

THE LAND OF SILK

AND when the Fairy Prince told little Zenna-Mae all about the silkworm, how it spins all the silk and makes a little cradle for itself and goes to sleep in it, and by and by wakes up to come out a Moth instead of a worm, Zenna-Mae wanted, right away, to select a new silk dress for her dollie. The Prince told her of the Land of Silk, where she could see all the beautiful patterns and colors. And wasn't her dollie surprised to see the Castle of Silk, with the long winding steps leading up to it, with all the trees around! A beautiful silk waterfall, too, tumbling into a basin of water silk. Use a brush and plain water to paint all the colors and patterns; paint carefully between the lines as the color appears.
