

WASHINGTON, D. C., APRIL 21, 1918.

Movie Stars Launch Third Liberty Loan

(Photos copyrighted by George S. Graves Co., Springfield, Mass.)

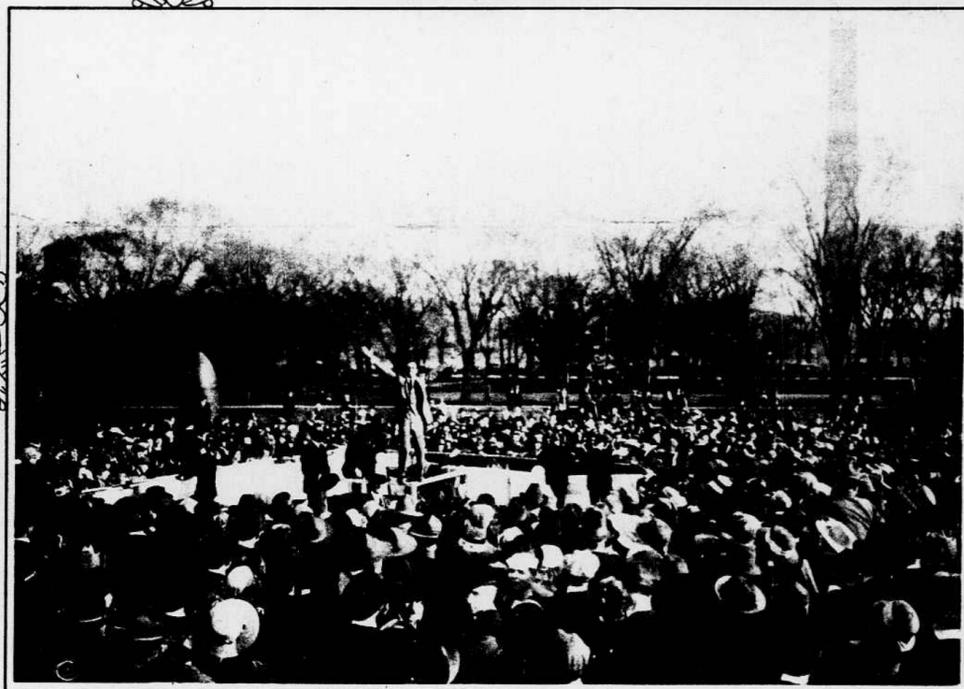

The four movie stars in box with Speaker Champ Clark at the ceremonies at the Capitol.

Left to right: Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin Roosevelt, Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford, John Poole, chairman of third liberty loan, D. C. Kneeling: Marie Dressler and Charlie Chaplin.
(Photo by Staff Photographer.)

The parade on Pennsylvania avenue. Mary Pickford in front carriage, Marie Dressler in the second and Douglas Fairbanks and Charlie Chaplin in the third.

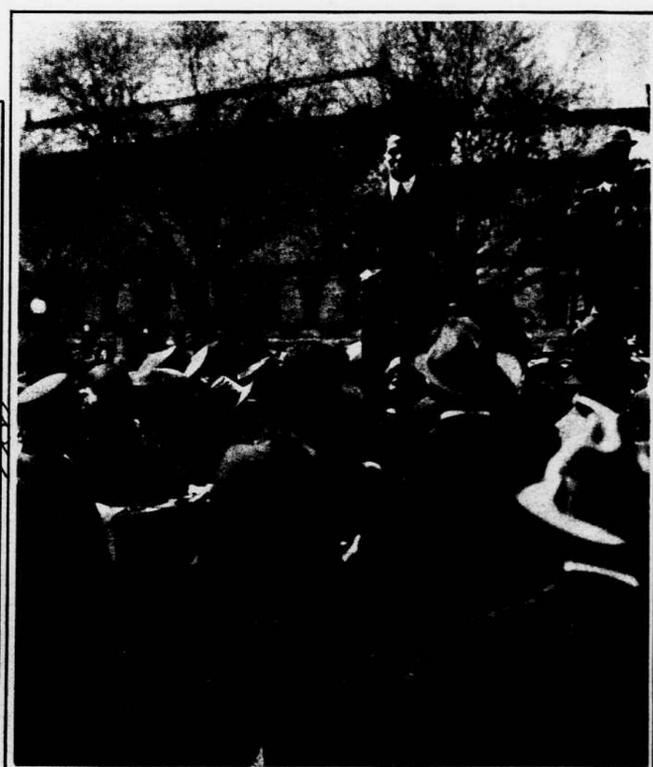

Doug selling bonds on the Monument Lot.

Doug has just "put one over," as the faces of his audience testify.

Mary appeals to the crowd to buy bonds—and not in vain.

Charlie cuts out the comedy and tells the crowd why they should buy liberty bonds.