

THE STAR'S DAILY PICTORIAL PAGE

THE EVENING STAR, WASHINGTON, D. C., SATURDAY, MAY 27, 1922.

When ironworker meets ironworker. At the White House yesterday Secretary of Labor Davis recognized an old friend in Officer C. C. Dalrymple, for they worked together as puddlers in the Detna Iron Mills of Martins Ferry, Ohio, about thirty years ago. Copyright by 21st Century Press.

President Harding presenting cup to Lowell Mellett, winner of the annual tournament of the Washington Newspaper Men's Golf Club, yesterday afternoon. The President was among the prize winners, receiving a box of golf balls for finishing fourth. National Photo.

Lieut. Col. A. J. Gordon Kane of Washington, eighty-two years old, who was in command of the military guard at the funeral of Abraham Lincoln. He will assist in the dedication ceremonies at the Lincoln Memorial next Tuesday. National Photo.

The opening of summer racing at Belmont Park, New York, was also the occasion of the opening of the outdoor fashion season. These four mannequins are wearing the very latest style creations. The mannequin idea of showing gowns comes from Paris. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

This American diplomat, Charles R. Crane, laughs at his twenty-year sentence by a French military court at Damascus, Syria. The former American minister to China is accused of attempting to incite Syrians to an outbreak. Copyright by Keystone.

He has strong backing for President-of Germany. Dr. Adolph Damaschke is the "dark horse" of the presidential campaign in the former domain of the kaiser, with the liberal party behind him. Copyright by Keystone.

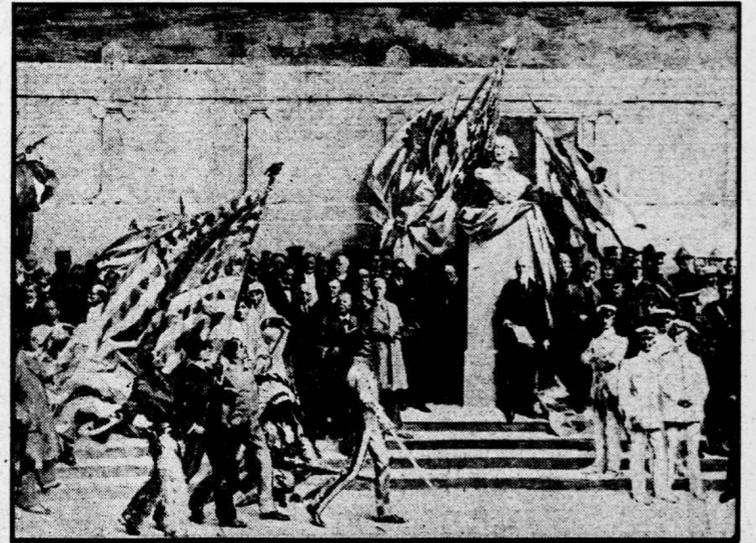

Articles made by disabled soldiers of the recent war and some of the men who appeared with nurses at the entertainment of the American Woman's Legion yesterday. The moving spirit of the organization, Mrs. George Baldwin McCoy, is seated at the left. Copyright by 21st Century Press.

Miss Martha Gibbons-Thomas is successfully farming land granted her ancestor by William Penn in 1682. The farm is in Chester county, Pa., and it now contains a "blue ribbon" dairy herd. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

Prominent Japanese scientists who called on President Harding at the White House yesterday. Left to right: Dr. Shirokme Endo, Dr. Morinosuke Chinaki and Dr. Hideyo Noguchi. National Photo.

Largest painting in the world, a gigantic composite picture of the allied leaders of the world war, will come to America. This part of the painting, called the "Pantheon de la Guerre," represents the American section. The complete canvas contains 15,000 full-length figures. Wide World Photo.

American Legion aids in distribution of state bonds to Missouri's ex-service men. This distribution is in St. Louis. The soldiers, sailors and sailors are being paid a bonus of $10 for each month of service in the war. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

George Topham, retired business man of Washington, who has been selected as foreman of the special grand jury to hear evidence in the case of the late President. National Photo.

Vera Petrovich, decorated by Gabrielle D'Annunzio for bravery during the Fiume uprising, comes to America as an envoy of the Red Cross of Montenegro. Photo taken aboard the new Italian liner Conte Rosso. Wide World Photo.

John Ball Osborne, American consul general at Genoa, with Mrs. Osborne and their daughter Ruth, arrive in the United States for the first visit at home in three years. Wide World Photo.