

CITY CLUB JUBILEE IS BEING PLANNED

Entertainment to Celebrate 1,500-Mark in Membership Is Contemplated.

A jubilee entertainment to celebrate the reaching of the 1,500-mark in the enrollment of members in the recently organized City Club probably will be held in the near future, according to J. A. Whitfield, president of the club.

A committee on general activities will be appointed within the next week or two and its first work will be to prepare plans for the celebration. The nature of the entertainment has not yet been decided upon. All of the members of the club will be invited to attend. This committee also will outline a program of entertainments and social activities for the summer season.

Luncheon Tomorrow Afternoon.

The jubilee entertainment will be in addition to the jubilee luncheon of the twenty-odd membership teams, to be held tomorrow afternoon at the Commercial Club. This luncheon will be the final gathering of the teams, and it is expected that the captains will announce sufficient applications to enable the club to pass the 1,500 mark.

Tomorrow morning will be the last opportunity of persons to become active members. After that time persons who file applications will be required to wait on the reserve list until vacancies in the regular membership occur. This procedure will occur only in case of death or resignation.

Clergymen Indorse Club.

Last-minute applications are pouring into headquarters at the Commercial Club. It is expected that many of these last-minute applicants will be clergymen, attracted to the club by the special reduced rates offered to them. Several clergymen already have joined, and many others have expressed interest in the movement. They have indorsed the program and have manifested a desire to join.

Among one of the most recent applicants for membership is Senator Nathan B. Scott of West Virginia. Senator Scott believes the club will be instrumental in awakening civic consciousness in Washington, in affording a public forum, where matters of municipal moment may be discussed, and in bringing about greater harmony between Congress and the people of the District.

Government Officials Join.

Club officials are particularly gratified at the large number of government officials who are joining. They believe that this trend augurs well for the promoting of greater harmony, the elimination of misunderstandings and differences, and the awakening of a more genuine interest in the welfare and development of the capital.

GASOLINE DANGER SHOWN.

Loss of Life and Property in Carrying Exceeds Explosive Record.

The railroad administration bureau for the safe transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles has sent to shippers of gasoline and owners, lessees and builders of tank cars a circular calling attention to the fact that loss and damage to life and property due to transportation of gasoline during 1918 caused many times as much loss and damage as transportation of the large volume of explosives required to meet war conditions.

In the eight-year period from 1910 to 1917, inclusive, 75 people were killed, 697 were injured and a property loss of $1,625,000 resulted from the transportation of gasoline on railroads, while during the same period only 2 persons were killed, 30 injured and property loss of $147,000 resulted from transportation of explosives on railroads.

In 1918, under war conditions, 16 deaths, 46 injuries and a property loss of $531,000 resulted from transportation of gasoline on railroads, while for the same year there was 1 death, 4 injuries and property loss of $22,000 resulting from transportation of explosives alone.

West Point Examinations Here.

To establish a list of eligibles to take the West Point examination next February the Commissioners have directed that a competitive examination be held in October. Two vacancies will occur in the District's representation at West Point in June. Applications of those who would take the competitive mental and physical tests this fall may be filed now at the District building.

DETAIL TO UNFOLD ORDNANCE SECRETS

Army Men to Exhibit and Explain War Pieces at National Rifle Range.

BIG TOURNAY IN AUGUST

CALDWELL, N. J., July 15.—Four officers and thirty-six men of the United States Army familiar with the construction and operation of machine guns, rifles and long-range field pieces have been detailed here to explain to the American public for the first time since the beginning of the war what have been regarded heretofore as highly important ordnance secrets.

The detachment will be in charge of an exhibition of rifles, 3-inch mortars, Chauchat machine guns, hand grenades and 37-millimeter field pieces, to be held in connection with the national rifle matches which are to be contested on the United States rifle range here during August.

It will be the purpose of the forty experts to lay bare the most minute working details of the weapons, large and small, that played such an important part in defeating the central powers. They will illustrate, in a specially constructed building, by means of lectures and objects, how the United States went about the task of building up her ordnance department after it entered the war.

Ranges More Accessible.

Lieut. Col. William C. Harlee of the United States Marine Corps, executive officer of the 1919 national matches, who is now here, said that heretofore the rifle contests, which have been participated in by several thousand gunners, have been held on ranges that have been more or less inaccessible to the general public, but that this year they would be only twenty miles from New York and within easy reach of 10,000,000 persons.

Another interesting feature of the matches will be the air meet in which not less than six Army and Navy flyers, and including, possibly, Lieut. Ormer Lockyear, the midair acrobat, will participate by authority of Maj. Gen. Charles T. Menoher, director of the United States air service. Two two-seated and four one-seated airplanes will be provided by the federal authorities.

The air meet will include both ground work and flights. In the first classification there will be exhibitions of ammunition, aerial armaments, synchronizing gears and the most recent telescopic sights.

Methods employed in bore sighting, the location of fires and other purposes will be another feature. The flying personnel, in addition perhaps to Lieut. Lockyear, will include several other "aces" of the American expeditionary forces, all of whom, it is expected, will give demonstrations of the accuracy obtained in aerial machine gunfire during hostilities. Parachutes and captive balloons will serve as targets and are now being made to incorporate the air shooting into the list of events scheduled by the National Rifle Association.

While the primary purpose of the air service participation is not to have the flying personnel enter the rifle matches as individuals or in teams, the men selected for duty, it is said, will be chosen with a view to their qualifications as marksmen, Gen. Menoher having expressed himself, it is said, as being desirous that they participate in actual firing.

POLICE COURTS OPEN EARLY.

Commencing today both branches of the Police Court convened at 9:30 o'clock. This new order of commencing the work of the courts will in all probability remain a fixed rule. Heretofore the hour scheduled for the opening of these courts has been 10 o'clock, but as a general rule there has been more or less delay, for one cause or another, delaying the opening of the daily sessions until 10:30 o'clock or even later. The new rule will greatly facilitate the dispatch of business, enable attorneys having cases in the courts to dispose of them, release police officers called as witnesses and give to the clerk and his force of assistants ample time to clean up their work and get away at a reasonable hour.

THRIFT RALLY POSTPONED.

Shipyards Employes Have Lined Up in Campaign.

On account of the weather, the big thrift rally scheduled to be held yesterday at the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation's yards in Alexandria, under the auspices of the local war savings organization, has been postponed until tomorrow.

Several hundred employes of the shipyard have lined up in the national thrift campaign, which is being conducted by the Treasury Department in connection with the sale of war savings stamps. It is the object of the local war savings organization to band these shipworkers together in a war savings society.

At the rally tomorrow addresses will be made by Mrs. Charlotte B. Eldridge, head of the local woman's division; Arthur H. Dadmun, field director of the fifth federal reserve district, and William Mather Lewis, vice director of the savings division of the Treasury Department.

Concerning Your Daughter

It is your obligation to teach her in a practical way the real value of the dollar.

Let her know its purchasing power. Let her know how much must be given in services to earn a dollar.

Probably you already have started her on an allowance—so much a month—out of which she purchases her clothes and cares for other expenses.

Let us suggest having a bank account. Deposit the allowance to her credit every month and let her pay by check as she goes along. She will know exactly how she stands all the time, and what is more, will be encouraged to save something each month.

We would like to explain this to her. Bring her in any day to see one of the officers.
