

President Harding takes his first horseback ride in fifteen years. An incident of the two-day stay at the Edison-Ford-Firestone camp at Big Pool, Md.

National Photo Co.

Nina Whitmore, actress, startles New York with a new evening gown which covers the collar-bone, something entirely new in the line of evening gowns. The frock gives a sort of "Tahiti effect." Canton crepe and jet are combined.

Underwood & Underwood.

First photograph of Enrico Caruso, famous tenor, and family in Sorrento, Italy. The singer's health has greatly improved during his stay in Italy.

Wide World Photo.

Here are the New York censors of motion pictures, photographed together for the first time. Their job is to see every movie released in the Empire state, and cut out what they do not like—or, rather, what they consider detrimental to the morals of New York people. Left to right: Joseph Levenson, Mrs. Eli T. Hosmer and George H. Cobb.

Underwood & Underwood.

This float, in the parade of the Elks at Los Angeles recently, probably attracted more attention and caused more laughs than any other. It contains several stars of the photoplay world.

International Film Service.

An interior view of the new Mexican legation, recently purchased. The house, at 2829 16th street, was formerly the home of Breckinridge Long.

National Photo Co.

"Rocking the Boat." Photograph by Miss Elsie Boss, 609 B street northeast, winner of The Star's weekly prize of $10 for the best amateur photograph.

"Why should I worry about the heat?" he asked the photographer as he strolled down the steps, dressed in his one-piece outfit.

National Photo Co.

Washington's non-partisan triplets—Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson Rich, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rich, 1142 15th street northwest. The youngsters, at present, are not at all worried over the problem of living up to their names.

Photo by Clarendon, from KeyStone.