

SEASIDE DISASTERS

San Antonio Death Toll Varies From 45 to 47—Loss Put at $8,000,000.

By the Associated Press. SAN ANTONIO, Tex., September 12.—Debris, damaged property and rehabilitation work were the principal reminders today of the five-hour flood here early Saturday morning. Business, outside of the inundated districts, almost normal. In some of the districts reached by the water, where the work of clearing was practically completed yesterday, business houses opened their doors. In other districts the removal of debris had not yet begun.

No Loss of Life South. Early reports today from along the San Antonio river south of here failed to indicate loss of life. The river, within twenty miles of San Antonio and is said to be capable of easily carrying more water than caused the damage without causing more than property damage.

Relief Funds Given for Relief.

Relief funds totaling $1,478 had been subscribed today by members of San Antonio toward a goal of $25,000 for relieving the distress of those who lost possessions.

Property damage was fixed at not more than $8,000,000 in a statement by E. Vandell, general manager of the Chamber of Commerce. The death list was still uncertain, some estimates running as high as 100, including the forty-seven bodies recovered.

Train service in and out of the city was suspended today. A special train service in and out of the city was suspended today.

Camps for Refugees. Four refugee camps were caring for the refugees today, under the direction of the Red Cross. Mrs. J. J. Dell's statement said that "it appears we will be able to handle the refugee situation satisfactorily without outside help."

One of the unique places of the famous family of Texas longhorns cattle, was badly damaged today. The city of San Antonio, Tex., is said to be the largest of its animals, but the protection of a natural dike saved the cattle from the park from inundation. The municipal golf course near Breckenridge Park was considerably damaged.

Deaths Are Recalling. HOUSTON, Tex., September 12.—Weather bureau officials here were without additional information this morning as to the death toll from the Brazos and Colorado rivers, but expected to have reports from their correspondents in the next few days.

Early reports to newspaper offices indicated that the rivers were dangerous and feared yesterday were reported from Hearse.

Aside from the report from Taylor, Texas, which reported a man had drowned and a report from Hearse that seven negroes had drowned as they tried to make their way from the bottom, reports of loss of life were few and scattered.

Tremendous losses to the stock and corn and cotton crops, however, are expected to send the total damage to the section into the millions.

Observers were inclined to believe early today that the worst is over as far as the Houston community is concerned.

NEW ORLEANS, September 12.—A tramp swam through the flood waters thirty-five miles from San Antonio, Tex., Saturday and saved the lives of 112 passengers aboard the S. S. City of Dallas.

The story told by R. J. Durand, assistant passenger agent of the Southern Railway, which the tramp came in from the Pacific coast thirty-three hours late.

The story of the tramp, who declined to give his name and who nearly lost his own life in the rescue, was reported by the newspaper.

The railroad said the most notable thing in the disaster was that forty negroes, who are the people of San Antonio set about the work of clearing the wreckage and caring for the injured.

Public Bared From Courtroom by Order of Troops' Commander.

By the Associated Press. WILLIAMSON, W. Va., September 12.—Taking of testimony in the second Matoonen battle trial began here today before a jury composed of residents from Pocahontas county. The men on trial, Rees Chambers and Fred Hatfield, are charged with the killing of W. J. Ferguson, one of seven Baldwin-Peltis detectives slain during the gun fight at Matoonen in May, 1920, when ten men met death.

It was expected that the trial would be of short duration, but that only two of the twenty-four men originally indicted were to be tried. The first trial, in which Sid Hatfield, recently killed in the shooting of the court at Welch in a pistol fight, was the principal defendant, resulted in the acquittal of nearly all the co-defendants and consumed several weeks.

One was permitted to enter the courtroom today under the orders of Maj. Tom Davis, commanding Mingo county under martial law proclamation of Gov. Morgan, apart from the defendants, witnesses, regularly constituted authorities and newspapermen. A venire of Pocahontas county residents was called following the passage by the last legislature which prescribed that in special cases residents of one county could be impaneled for jury duty in another in certain cases.

The report shows that the work of the surveyor's office is rapidly increasing and that more money is being paid to higher salaries for those already in the office.

TAX RETURNS AMENDED. Amended income and excess profits tax returns for 1917 and subsequent years will be required by the bureau of internal revenue where "apparent" income tax was more in computing invested capital, according to a statement issued by the bureau.

ALEXANDRIA FIRE LOSS PLACED AT $22,750

Revised Figures Made Today When Exact Amount of Damage Becomes Known.

Special Dispatch to The Star. ALEXANDRIA, Va., September 12.—Revised figures made today of the loss at the two fires Saturday night which destroyed the big general warehouse at the plant of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation and the warehouse at the plant of the Mutual Ice Company show that the damage sustained will be approximately $22,750.

The revised list follows: Building and contents of the warehouse at the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, $20,000; Mutual Ice Company, about $15,000, with $9,000 insurance; W. A. Smoot & Co., together with other damage, $6,000, covered by insurance. The Mutual Ice Company, $6,750. The government will lose out of the fire $4,750, together with reserve office furniture consisting of desks and chairs valued at $500, all in the warehouse of the Mutual Ice Company.

Mayor Duncan, chief of police department member of the two big fires, said that the two fires were the work of incendiaries. A fire which started shortly after 9 o'clock destroyed the ark of James Deane, which was on the river north of the plant of the Old Dominion Glass Company. The police yesterday took in custody a colored woman to see if she could shed any light on the fire. There was no evidence to connect her and after a preliminary hearing before Justice Snow in the police court today she was acquitted.

Hundreds of persons yesterday visited the scene of the two big fires and many came over from Washington. This far the police are without any clues as to the alleged fire-brewers, but it is continued without any let-up on the part of the authorities.

The fire department today received a check for $5 from W. A. Smoot & Co. in token of their appreciation of its services. The check was given by the company and the crew of the fire-fighter after the blaze Saturday night. The Mutual Ice Company, Smoot & Co. and the Mutual Ice Company. Plug streets were kept on both sides of the fire at 11 o'clock Saturday morning and the fire was kept on the fire at the shipyard all day yesterday.

Ador, Former Swiss President, Is Chosen by League Assembly.

By the Associated Press. GENEVA, September 12.—Gustave Ador, former President of Switzerland, was elected today president of the assembly of the league of nations today.

HANDLES ALBANIA QUESTION. Head of Western Macedonia on Way to Geneva.

ATHENS, September 11.—Governor General Kazandja of Western Macedonia, left last evening for Geneva as Greek delegate on the North Epirus, or Albanian, question.

URGES MANDATE DECISION. President Koo Wants Settlement With United States.

By the Associated Press. BUENOS AIRES, September 11.—The United States will be able to use a two-cent postal rate to all South and Central American countries under the provisions of an article approved yesterday at a plenary session of the pan-American postal congress.

Free Transit Approved. The congress has approved the principle of free transit of international mails through countries adhering to the convention.

AMERICAN DOLLAR STANDARD. There was some opposition to the adoption of the American dollar as the postal monetary unit, instead of the Mexican dollar, but the advocates of the dollar finally were successful.

FLAYS D. C. ALLEYS AS HEALTH MENACE AND CRIME SPOTS.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, D. C., September 12.—The city of Washington today flayed the alleys as a health menace and crime spots.

AIM TO STOP EXECUTION OF DEPOSED PRESIDENT.

By the Associated Press. BALTIMORE, Md., September 12.—Auctioning of the unemployed, as was proposed to be started in Baltimore today, will not be permitted by either state or city officials.

BAR LABOR AUCTION.

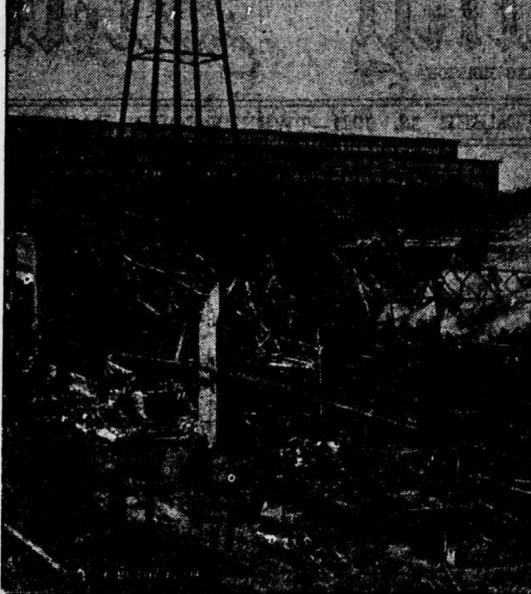

By the Associated Press. BALTIMORE, Md., September 12.—Auctioning of the unemployed, as was proposed to be started in Baltimore today, will not be permitted by either state or city officials.

FRATERNITIES LAY PLANS FOR BALLOU CONFERENCE.

By the Associated Press. BALTIMORE, Md., September 12.—Plans for the proposed conference with Superintendent of Schools Frank W. Ballou, at which he will be requested to take steps to abrogate the ruling designating the members of the high schools, will be completed at a meeting of members of the Interfraternity Council in room 202, Interstate building, at 1327 F street, this afternoon at 4:45 o'clock.

What's in a name? Everything! Unique flavor—appetizing crispness—substantial body—all mean Post Toasties—best corn flakes

RUINS CAUSED BY FLAMES AT ALEXANDRIA, VA.

SPIRITED POLITICS MARKS SELECTION OF WORLD JUDGES

By the Associated Press. GENEVA, September 12.—The selection of the judges for the permanent court of international justice today was marked by spirited politics.

PRIMARY ELECTION IN N. V. TOMORROW

By the Associated Press. ALBANY, N. Y., September 12.—The primary election in New York today will mark the beginning of the campaign for the November 8 election.

ARBUCKLE AWAITS FORMAL CHARGES

By the Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, Calif., September 12.—Roscoe Arbuckle awaits formal charges today in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

DETROIT, September 12.—All pictures featuring Roscoe Arbuckle were placed under the ban today by the Michigan Motion Picture Censors' Association.

CHURCH GOES TO GIBBETS

HEAVENLY MURDER MENTIONS ACCOMPLICES AND POLICE QUICKLY MAKE TWO ARRESTS.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, September 12.—Authorities investigating the double murder of Bernard J. Daugherty, automobile salesman, and Carl Ausmus, his companion, today were attempting to sift the facts from two alleged confessions made by Harvey W. Church yesterday.

In one confession, according to the police, Church admitted committing both murders single-handed. In a second and informal confession, however, he asserted he had accomplices in the crimes.

It was announced today that in investigating the latter statements two new arrests had been made, search for a dozen former associates of Church was under way.

Church's first and formal confession, according to the police, was made yesterday afternoon after nearly ten hours of ceaseless questioning, following his return here from Adams, Ill., where he was captured. He broke down after having been taken over the scene of the crime.

He said that he and Daugherty and Ausmus to his home in the new $5,000 automobile he had bought through the latter's name. He refused Daugherty to enter the basement of his home, he said, and he choked him with a rope and then struck him over the head with a baseball bat.

Ausmus was lured to the basement a few seconds later and was tied up and beaten until Church believed him dead.

Had Trouble Hiding Bodies. Leaving the bodies in the basement, Church drove by Coronado and his neighbors on a long auto ride, returning in the evening and burying Ausmus' body in the garage. He then returned to his home and hid Daugherty's body also, and Church, according to the police, said he took Daugherty to the Desplaine river and threw it from a bridge. The next morning he left in the new car with his picture in their former home at Adams, Wis.

This alleged confession, characterized as a "savage" and "barbaric" by the police, was followed, according to the police, by a second alleged confession in which Church said he had accomplices. In this confession he is said to have admitted cutting Daugherty's throat with an ax.

Police Doubt Claims. Investigators today pointed out that Church himself had admitted that he had handled the body of Daugherty, weighing 220 pounds, when he was in Chicago in 1918. He was admitted to the bar of Rhode Island and New York in 1919.

Former Senator Wetmore was born during a visit of his parents in London, N. Y., in 1857. He was educated at Yale college in 1877, and later studied law in the Columbia college law school, where he was admitted in 1881.

He was governor from 1885 to 1887. He was defeated for a third term in 1912. He served continuously until 1912.

After leaving the Senate ex-Senator Wetmore moved his home at 1609 K street, and maintained a real-estate office in New York. He has not been in Washington for several years. He was a horse fancier and often entered his horses in races in and around Washington. His son, the late Rogers Wetmore, also was a horse fancier.

Former Senator Wetmore was born during a visit of his parents in London, N. Y., in 1857. He was educated at Yale college in 1877, and later studied law in the Columbia college law school, where he was admitted in 1881.

He was governor from 1885 to 1887. He was defeated for a third term in 1912. He served continuously until 1912.

After leaving the Senate ex-Senator Wetmore moved his home at 1609 K street, and maintained a real-estate office in New York. He has not been in Washington for several years. He was a horse fancier and often entered his horses in races in and around Washington. His son, the late Rogers Wetmore, also was a horse fancier.

Former Senator Wetmore was born during a visit of his parents in London, N. Y., in 1857. He was educated at Yale college in 1877, and later studied law in the Columbia college law school, where he was admitted in 1881.

He was governor from 1885 to 1887. He was defeated for a third term in 1912. He served continuously until 1912.

After leaving the Senate ex-Senator Wetmore moved his home at 1609 K street, and maintained a real-estate office in New York. He has not been in Washington for several years. He was a horse fancier and often entered his horses in races in and around Washington. His son, the late Rogers Wetmore, also was a horse fancier.

Former Senator Wetmore was born during a visit of his parents in London, N. Y., in 1857. He was educated at Yale college in 1877, and later studied law in the Columbia college law school, where he was admitted in 1881.

He was governor from 1885 to 1887. He was defeated for a third term in 1912. He served continuously until 1912.

After leaving the Senate ex-Senator Wetmore moved his home at 1609 K street, and maintained a real-estate office in New York. He has not been in Washington for several years. He was a horse fancier and often entered his horses in races in and around Washington. His son, the late Rogers Wetmore, also was a horse fancier.

Former Senator Wetmore was born during a visit of his parents in London, N. Y., in 1857. He was educated at Yale college in 1877, and later studied law in the Columbia college law school, where he was admitted in 1881.

He was governor from 1885 to 1887. He was defeated for a third term in 1912. He served continuously until 1912.

After leaving the Senate ex-Senator Wetmore moved his home at 1609 K street, and maintained a real-estate office in New York. He has not been in Washington for several years. He was a horse fancier and often entered his horses in races in and around Washington. His son, the late Rogers Wetmore, also was a horse fancier.

Former Senator Wetmore was born during a visit of his parents in London, N. Y., in 1857. He was educated at Yale college in 1877, and later studied law in the Columbia college law school, where he was admitted in 1881.

He was governor from 1885 to 1887. He was defeated for a third term in 1912. He served continuously until 1912.

After leaving the Senate ex-Senator Wetmore moved his home at 1609 K street, and maintained a real-estate office in New York. He has not been in Washington for several years. He was a horse fancier and often entered his horses in races in and around Washington. His son, the late Rogers Wetmore, also was a horse fancier.

Former Senator Wetmore was born during a visit of his parents in London, N. Y., in 1857. He was educated at Yale college in 1877, and later studied law in the Columbia college law school, where he was admitted in 1881.

He was governor from 1885 to 1887. He was defeated for a third term in 1912. He served continuously until 1912.

After leaving the Senate ex-Senator Wetmore moved his home at 1609 K street, and maintained a real-estate office in New York. He has not been in Washington for several years. He was a horse fancier and often entered his horses in races in and around Washington. His son, the late Rogers Wetmore, also was a horse fancier.

Former Senator Wetmore was born during a visit of his parents in London, N. Y., in 1857. He was educated at Yale college in 1877, and later studied law in the Columbia college law school, where he was admitted in 1881.

He was governor from 1885 to 1887. He was defeated for a third term in 1912. He served continuously until 1912.

After leaving the Senate ex-Senator Wetmore moved his home at 1609 K street, and maintained a real-estate office in New York. He has not been in Washington for several years. He was a horse fancier and often entered his horses in races in and around Washington. His son, the late Rogers Wetmore, also was a horse fancier.

Former Senator Wetmore was born during a visit of his parents in London, N. Y., in 1857. He was educated at Yale college in 1877, and later studied law in the Columbia college law school, where he was admitted in 1881.

He was governor from 1885 to 1887. He was defeated for a third term in 1912. He served continuously until 1912.

After leaving the Senate ex-Senator Wetmore moved his home at 1609 K street, and maintained a real-estate office in New York. He has not been in Washington for several years. He was a horse fancier and often entered his horses in races in and around Washington. His son, the late Rogers Wetmore, also was a horse fancier.

Former Senator Wetmore was born during a visit of his parents in London, N. Y., in 1857. He was educated at Yale college in 1877, and later studied law in the Columbia college law school, where he was admitted in 1881.

He was governor from 1885 to 1887. He was defeated for a third term in 1912. He served continuously until 1912.

COSTELLO POST RESENTS SLIGHT TO THE DISTRICT

Protests Failure to Ask Commissioner Rudolph to Legion Convention.

Vincent B. Costello Post of the American Legion today is awaiting a reply to a telegram sent yesterday to the convention committee of the legion at Kansas City, Mo., protesting against the failure of that committee to invite Commissioner Rudolph to the legion convention to be held there in November.

William F. Franklin, commander of Costello Post, sent the telegram after several states in the number of delegates at the convention. Commander Franklin felt that Washington ex-service men had been slighted in not having their "majority" invited to the convention. Franklin sent the following message to the convention committee:

"Fratricide! Legionaries slighted in omitting our chief magistrate, Hon. Cuno H. Rudolph, from your list of delegates to the convention. The states to be guests of the convention, District of Columbia will far outnumber several states in delegates to your city. 'Buddies,' give a ring to a true friend of the ex-service men and keep us smiling."

Costello Post, sent the telegram after several states in the number of delegates at the convention. Commander Franklin felt that Washington ex-service men had been slighted in not having their "majority" invited to the convention. Franklin sent the following message to the convention committee:

"Fratricide! Legionaries slighted in omitting our chief magistrate, Hon. Cuno H. Rudolph, from your list of delegates to the convention. The states to be guests of the convention, District of Columbia will far outnumber several states in delegates to your city. 'Buddies,' give a ring to a true friend of the ex-service men and keep us smiling."

Costello Post, sent the telegram after several states in the number of delegates at the convention. Commander Franklin felt that Washington ex-service men had been slighted in not having their "majority" invited to the convention. Franklin sent the following message to the convention committee:

"Fratricide! Legionaries slighted in omitting our chief magistrate, Hon. Cuno H. Rudolph, from your list of delegates to the convention. The states to be guests of the convention, District of Columbia will far outnumber several states in delegates to your city. 'Buddies,' give a ring to a true friend of the ex-service men and keep us smiling."

WETMORE VICTIM OF HEART ATTACK

Ex-U. S. Senator and Twice Rhode Island's Governor Expires in Hotel.

By the Associated Press. BOSTON, September 12.—George Peabody Wetmore, former republican United States senator from Rhode Island and for two terms governor of that state, died of heart failure in a hotel here yesterday.

Mr. Wetmore, who was seventy-five years of age, arrived here from his home at Newport, R. I., for a consultation with his physicians and his death was unexpected. The body will be sent to New York.

He was governor from 1885 to 1887. He was defeated for a third term in 1912. He served continuously until 1912.

After leaving the Senate ex-Senator Wetmore moved his home at 1609 K street, and maintained a real-estate office in New York. He has not been in Washington for several years. He was a horse fancier and often entered his horses in races in and around Washington. His son, the late Rogers Wetmore, also was a horse fancier.

Former Senator Wetmore was born during a visit of his parents in London, N. Y., in 1857. He was educated at Yale college in 1877, and later studied law in the Columbia college law school, where he was admitted in 1881.

He was governor from 1885 to 1887. He was defeated for a third term in 1912. He served continuously until 1912.

After leaving the Senate ex-Senator Wetmore moved his home at 1609 K street, and maintained a real-estate office in New York. He has not been in Washington for several years. He was a horse fancier and often entered his horses in races in and around Washington. His son, the late Rogers Wetmore, also was a horse fancier.

Former Senator Wetmore was born during a visit of his parents in London, N. Y., in 1857. He was educated at Yale college in 1877, and later studied law in the Columbia college law school, where he was admitted in 1881.

He was governor from 1885 to 1887. He was defeated for a third term in 1912. He served continuously until 1912.

After leaving the Senate ex-Senator Wetmore moved his home at 1609 K street, and maintained a real-estate office in New York. He has not been in Washington for several years. He was a horse fancier and often entered his horses in races in and around Washington. His son, the late Rogers Wetmore, also was a horse fancier.

Former Senator Wetmore was born during a visit of his parents in London, N. Y., in 1857. He was educated at Yale college in 1877, and later studied law in the Columbia college law school, where he was admitted in 1881.

He was governor from 1885 to 1887. He was defeated for a third term in 1912. He served continuously until 1912.

After leaving the Senate ex-Senator Wetmore moved his home at 1609 K street, and maintained a real-estate office in New York. He has not been in Washington for several years. He was a horse fancier and often entered his horses in races in and around Washington. His son, the late Rogers Wetmore, also was a horse fancier.

Former Senator Wetmore was born during a visit of his parents in London, N. Y., in 1857. He was educated at Yale college in 1877, and later studied law in the Columbia college law school, where he was admitted in 1881.

He was governor from 1885 to 1887. He was defeated for a third term in 1912. He served continuously until 1912.

After leaving the Senate ex-Senator Wetmore moved his home at 1609 K street, and maintained a real-estate office in New York. He has not been in Washington for several years. He was a horse fancier and often entered his horses in races in and around Washington. His son, the late Rogers Wetmore, also was a horse fancier.

Former Senator Wetmore was born during a visit of his parents in London, N. Y., in 1857. He was educated at Yale college in 1877, and later studied law in the Columbia college law school, where he was admitted in 1881.

He was governor from 1885 to 1887. He was defeated for a third term in 1912. He served continuously until 1912.

After leaving the Senate ex-Senator Wetmore moved his home at 1609 K street, and maintained a real-estate office in New York. He has not been in Washington for several years. He was a horse fancier and often entered his horses in races in and around Washington. His son, the late Rogers Wetmore, also was a horse fancier.

Former Senator Wetmore was born during a visit of his parents in London