CITIZENS DISCUSS SCHOOL BOND ISSUE

Piney Branch Association Opposes 8-Cent Car Fares. New Committee Named.

A resolution advocating the issuance of bonds, principal and interest to be paid on a 50-50 basis, to meet the proposed school program of the District was referred to its committee on taxation by the Piney Branch Citizens' Association at its meeting, in the Iowa Avenue Methodist Church, last night.

This action was taken after considerable discussion by Clinton R. Thompson, who presented the resolution; John W. Keener, G. Y. Shorey, T. A. Bradford and R. L. Hackenberger, some of whom favored such appropriation and others increased taxation. The committee was instructed to report at the next meeting of the organization.

Mr. Thompson announced also that plans for the addition to the West School would be in readiness by January 1, when bids would be entered and contracts let. Suggestions presented by him pertaining to additions to various schools in the area of the organization were adopted and voted sent to the board of education. The removal of the Tuberculosis Hospital from its present site and the erection of a high school on the grounds was discussed at length.

New Treasurer Elected. Edgar B. Henderson presided, and announced that owing to the serious illness of Dr. E. Clarence Rice, treasurer, a successor to fill the office was in order, and Robert Otterback was unanimously elected.

Mr. Henderson read a draft for an act to eliminate the great red plague, prepared by Dr. Rice, and it was referred to the committee on legislation. He further announced that the association would join other citizens' associations in a vigorous fight against the proposed eight-cent straight carfare, which will be brought on by the new streetcar system of the Citizens' Association tonight.

At the request of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company the association's attention was called to the new telephone book just issued by the company.

Urges Post Office Patronage. The opening of a branch post office on 14th street, east side of the car barns was called to the attention of the membership, it being stressed that the continuation of said branch depended entirely upon its use.

T. A. Bradford reported that the safety signs had been placed in front of the West School and that a sign was suggested that the slogan, "care and cooperation" be added to that of safety first in the non-accident campaign.

A letter from Post Office inviting the association to visit the post office and witness the workings of that department was read, as was communication from the Takoma Park Citizens' Association in reference to the division of the Home and the Home.

The patronage of the membership was suggested for the series of concerts now being held by the National Opera Company.

To Entertain D. C. Heads. After President Henderson announced that a special meeting would be arranged in January for the District Commissioners, J. F. V. Ramage of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company delivered an interesting illustrated lecture on "The Telephone."

The appointment of the following chairman of committees was announced last night: J. Walker Thompson, entertainment; S. T. Cameron, law and legislation; B. L. Hackenberger, fire and police protection; E. L. Brill, social facilities; G. L. Shorey, membership; J. C. McDowell, parks and gardens; Dr. E. Clarence Rice, public health and comfort; I. C. Franklin, public service corporations; Clinton R. Thompson, schools and schoolhouses; J. H. Chamberlain, taxicabs; T. A. Bradford, streets, sidewalks and lights; and W. M. Campbell, surfrage in the District of Columbia.

SOCIETY GIVES CONCERT.

The program of the Symphony Society of New York at the Central High School Auditorium last night was made up of tried and approved favorites. Perhaps that is one reason why it could not fail to please. The horn of Oberon called to fairyland, Mendelssohn's Italian Symphony danced in sprightly Santerello and intoned in solemn pilgrim chant, the honeyed Andante Cantabile from Tchaikowsky's string quartet was requisitioned for the strings of the orchestra and balanced by the healthy and humorous little Polonaise of Beethoven, while Bizet's always delightful suite from L'Arlesienne closed the evening's entertainment.

The Italian Symphony might paradoxically be classed as a novelty to present-day concert-goers, like certain classics of literature which none of us have read, although it is common courtesy to assume that we know them well. We doubt whether it has been heard in Washington since Emil Casler led the Boston Symphony Orchestra through it twenty-four years ago. It is an excellent test for the strings, and still more so for the reeds and horns.

These concerts of the Fine Arts Society series are distinguished in two ways from all others offered to the Washington public: They take place at night when no one is hurried coming or going, and the important compositions are introduced by Mr. Damrosch's skillful and pleasing analyses.

Eel Holds Up Ship As Hurry Call Is Sent for Doctors

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., December 14.—The good ship Alice Howard swallowed an eel yesterday and ferry service between Kittery, Me., and this city was stopped until her throat could be cleared. All the marine doctors of the port were called into consultation before the eel was removed. There it was found the eel was 18 inches long. Fires were drawn and search of the feed tank made, with the result that a large eel was found coiled there.

SCHOOL SANITATION IN N. E. CRITICISED

Citizens' Association Hears Report Made by Dr. Starr Parsons.

A report dealing with the question of the condition of school buildings in the northeast section was submitted by Dr. Starr Parsons, chairman of the committee on education of Northeast Washington Citizens' Association, at a meeting of the association held last night in the guild hall at the Church of the Good Shepherd.

It was not set out in the report that the buildings involved were all in an insanitary condition, but the report made it plain to most of them are far from being properly equipped for the care of the several thousand children attending sessions in them.

Lack of toilet facilities was the chief cause for complaint, Dr. Parsons stated. In very few of them, the report pointed out, is there adequate lighting facilities, while small children are required to use chairs intended for the older pupils.

The report also called attention to the lack of air space and playgrounds. President Ewan H. Tucker said people in towns of 5,000 inhabitants would be ashamed to have their children attend school in such situated buildings. One of the buildings, he declared, was found to be filthy.

Hoscoe Jenkins said he thought parents fall to take proper interest in the question of the condition of school buildings and advise them to visit the buildings where their children attend school.

Schools mentioned in the report were the Madison, 10th and G streets; Pierce, 14th and G streets; Kenilworth, 10th and G streets; Blair, I between 5th and 7th streets; Webb, 15th and Rosedale streets; Ludlow, 6th and G streets; Hayes, 6th and K streets; Taylor, 7th and G streets; Beanning, Anacostia avenue, and the Blow, 19th street and Benning road.

Will Get Copies of Report. Copies of the report will be transmitted to Congress and District officials.

Dr. Parsons also submitted a resolution dealing with the question of picketing the Franklin School by the Parents League. He said something should be done to put a stop to the picketing, and his resolution called for the appointment of a committee of investigation to make a careful investigation of the cause of the picketing and report the result to Congress.

President Tucker, as chairman of the committee on legislation, said the committee are opposed to a bond issue or the borrowing of money to enable the District to pay its share of the expense of conducting its affairs. This is in the Treasury at this time between four and five million dollars to the credit of the District, he said, and he thought this money should be used.

Complaint was made of inadequate dumping facilities in the northeast section.

Edwin N. Parker presented a resolution urging the presidents of the street railway lines to provide cheaper car fare for school children, suggesting six tickets for 25 cents.

BAN JUNIOR HIGH DANCE FOR FUNDS

Students Too Young for Such an Affair, It Is Protested.

The question of allowing students at the Junior High School to give a dance to raise funds for the activities of its cadet company led to a protracted discussion by members of the Parent-Teacher Association of the institution at a meeting last night in old Central High School. A protest was registered by some of the members of that school, who are younger than those in senior institutions, were not of sufficient age to engage a function of this type. Others held that if the children were taught to dance properly they would register no opposition.

Debate on this subject brought no results, and finally Miss Alice Deal, principal of the Junior High School, introduced a resolution leaving the solution of the question entirely in the hands of a committee to be appointed by Frank J. Sobotta, president of the association. The committee was appointed, and it retired to a private room. After a thorough discussion the committee returned the verdict that a dance should not be given, but the necessary funds would be raised by an entertainment of the form of which the committee would determine later.

The dance question was proposed by A. J. Baumgarten, a senior student at Tech High School and captain of the Junior High School's cadet company. He told the association that approximately $100 was needed to defray the expenses of the company's festivities and medal awards at the close of the school year. He pointed out that it was customary in the senior institutions to give a dance to raise the funds.

Four standing committees were appointed for the ensuing year by President Sobotta. They are: Equipment and finance, A. C. Radtke, Henry M. Camp and William G. Hunt; membership, Mrs. W. M. Campbell, Mrs. Ruth Campbell, Mrs. J. H. Bean, Mrs. Edna White, Mrs. Henry Auth and Mrs. W. M. Ferguson; entertainment, ment, Mrs. T. A. Bradford, Mrs. Peters, Mrs. H. Klings, Mrs. E. C. Fritchard, Mrs. Emma Dean and Mrs. C. Kanta. Miss Deal reported that the lunch room in the school would be opened about January 1. Most of the equipment, she said, had been purchased. The association amended its constitution, changing the date of its meetings from the second Monday of each month to the second Thursday of each month.
