REAPPEARANCE OF ANARCHIST
BULLETIN ONLY UNTOWARD
INCIDENT REPORTED.

GERMAN IS ARRESTED

All governmental agencies charged with enforcement of law were maintaining vigilant guard today to prevent anarchist and revolutionary outbreaks threatened for all important centers throughout the country.
In addition to the federal agents and operative state police, a special force went on duty early and will remain on guard during the day and night.
Officials today expressed the belief that any outbreak that may come will be nipped. In any event, it was decided no attempt is likely to be made by the foes of law and order until tonight.

Special Guards on Duty.
Special guards placed several days ago at the Capitol, White House, Treasury, State, War and Navy and other public buildings were maintained and reinforced, while special attention was given to patrolling and protecting homes of officials and prominent men in the residence districts. Guards and patrols in these sections are likely to remain on duty at least until after midnight.
Maj. Pullman, superintendent of police of the District of Columbia, and Inspector Grant, chief of detectives, said this morning that every possible precaution had been made to prevent any emergency that might arise, and that everything in the power of the police department had been done to safeguard life and property in the District.

Protect Public Buildings.
Assisted by special agents of the Department of Justice, the secret service division of the Treasury Department, officers of the military intelligence bureau of the War Department, members of the Home Defense League, Boy Scouts and others, police officers were assigned to guard public buildings, embassies and other places are fairly well guarded.
Capt. H. Taylor Snyder, acting military intelligence bureau, conferred with police officials yesterday afternoon. He tendered the use of all the available force, and Maj. Charles Tucker of the secret service and representatives of the bureau of investigations, Department of Justice, gave similar assurances. In the absence from the city of W. J. Flynn, chief of the bureau of investigations, Department of Justice, Inspector L. A. O'Dea is in charge. He conferred with police officials and was at his office early today to direct the movements of his operatives.

Keep All Police Here.
In order that he might have as many policemen on duty about the city today as possible, Maj. Pullman several days ago directed that no leaves or absence be granted to any police officer today. Practically every member of the detective force responded to roll call this morning, and Inspector Grant assigned them to duty at the more important points about the city.
Maj. Pullman and Inspector O'Dea this morning were well satisfied they had the "red" situation well in hand. They say they are taking nothing for granted, but are prepared to meet any emergency that may arise. All the investigative branches of the federal and District governments have been keeping tabs on suspected persons, some of them known sympathizers with anarchists and other classes of persons who are being closely watched, and arrests may be made at any time.

Red Surprises Hinted At.
While most of the efforts of several investigating forces are being directed to the larger cities, members of the local police force believe some of the "reds" may plan explosions in smaller towns where business centers are in operation and where many wealthy persons reside.
It is believed that the authorities know of the identity of practically every radical in this city, and hint at surprises in case it becomes necessary to make arrests.

German Is Arrested.
An investigation of the report of a stranger appearing at the residence of Robert Hinckley, 1424 14th street, yesterday morning and asking the location of the residence of Attorney Robert Palmer, resulted in the arrest of a German and not a negro.
Leaving the Hinckley residence, apparently very much agitated, a stranger appeared at the White House late in the day and asked to be sworn in as President pro tem. He was arrested and taken to police headquarters, where he registered as Harry Anton Hickey, thirty-nine years old, a native of Germany and resident of Curwensville, Pa., where his sister resides.
"I am in possession of state secrets," he said, "and want to give them to the police, but cannot do so until I'm sworn in."
Hickey was taken to Washington Asylum Hospital for observation as to his mental condition.

Soviet Bulletin Reappears.
Up to noon today the only evidence of anarchist activity anywhere in the country was the re-issuing of the Anarchist Soviet Bulletin, which emerged from the hands of a man with a demand that "soldiers and workers" open the jails, deliver all prisoners and free the workers.
After this shall have been done, the "soldiers and workers," all industrial and manufacturing plants, etc., are to be run over by the workers, who, according to the single-sheet screed, are to operate them as the workers see fit.

Had Washington Postmark.
The issue of the anarchistic publication, No. 4, volume 1, July, was mailed from Washington, D. C., at New York, and bearing a two-cent stamp. The last issue received in this city was the one published at New York, and bearing a two-cent stamp.
The sheet, which bears no other marks of identification, not even the name of the publisher, was found in the possession of a man in the city of New York, who was arrested on the charge of being a denunciate of the hardships in the peace terms "that enslave the people" and "that are the most barbaric," and a repetition of the familiar old howl of the pro-Germans that the United States only entered the war because munitions makers could no longer ship their goods to the allies by reason of the success of German "boats in destroying commerce."

Peace Treaty Denounced.
On the reverse side of the single sheet, captioned "Time for Action," it is stated that "the allies and the United States have thrown off their masks and show their true face and hypocrisy by giving out their shameful peace to Germany."

Justice White May Sit for America at Kaiser's Trial.

LONDON, July 3.—The note to Holland requesting the extradition of the former German emperor, is understood, will be signed by twenty-two or twenty-three of the powers.

AMSTERDAM, Holland, June 30.—The Kaiser is still living in the old castle of Amerongen and never shows himself outside the big garden. I learn from a reliable source that Baron Bentinck, the Kaiser's host, is arranging for small, intimate suppers weekly for those which the Kaiser formerly gave in Berlin. Various well known Dutch scholars have already been invited.
The ex-Kaiser always wears the uniform of a German general. He never speaks of events in Germany, but shows himself much interested in conversation on historical subjects.
