

MILITARY TRAINING FOR YOUTHS FREE

Three Courses Offered by Army in Summer Camps Near Here.

The citizens' military training at camps and posts in this vicinity beginning July 27 and lasting one month are expected to bring together young men of high type on a common basis of equality under favorable conditions of outdoor life, to stimulate and promote citizenship, patriotism and Americanism and through expert physical instruction and military training to train the young men and bring them to realize their obligations to their country.

Expenses All Paid.

The benefits to be derived from attending the camps can be obtained without any expense, as the War Department will provide the transportation to camps and return, board, lodging, medical attention, uniforms, equipment, arms, ammunition, laundry, recreation and recreation.

Physical Requirements Light.

Physical requirements can be met by almost any average young man. The three courses are: 1. The white course, eighteen to twenty-six years, and for the blue course, nineteen to twenty-seven years. For the green course, military training in the Army, especially veterans of the world war, the maximum age limit is thirty-five years for each course.

THREE DEALERS ACCUSED OF ILLEGAL MEASURING

Three Louisiana avenue dealers have been ordered to appear in Police Court tomorrow morning and answer charges of having sold fresh and vegetables in violation of law, George M. Roberts, superintendent of weights and measures, announced last night.

Inspector W. C. Diller made purchases from each of the three stands. It is alleged that such products as peaches and tomatoes were being sold in strawberry boxes, when the law requires that such sales must be made by weight or numerical count.

This marks the opening of weights by Mr. Roberts to protect housewives during the summer months against similar violations of the new weight and measure law.

The weight and measure office pointed out yesterday that such commodities as peaches, apples and tomatoes cannot be sold in small containers, such as strawberry boxes, but must be handled by the pound or by count.

NAVY WOULD DISCOUNT $291,000 WAR LOSS ON DEBT DUE FROM ITALY

Award of $291,000 to the Italian government for a shipping loss sustained in 1917 provided the Secretary of the Treasury be permitted to credit that amount against Italy's war debt to the United States, was recommended to Congress yesterday by the Navy Department.

Acting Secretary Roosevelt of the Navy in a letter to Speaker Gillett said the report of a court of inquiry showed that the United States government was liable for the loss of copper consigned to the Italian government, which was lost when a barge was sunk in collision with the transport Buford off the New Jersey coast.

MORE CONTRIBUTIONS TO MEMORIAL FUND

Shoreham Hotel and Evening Star Lead in Latest Subscriptions.

Actual results of the campaign of the George Washington Memorial Association in the District for $250,000—the city's quota of the $7,500,000 being collected throughout the country for the erection of a memorial building to George Washington, at 6th and B streets northwest, have not yet been determined, according to an announcement last night by Dr. Thomas E. Green, chairman of the campaign control committee.

"Because of the ramifications of the limited chain system of subscriptions we have adopted for appeal," said Dr. Green, "it is not possible to state with exactitude just how near we have come to our mark. It naturally takes some time to complete even one link of the chain and our workers and committees have expressed a reluctance to make definite reports until they have had opportunity to talk with all possible contributors on their part. From the spirit in which they have gone about their work and the indicated responses of the people of the capital, I am sure that the people of the city are eagerly interested in helping to insure an early start of building the memorial. I think Washingtonians realize the value to their city of this unique institution and have shown a willingness and readiness to help in its establishment."

Can Send in Subscriptions.

"It will not be possible, of course, to reach every person in the city who would be willing to give to our fund, but those who may wish to contribute may send their subscriptions to the headquarters at 1700 I street northwest."

Among the contributions announced yesterday by Dr. Green were one of $3,000 from the Shoreham Hotel Company, $2,500 from the Evening Star Publishing Company and $1,000 from A. Lisner of the Palais Royal. Other contributions were: Robert Lansing, J. Mayhew Wright, wife of the assistant secretary of war, $250; Christian Heuprich, $500; and Charles Goldsmith, $100.

Second $100 for Memorial.

Mrs. Marcus Benjamin, vice chairman of the committee appointed by the members of the Club of Colonial Dames to obtain financial support for the memorial, has received a second contribution of $100 to be used in providing in the building a suitable memorial to the American soldier. This is the second contribution of this amount for this purpose that has been received by the committee.

The District of Columbia Chapter of the Mayflower Society, whose members are descendants of the passengers on the vessel which brought the Pilgrims to Plymouth in 1620, have adopted resolutions pledging the support of the members to the memorial.

PROPOSED NEW ARMY MEDICAL SCHOOL BUILDING. TO BE CONSTRUCTED IN THE WALTER REED GROUNDS

MEDICAL BUILDING READY NEXT YEAR

Plans Completed for Fire-proof School at Walter Reed Hospital.

The United States Army Medical School is to have a new modern fire-proof home in the Walter Reed General Hospital reservation within a year, it was announced yesterday, plans having been completed by the construction service of the quarter-master general's office for the building, and bids are to be opened on June 28.

The school is at present located in rented buildings at 462-466 Louisiana avenue, where it is said to be "inadequately housed," but, according to present prospects, it may be moved into its new home within a year. The building is the initial step in the plan for a great medical center, to include the hospital, the medical school, the Army Medical Museum and library, a group eventually of modern buildings, harmonious in architecture and adapted to the ideal of a great government scientific institution. Congress has appropriated half a million dollars for the school.

Admits False Report.

Only during the past week a report came in during the early morning hours that a man had been chloroformed and robbed by thugs with pistols. The attention of four detectives was given the case. When the report came in the two men on night duty first took it up, and later Detective Stoggs, Fowler and Flaherty investigated. In the end the maker of the report signed a confession that his report was false. It is believed by the police that he was intoxicated and had lost some checks and a bank book while in that condition, and in order to make his fault less apparent he reported the chloroform story to the police.

Commanding Position.

The building is to have a commanding position facing south on a knoll now occupied by temporary wards, immediately between the main hospital building and 14th street extended, with an approach from 14th street.

The structure has been designed in the Georgian style of architecture, with a handkerchief gabled roof, concrete columns and floors and brick walls with limestone trimmings, thus harmonizing with the permanent buildings of the post.

The first part to be erected, for which plans have been completed and bids invited, will be the south wing, 206 feet long and 50 feet deep, three stories and basement, except in the central portion, which will be four stories high.

North and South Entrances.

The main entrance to the building will be through the north and south facades, opening into a central lobby, from which corridors will extend both east and west. Another entrance will be at the east end of the building, facing the present hospital group of buildings, while the service entrance will be at the west end through the basement.

While the interior will be finished with the best of materials, Army officials announce, it will be of simple design, special study having been given to meeting the practical requirements of the various departments of the school. A well lighted basement will furnish ample space for mechanical equipment, storage and other facilities. The first floor will be occupied by the administration offices and the X-ray department. The vaccine department will occupy approximately one-half of the second floor, along the same line. The entire third floor, the fourth floor of the central portion being divided into animal observation, operating and isolation rooms.

ARMY FUND BILL TO DIVERT TARIFF

Appropriations Measure Expected to Pass in Few Days.

The Army appropriation bill may temporarily displace the tariff bill in the Senate during part of the coming week, it was said last night. The Army bill has been prepared for report to the Senate by the appropriations committee, and will be submitted to the Senate soon. Senate leaders are hopeful of disposing of the Army bill within a few days. It is recognized that the tariff bill must be put through long before the tariff bill can be disposed of, since the end of the fiscal year is June 30.

Republican members of the finance committee, which handles the tariff bill, said that the committee could afford to allow the tariff bill to be laid aside for a couple of days, which would give the committee opportunity to work on further amendments to the tariff bill, based on new information which was reaching them daily.

The struggle in the Senate over the tariff bill was continued yesterday, while under the surface the republicans discussed the advisability of attempting to bring about cloture on the bill. The Senate finally disposed of committee amendments to one paragraph dealing with duties on steel wire and wire rope.

The democrats, joined at times by some republicans, made a strenuous fight against the increases proposed, but without success. The committee, however, receded from all of its original recommendations, cutting the rates proposed, and Senator McCumber, republican, North Dakota, in charge of the bill, intimated that some further reductions might be proposed when the Senate took up this paragraph for a final vote after committee amendments in the entire bill have been disposed of.

offices in the downtown section, where he confessed that he had tied himself up to create sympathy on the part of his brother in the hope that the latter would give him some cash.

There are scores of complaints about being held up, which are found later to come from participants in gambling games, who wish to put up a good story at home when their wives request an explanation of the lack of funds.

"The man who makes a false report to the police," Commissioner Oyster said today, "should be put in the same class with the fellow who pulls a false alarm at a fire box. We are taking steps to see if such a condition can be obtained."

DEADLOCK CONTINUED ON GOOD ROADS LAW

Senate Rejects House Substitution for Provision Authorizing Appropriations.

The deadlock between the Senate and House on good roads legislation was continued yesterday by the Senate in voting to reject road legislation attached by the House to the Post Office appropriation bill.

In lieu of a Senate provision appropriating $50,000,000 this year, $45,000,000 next year and $15,000,000 the following year for federal and state co-operation in road building, the House substituted the bill by Representative Dunn, republican, New York, making no continuing appropriations and limiting expenditures to $12,500 per mile this year, and $10,000 thereafter.

The Senate voted unanimously against accepting the Dunn bill. Senator Fitman, democrat, Nevada, said that it would "mean the death of the federal roads law" and cause "absolute cessation" of road development co-operation between the states and the government.

TRIBUTE FROM PARIS.

Bronze Palm to Be Laid on Tomb of Unknown Soldier.

M. Marcel Franck, vice president of the Rotary Club of Paris, and the Parisian delegates to the Los Angeles Rotary Club convention will place a bronze palm on the tomb of the unknown soldier at Arlington National cemetery this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The memorial will be received from M. Franck by Assistant Secretary of War Wainwright.

M. Franck, accompanied by Tom Miller, vice president of the New York City Rotary Club, arrived in Washington last night and was met at the Union station by a delegation of local Rotarians.
