CHAMPIONS CARRY OFF MORE RIBBONS

Final Horse Show Honors Are Awarded—Fort Myer Team Wins Army Cup.

Seven champions were awarded the premier honors of the National Capital horse show at Arlington Park, Va., yesterday afternoon, while the showering rain made the muddy track muddier and muddier. Woodcock, a New York horse, owned by Miss Michell S. Newberg, took away the championship in the light-weight hunter class, and reliable Tarry Not, Col. W. W. Whitfield's handsome heavyweight hunter, carried off the championship for his class after knocking at the meeting and having misfortune follow misfortune in the classes.

Mrs. Allen Potts' Favourite, from Gordonsville, Va., easily captured the honors in the Washington road saddle, owned by Eugene Meyer, jr., who was adjudged a champion in his contingent.

Mrs. Combs Agala Winner.

The championship for the single harness horse class was awarded to Combs of Kansas City, Mo., and the same owner carried away the championship for the harness pair with Revelation and temptation. The Fort Myer team won the Army Challenge cup, which was donated by three times and annexing the cup permanently. The same team won in 1913 and last year. This year it was commanded by Maj. C. F. George, Maj. Gen. J. G. Harbord's Gay Lark, who won the ribbon in the officers' class, ran second to Tarry Not in the jumping feature for heavyweights. ## BRITISH WOMAN GOLFERS IN TITLE TOURNEY FINAL

By the Associated Press.
SANDWICH, England, May 18.—Miss Cecil Letch, British women's open golf champion, and Miss Joyce Wethered, English close champion, will compete for the open championship over the prince's course here. Both ladies were in contention in the semi-final today. In the semi-final round today, Miss Letch defeated Miss Gladys Bastin of the Crewborough Beesons Club, 5 up and 4 to play, and Miss Wethered defeated Miss Joan Stocker of Sheringham, by the same score.

$100,000 ASSURED FOR SHRINE FUND

$60,000 Already Subscribed for Almas Temple Securing Council Session.

With $60,000 already subscribed, extra efforts are being made today by all team captains working in the interest of the one-hundred-thousand-dollar guarantee fund to insure Almas Temple in securing the Imperial Council session of the Mystic Shrine for Washington next year, and according to Thomas E. Jarrett, chairman of the finance committee, the entire amount will be in hand by tomorrow night.

Final Report Tomorrow.
The amount subscribed is above the totals announced in certain cases by many of the committees in charge of the drive will not report their collections until tomorrow night, when a general meeting of all workers will be held at the new City Club. Mr. T. Reed, chief of information service, L. P. Steuart of Almas Temple were both elated today over the progress of the work, and said that the drive had designated an exceptionally short space of time in which to raise the fund, thought that, now the import of the tremendous undertaking had begun to be appreciated by local business men, there would be little or no difficulty in ending the campaign on time.

Many Visitors Promised.
As soon as word is received in Washington should the local Shrine be successful in securing the rich prize, special committees on arrangements will be appointed to take the affair in hand, as a year is not regarded as too long to prepare for a convention of such proportions. Those in charge of the movement have conservatively placed the number of visitors who would come to Washington, in case the plan is held here at tens of thousands.

STUDENTS VISIT PLANT.

Members of Georgetown Class Go to Sparrows Point.

Fifty students of the class in staple commodities in world trade—minerals—of the Georgetown University School of Foreign Service yesterday visited the plant of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, at Sparrows Point, Md.
After their arrival in Baltimore the students were the guests of the export and import board of trade of that city, and were taken to the plant on the F. C. Latrobe, a harbor boat.
Assistant General Manager E. J. Weyer of the steel plant acted as guide to the students, who were shown virtually every step taken in turning a mass of crude iron into a large steel plate ready for export. On their return to Baltimore the board made a detailed tour of the harbor for the benefit of the class. Dr. T. Reed, chief of information service, bureau of mines, the instructor, and his assistant, F. A. Roper, were in charge of the group.

WOMEN'S MASS MEETING.

All women employed in stores in Washington are urged by the minimum wage board to attend the mass meeting in the boardroom of the District building at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening to discuss the question of what their minimum rate of pay should be.
The wage board last week announced that the rate of $15.50 fixed for the mercantile industry in 1915 would be considered. The purpose of the employees' meeting tomorrow is to select two of their number to sit at the conference which is to reconsider the wage.

AGREE TO END HEARING ON SHIP SUBSIDY BILL

Early Action in House Promised When Committees Adjourn Session Tomorrow.

Agreement to conclude hearings on the administration ship subsidy bill tomorrow has been reached by the Senate commerce and House merchant marine committees, which have been considering the legislation at joint sessions for the past six weeks. Plans of republican committeemen call for early action on the bill by the House in the hopes that the Senate also may dispose of the legislation at this session of Congress. The House committee immediately after adjournment of the joint sessions will take up the measure in executive session. It was said that the Senate committee probably would take no action on the bill until it has been disposed of by the House.

SOLOISTS TO AID BAND IN FINAL CONCERT

The final concert preliminary to Washington's second music week, May 28-June 3, will be given at Central High School Sunday night at 8 o'clock. The United States Marine Band will play and Lieut. Santamann has prepared an unusual program as a climax to the series of free Sunday concerts.

The soloists for Sunday night are Mrs. John Stahl, soprano, and Arthur Gorbach, bass. The Columbia quartet, Paul Liedig, first tenor; W. E. Braithwaite, second tenor; W. S. Haynes, first bass, and Benjamin Linsbach, second bass, will sing three interesting numbers. William Knowles Cooper will deliver a ten-minute address on the value of music week and the particular significance of Washington's annual celebration.

The sale of official souvenir programs is being organized and will be formally launched Monday, May 22, when groups representing the Y. W. C. A., Junior League and Junior Council of the Council of Jewish Women will assist. The groups are under the leadership of Miss Kings, Miss Riegel and Mrs. Taylor of the Y. W. C. A.; Miss Cora Barry of the Junior League; and Miss Ruth Rosenfeld, president of the Junior Council of the Council of Jewish Women.

Rehearsals of the school children's chorus for the serenade to President and Mrs. Harding are being held throughout the city under the direction of Robert Lawrence, assisted by all music teachers of the public schools.
