

TITTONI HAS FAITH IN DISARM

Italian Senator Tells Institute Change in Present League Offers Best Hope.

By the Associated Press.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., August 6.—Reiterating with specific application to the disarmament conference called by President Harding a previous declaration that it would be "a great crime against humanity not to cooperate sincerely with these initiatives which may lead to a reduction in the armaments of the great powers," Tommaso Tittoni, president of the Italian senate, delivered here today his second lecture before the Institute of Politics. He expressed the belief that the results of the conference will be beneficial, provided, however, "all the participants give proof both in word and deed of that sincerity of purpose which seemed sometimes to be wanting at the conference held in Paris for the conclusion of peace."

Although disclaiming any intention to meddle in American international affairs, and, therefore, refusing to discuss all the American proposals on the league of nations, Senator Tittoni expressed it as his firm conviction that world liberty and justice can be more easily achieved by "the transformation of the present league of nations on the basis of the principles enunciated by Italy than by the creation of a new league on the abandoned ruins of the old."

Would Include All Nations.

Senator Tittoni, referring to the league of nations, said:

"Amongst you as amongst all Americans there are certainly those who favor and those against the league of nations as it is constituted today. Well, I am convinced that whether favorable or otherwise you must all be in agreement in affirming that if a league of nations must exist, it cannot be based on principles and foundations other than those which I have put forward in the name of Italy."

In consequence of these principles, I believe that the existing league of nations should be so changed as to include all the nations of the earth and to gain the solid support of the public opinion of the world. Further, it is my firm belief that this end can be more easily and effectively accomplished by the transformation of the present league on the basis of the principles that have been enunciated than by the erection of a new league on the abandoned ruins of the old."

Sincerity to Be the Test.

On the question of disarmament the speaker said:

"Mr. Harding has taken the initiative of calling a conference of the representatives of the principal powers for the purpose of coming to an agreement for the reduction of armaments. Italy has heartily and unreservedly accepted your President's noble undertaking. What will be the results? They will undoubtedly be beneficial, provided, however, all the participants in the conference give proof both in word and deed of that sincerity of purpose which seemed sometimes to be wanting at the conference held in Paris for the conclusion of peace."

In regard to Italy, no one can question her sincerity in this matter, as she has already and effectively reduced her army and navy to the smallest proportion.

"Concluding," he said:

"If President Harding's initiative should be the awaited signal announcing that the long-expected disarmament has finally come, so much the better for humanity and its destinies."

PUTS BAN ON DANCING.

Mountain Lake Park Restores Rule Previously in Force.

Special Dispatch to The Star.

MOUNTAIN LAKE PARK, Md., August 6.—Some stir has been caused here by the restoration of the ban on dancing. Prior to five years ago the dancing and social playing of cards and dancing within the corporate limits of the park were permitted. A few days ago the authorities again closed down on dancing.

Events at the park, beyond religious meetings, are few, and it is believed some young people visiting the park find it hard to obtain recreation.

The stockholders of Mountain Lake Park Association, at their annual meeting, elected Dr. Archibald Moore, president; W. G. Gardner, secretary; and Messrs. M. Flowers, treasurer, E. R. Edwards, and U. S. Williams, members of the board of directors.

The Pittsburgh and Baltimore Conference Epworth Leagues have decided to hold their annual institutes here again next year. The School of Missions began its sessions Monday afternoon at the conference. The sessions cover a week.

The date of the tennis tournament was changed to August 8-13. The Odd Fellows of Maryland, Pennsylvania and West Virginia held their annual reunion here Tuesday, drawing one of the largest crowds of the season.

Miss Rachel Weems has deeded the Episcopal Church a lot for church purposes. It is planned to erect a new building on the lot.

The Episcopal Church are arranging to hold a bazaar and festival on the grounds of Allenhurst Monday and Tuesday. The bazaar is the children's fair, in the charge of Miss Dunagan. Each week the bazaar is held from 9 to 10 a. m. in the Strawbridge meeting house. Miss Dunagan entertains the children for an hour.

POLITICS IN WYOMING CLEARED BY MONDELL

Belief Is That House Leader Will Win Easily Senate Nomination.

Special Dispatch to The Star.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., August 6.—Wyoming's political atmosphere is growing clearer—becoming as clear, in fact, as the blue skies for which the state is noted.

Tuesday's formal announcement by Republican floor leader Frank W. Mondell that he would enter the lists for the republican nomination for United States senator one year hence served to set at rest all doubts which have lingered in some minds as to what would be the line-up in the political arena here next year, and it also served to set tongues of the political wisecracks wagging as they have not wagged since they observed the unprecedented majorities rolled up by Representative Mondell and President Harding in this state last November.

Everywhere the announcement was regarded as the opening gun of the 1922 campaign. That Mr. Mondell will have formidable opposition from Senator John G. Kendrick, democrat, next year was generally admitted, but that he would have a serious time of it from within the ranks of his own party was not so generally agreed to. Instead, the opinion seemed to prevail around the hotel lobbies and in political circles that he will win the nomination almost hands down.

Some time ago it was reported, and the report accepted as true, that Frank G. Curtis, former oil man, was about to announce his candidacy for the republican nomination for the senatorship. Later it was rumored that he might abandon that alleged intention and instead shy his hat into the congressional ring, with the purpose of succeeding Mr. Mondell in the lower House. So far no word has come directly from the Casper man, but local political observers declare he would have very little show of defeating Mr. Mondell for the senatorial nomination, even though he might have some show in case he cared to enter some other race.

No one else has been seriously discussed for the job of contesting with Mr. Mondell at the primaries next August, and at this writing it appears that no one is likely to be. Neither will any one get more than "prominent mention" for the difficult job of trying to swing the democratic nomination away from Senator Kendrick. If he wants the place again, as most people think he does, he will have the support of his party.

It is almost a foregone conclusion, therefore, that when the next general election rolls around in November, 1922, Representative Mondell and Senator Kendrick will be found battling for the highest office which can be given by the citizenship of Wyoming. And that it will be "some" battle no one disputes.

Remnant of Check Comes Back After Blaze in Airplane

Special Dispatch to The Star.

STANTON, Va., August 6.—The Worthington Hardware Company of this city yesterday received a check which on July 25 it had drawn to the credit of a Western firm. In the two weeks that had passed since the check was written, the little piece of paper had a series of adventures.

In the natural course of events it would have come back to Stanton by way of New York for collection. It was by mail to Chicago and was started on its return trip by airplane mail. The machine met with an accident, and a portion of its mail cargo was damaged by fire. The man who sent the check back for duplication, as it was burned at both ends, was so brittle that it would probably have collapsed long before it had served its purpose if traveling through the usual channels.

WAITS BESIDE OFFICER SEEKING HIS BRIDE-TO-BE

Both Make Rush for Train, But Policeman Wins and D. C. Youth Is Disappointed.

Special Dispatch to The Star.

BALTIMORE, Md., August 6.—I was aware that they were awaiting the arrival of the same young woman, on a train from Boston at 6 o'clock this morning, two men sat side by side in the waiting room of Union station. One was Abe Mendel, 716 6th street, southwest, Washington, D. C., with visions of wedding bells, for today was to be his wedding day. The other was Police Sgt. William Nicholson, and in his coat pocket was a telegram from the Boston authorities ordering the arrest of Mendel's bride-to-be for running away from her home.

The Boston train pulled in and both men made a rush for the steps leading from the train platform. Coming up the stairs, her face in smiles, as she caught sight of her fiancé, was Freida Isaacson, eighteen years old, of Boston.

"Sweetheart," they said in unison, as they rushed into each other's arms. "Is your name Freida Isaacson, and are you from Boston?" inquired a blue-clad uniform man.

The uniformed man was Sgt. Nicholson, and crying as if her heart would break, Miss Isaacson, followed by Mendel, was led to the central police station.

The romance of the couple began two years ago in Boston, when Mendel, then a soldier in the Army, met by chance Miss Isaacson. It was love at first sight, he said. A short while later Mendel obtained his release from the Army and went to his home, in Washington. Letters were exchanged, and several weeks ago they decided to wed.

Mrs. Gertrude Isaacson, mother of Miss Isaacson, had no objection to the match, but she wanted the wedding to take place in Boston.

Mendel and his bride-to-be say they have not yet lost, for they think they still have a chance of winning Mrs. Isaacson over.

Of all the sights he saw on his recent trip to London the amir of Thasina declared the crossing policeman to be the most wonderful. To be able to stop all traffic of a street with the lifting of one hand amazed him, and he thinks, he told an inquirer, that the policeman must have four eyes.

PROTEST RATE CUT.

Railroad Against Movement to Lower Freight Charges.

MOBILE, Ala., August 6.—The Gulf, Mobile and Northern railway has filed a protest with the Mississippi railroad commission at Jackson against a movement to lower freight rates in Mississippi, according to the commission's hearing here today. The railroad charges that the rates if lowered would be lower than interstate rates and also discriminatory against shippers in Alabama. The Mississippi commission has the matter under advisement.

JUDGE JENKINS DIES.

Became Prominent in Milwaukee Through Labor Troubles.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., August 6.—Judge James G. Jenkins, eighty-seven, who achieved prominence in 1887, when he joined employees of the Northern Pacific railroad from combining or conspiring to strike, died here today. The road at that time was in the hands of the United States court and was being operated by receivers, who announced a reduction in salaries of officers and workers from 10 to 20 percent. The threat of a strike and the injunction followed. The Milwaukee created a furor in labor circles, but later was upheld, with minor alterations, by higher courts.

LONDON, August 6.—Lady Bonham-Carter, daughter of former Premier Lord Curzon, has been invited by the West London Liberal Association to become a candidate for member of parliament for Westminster, to succeed the late William L. Ashmead, Earl Bury.

During the recent campaign of her father for parliament and on other occasions Lady Bonham-Carter has taken an active part as a speaker.

CUMBERLAND, Md., August 6.—Sheriff Anthony and County Detective F. Clement Deneen returned last night from Chicago with Eugene Four, who escaped in April, 1919, from jail here while being treated in the jail hospital. Poor was recently arrested in Chicago on a larceny charge.
