accompanied by Delt yells and songs.

The initiates, who for the first time were seated at the banquet table, members of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, were Clarence A. Smith, Joseph Schaaf, Tom L. Peyton, John E. Linder, Robert J. Lodge, Royal E. Foster and Clarence C. Lange.

RECRUITING IN MOVIES. Methods of Army to Get Men Shown in Hearst-Pathe News.

Efforts of recruiting officers, with a complete artillery squad equipped with the new army tractor, to stimulate the enlistment of men for the army are pictured in the latest Hearst-Pathe News, issued in collaboration with The Star and now ready for showing at the local theaters.

Pictures are shown, also, of the New York docks, where the big liners are held in their piers awaiting the government's decision as to their protection in the war zones of Europe. A life-like picture shows the late Maj. Gen. Frederick Funston, "fighting Fred," as he was known, and former commander of the Department of the South, whose sudden death was so recently chronicled.

Other views include the country's longest bridge, spanning the Columbia river at Portland, Ore., and the simple ceremony that marked its opening to traffic; little Edward Heiskell, a little over four years old, who drives the "Sunshine Special," as "the youngest locomotive engineer in the world"; the "S. Minnesota," at San Francisco, loading a big cargo of California wines for the east, and society's little folks at "alm beach," sporting themselves in springtime games, together with glimpses of the war countries and operations abroad.
