

FIRST PHOTOGRAPH SHOWING IRISH UPRISING AT FOUR COURTS BUILDING, DUBLIN

SCENE AT THE CORNER OF CAPEL STREET BRIDGE AND PARLIAMENT STREET, DUBLIN, BEYOND WHICH NOBODY DARED PASS, IN THE DISTANCE CAN BE SEEN THE FOUR COURTS BUILDINGS, WHICH WAS CONTINUALLY UNDER FIRE.

Democratic Nominee for Senate Leads "Bombardment" Fourth of July Week.

Special Dispatch to The Star. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 8.—The period in and around the Fourth of July was marked by a considerable amount of political barding in Indiana, the democrats taking the lead. Two speeches by Samuel M. Ralston, democratic nominee for United States senator, and a meeting of the democratic state committee were the high lights in the democratic activities.

In one of his speeches delivered at Oxford, Ind., Mr. Ralston took issue with the sentiment expressed by Albert J. Beveridge in the latter's speech at Toronto recently. He drew forth the Ralston shafts was the assertion that our country cannot take part in political or foreign affairs because it does "the racial groups snap into formation according to the blood of those in them" and act and vote "upon foreign considerations."

Mr. Ralston spoke against meeting in foreign affairs, but disagreed with Mr. Beveridge. He said the early start of the war in 1917 was not a matter of government, but that they stood together against England in the latter's fight against Germany. In another speech Mr. Ralston said in this country a party platform is not a mere slogan, but a speech made by L. G. Rothchild, a republican, in which Mr. Rothchild said that the party platform is chiefly useful in giving the editorial writers something to write about in the dog days.

The meeting of the democratic state committee the spirit appeared to be optimistic. Several democrats said that farmers were going to vote for congressmen who would repeal the present state tax law as called for in the democratic platform. The state committee decided to have the selection of a congressional candidate in the county of the district and they will meet tomorrow to settle the question. Even though the Democratic Party's former attorney general, appeared to be a strong contender for the nomination, he was not a candidate and would not accept the nomination if it were given to him. One of the speakers was Samuel Benz of English, former member of the legislature. Voligt of Jeffersonville, William E. Cox, former representative in Congress, and B. Beals of English.

Republican Criticizes President. A speech made by John W. McCarty, leading republican and chairman of the state committee, has caused much comment. Mr. McCarty, in addressing the Indiana grain farmers, said that if the strike would never develop. He added a little later in his speech that what this country needs is a hardening for inviting John L. Lewis of the miners to the White House.

McCarty said that the Democratic Party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present.

McCarty said that the Democratic Party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present.

McCarty said that the Democratic Party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present.

McCarty said that the Democratic Party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present.

McCarty said that the Democratic Party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present.

McCarty said that the Democratic Party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present.

McCarty said that the Democratic Party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present.

McCarty said that the Democratic Party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present.

Senator's Chances for Renomination in Washington Believed Bettered.

Special Dispatch to The Star. WASHINGTON, Wash., July 8.—Senator Miles Alexander's campaign status took a boom this week when Clark V. Savidge, commissioner of state public lands, formally announced that he would not be a candidate for the republican nomination for United States senator. Savidge was the one man whose candidacy was feared by Alexander's supporters, and when his name was taken from the race, the Alexander forces were jubilant. In his announcement Savidge intimated that he would be a candidate for governor next year.

Thursday the fourth candidate for the Senate appeared, Former State Senator Iverson of Adams county announced himself. Iverson is a former bill mooser, making the bid and this old party following in the field.

Other Avowed Candidates. John E. Ballaine, George H. Stevenson, and Austin E. Griffith, all from the first congressional district, are avowed candidates. Stevenson is the only one of the field who was not affiliated at all times with the old guard of the republican party. Iverson two years ago flirted with the republican party, but when turned down for nomination for state senator on that ticket went into the republican ranks and was defeated. He is a publisher of a weekly newspaper.

Unless there is a radical change in present sentiment the incumbent will win re-election, despite the adverse criticism which is to be heard on all sides against the present Congress. Fear to Make Change. The general feeling through the state seems to be that the Washington delegation might be improved upon, but in attempting to make a change there is too much danger under the primary law of nominating legislative bodies whose interests are not likely to be as good as those of the state. There has been considerable talk among the republican leaders to the effect that the postmaster at Seattle and Tacoma should be the most likely to be dexter and Senator Jones, with the aid of the representative, to force candidates for appointment into line for nomination.

The walk-out of the shopen has practically spelled the death of the republican party in Washington. Both the shop workers and the miners striking the prospective farmer-union have been dropped from sight. Without funds and strike benefits being called for the leaders of the republican party have been endeavoring to entice their former followers into contributing money toward a political campaign with little chance of success.

Republican Criticizes President. A speech made by John W. McCarty, leading republican and chairman of the state committee, has caused much comment. Mr. McCarty, in addressing the Indiana grain farmers, said that if the strike would never develop. He added a little later in his speech that what this country needs is a hardening for inviting John L. Lewis of the miners to the White House.

McCarty said that the Democratic Party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present.

McCarty said that the Democratic Party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present.

McCarty said that the Democratic Party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present.

McCarty said that the Democratic Party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present.

McCarty said that the Democratic Party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present.

McCarty said that the Democratic Party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present.

McCarty said that the Democratic Party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present. He said that the party is not a party of the future, but a party of the present.

First Maryland Woman to Run For Congress Reform Leader

Mrs. Parkhurst, Berwyn, Asks Democratic Nomination. Statement by National Committeeman Jackson Lauds Senator's Loyalty. Special Dispatch to The Star. BALTIMORE, July 8.—As forecast in The Star when opposition to the renomination of Francis first Senator Joseph Iverson was developed, William P. Jackson, republican national committeeman for Maryland and leader of the party on the eastern shore, last night in a statement endorsed the senator's candidacy and at the same time took occasion to praise the senator's loyalty to the party and the state.

The statement from Mr. Jackson had been awaited with considerable interest by the republicans, both inside and outside of the organization, and in the opinion of those on the eastern shore the effect of putting the quietus on the republican party by Col. John D. Markey of Frederick led to an opposition candidate into the field.

In his statement Mr. Jackson declared that his one thought was to support the senator in his bid for re-election. He pronounced as untrue the charge that the senator had made against the republican party, and he stated that he had no objection to the senator's nomination. He stated that he had no objection to the senator's nomination. He stated that he had no objection to the senator's nomination.

Under our primary law the duty of making nominations clearly rests upon the voters of each party. He said that the duty of the party organization is to bend its energies toward the election of those nominated. He said that the duty of the party organization is to bend its energies toward the election of those nominated. He said that the duty of the party organization is to bend its energies toward the election of those nominated.

For Domestic Training. "My idea is that girls should study domestic economy, and that those who are interested in the subject should take up stenography, typewriting and clerical work or other occupations which will give them a feeling that in the assurance that they can give up paid employment on the outside when the time comes to get married, and be compensated by law for their duties as a mother."

Generally, a second nomination is made in the State. Some gentlemen of our party, whose opinion is endorsed by the President at the Washington conference, believe that the rule should not be followed this year. They say that Senator France has not correctly interpreted the republican policy in the Senate. They believe that his opposition to the treaties negotiated by the President at the Washington conference is a mistake.

The advocates of the renomination of the senate say in reply that he has not acted outside the home approved in the party platform and that only in those cases where the platform has been violated should a candidate be considered. He said that the duty of the party organization is to bend its energies toward the election of those nominated.

On the democratic side the senatorial situation is still badly muddled. Gov. Ritchie has let it be known he is not a candidate for re-election. He said that the duty of the party organization is to bend its energies toward the election of those nominated. He said that the duty of the party organization is to bend its energies toward the election of those nominated.

On the democratic side the senatorial situation is still badly muddled. Gov. Ritchie has let it be known he is not a candidate for re-election. He said that the duty of the party organization is to bend its energies toward the election of those nominated. He said that the duty of the party organization is to bend its energies toward the election of those nominated.

On the democratic side the senatorial situation is still badly muddled. Gov. Ritchie has let it be known he is not a candidate for re-election. He said that the duty of the party organization is to bend its energies toward the election of those nominated. He said that the duty of the party organization is to bend its energies toward the election of those nominated.

On the democratic side the senatorial situation is still badly muddled. Gov. Ritchie has let it be known he is not a candidate for re-election. He said that the duty of the party organization is to bend its energies toward the election of those nominated. He said that the duty of the party organization is to bend its energies toward the election of those nominated.

On the democratic side the senatorial situation is still badly muddled. Gov. Ritchie has let it be known he is not a candidate for re-election. He said that the duty of the party organization is to bend its energies toward the election of those nominated. He said that the duty of the party organization is to bend its energies toward the election of those nominated.

On the democratic side the senatorial situation is still badly muddled. Gov. Ritchie has let it be known he is not a candidate for re-election. He said that the duty of the party organization is to bend its energies toward the election of those nominated. He said that the duty of the party organization is to bend its energies toward the election of those nominated.

Nationals Capture Base as Irregulars Dash to Safety in Hills. Rebels Avoid Clash.

DUBLIN, July 8.—The force of irregulars met the advance of the national troops and the menace of the fighting before the capital is further removed. The base of the irregulars at Blessington, from which they were dispatching bands throughout the countryside, was captured by national forces early today, and the main body of the irregulars is on the run in the Wicklow hills. The insurgents withdrew from Blessington without resistance, and the occupation of the village entailed no casualties on either side. The irregulars are estimated to be a considerable number. On Sunday last a force of five hundred of them took possession of a strong outpost, but it is now evident that a stand there formed no part of their policy.

Rebels Avoid Clash. The national advanced the garland gradually, moving away, leaving destruction and chaos behind. They had established their headquarters in the hills, and the rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills.

The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills.

The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills.

The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills.

The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills.

The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills.

The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills.

The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills.

The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills.

The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills.

The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills.

The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills. The rebels were in the hills.

CULBERSON'S RETURN TO SENATE NO DOUBT

Special Dispatch to The Star. AUSTIN, Tex., July 8.—The Texas political campaign in the legislature for Senator Charles A. Culbertson's seat at Washington has taken unexpected slant. It is believed that the party which has probably brought two of the heretofore unimportant candidates to the front in the second democratic primary, which will be held August 26.

Former Governor James E. Ferguson may be the vote going to the party which has probably brought two of the heretofore unimportant candidates to the front in the second democratic primary, which will be held August 26.

Former Governor James E. Ferguson may be the vote going to the party which has probably brought two of the heretofore unimportant candidates to the front in the second democratic primary, which will be held August 26.

Former Governor James E. Ferguson may be the vote going to the party which has probably brought two of the heretofore unimportant candidates to the front in the second democratic primary, which will be held August 26.

Former Governor James E. Ferguson may be the vote going to the party which has probably brought two of the heretofore unimportant candidates to the front in the second democratic primary, which will be held August 26.

Former Governor James E. Ferguson may be the vote going to the party which has probably brought two of the heretofore unimportant candidates to the front in the second democratic primary, which will be held August 26.

OHIO PROGRESSIVES MAKING POOR RACE

Fess Seems Assured of Republican Senatorial Nomination. Special Dispatch to The Star. COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 8.—There are no indications whatever that a trend of progressive republican forces has set in, in the pending primary campaign, toward Representative C. L. Knight of Akron, who is the progressive member of the legislature and his attacks on the administration program, might be regarded as the candidate around whom such sentiment would gather. Mr. Knight has maintained an organization office in his home city for many weeks, and now has general state headquarters here. Because of his unusual method of doing campaign work, his is by far the most spectacular candidate in the field. It is questionable whether any publicity would be given to his candidacy.

Republicans, even those of progressive bent, are naturally asking how one can attack the republican administration and at the same time aspire for a seat in Congress in the person of Mrs. Virginia Peters Parkhurst of Berwyn, who announced her intention of entering the democratic primary. Mrs. Parkhurst declared that her fight is against "corruption, greed and wrongs."

Sydney E. Mudd, republican, of Lucas county, is the present representative of the fifth district. Prince Georges county also brought another candidate, Arthur D. Lentz, but his friends in J. Enos Ray, a member of the state tax commission, and Judge C. A. Woodman, who resigned from the bench to make the race for the nomination. Some of the labor organizations of the members there are against Representative Woods, but the rural sections, are supporting the congressman.

Mrs. Parkhurst, Berwyn, Asks Democratic Nomination. Statement by National Committeeman Jackson Lauds Senator's Loyalty. Special Dispatch to The Star. BALTIMORE, July 8.—As forecast in The Star when opposition to the renomination of Francis first Senator Joseph Iverson was developed, William P. Jackson, republican national committeeman for Maryland and leader of the party on the eastern shore, last night in a statement endorsed the senator's candidacy and at the same time took occasion to praise the senator's loyalty to the party and the state.

The statement from Mr. Jackson had been awaited with considerable interest by the republicans, both inside and outside of the organization, and in the opinion of those on the eastern shore the effect of putting the quietus on the republican party by Col. John D. Markey of Frederick led to an opposition candidate into the field.

In his statement Mr. Jackson declared that his one thought was to support the senator in his bid for re-election. He pronounced as untrue the charge that the senator had made against the republican party, and he stated that he had no objection to the senator's nomination. He stated that he had no objection to the senator's nomination.

JITNEY LAW WITHHELD BY COURT INJUNCTION

Special Dispatch to The Star. RICHMOND, Va., July 8.—Judge Sims of the supreme court of appeals has issued an injunction restraining the city of Richmond from enforcing the provisions of the jitney ordinance recently enacted by the city. The ordinance prescribes routes, fares, hours, demands high bond and other conditions in the regulation of the operation of jitneys heretofore in operation. Enforcement of the ordinance will be held in abeyance until the supreme court at the September term. The injunction is unconstitutional.

Assyrians Intercepted on Way to United States From Cuba. Key West, Fla., July 8.—Immigration officials here today reported the capture of twelve Assyrians smuggled into the country from Cuba in violation of the immigration law and landed at Spanish Harbor, near here, in a small boat. The men were brought to Key West and were deported.

Assyrians Intercepted on Way to United States From Cuba. Key West, Fla., July 8.—Immigration officials here today reported the capture of twelve Assyrians smuggled into the country from Cuba in violation of the immigration law and landed at Spanish Harbor, near here, in a small boat. The men were brought to Key West and were deported.

Assyrians Intercepted on Way to United States From Cuba. Key West, Fla., July 8.—Immigration officials here today reported the capture of twelve Assyrians smuggled into the country from Cuba in violation of the immigration law and landed at Spanish Harbor, near here, in a small boat. The men were brought to Key West and were deported.

Assyrians Intercepted on Way to United States From Cuba. Key West, Fla., July 8.—Immigration officials here today reported the capture of twelve Assyrians smuggled into the country from Cuba in violation of the immigration law and landed at Spanish Harbor, near here, in a small boat. The men were brought to Key West and were deported.

Assyrians Intercepted on Way to United States From Cuba. Key West, Fla., July 8.—Immigration officials here today reported the capture of twelve Assyrians smuggled into the country from Cuba in violation of the immigration law and landed at Spanish Harbor, near here, in a small boat. The men were brought to Key West and were deported.

G. U. FOREIGN SERVICE STUDENTS GET POSTS

Three Go to Consular Points, Another Chief of New Paper Division. Important foreign posts under the Department of Commerce have just been filled by three students of the Georgetown University School of Foreign Service, while a fourth, Consul General Edgar L. Taylor, Richmond, is another student. Division.

Important foreign posts under the Department of Commerce have just been filled by three students of the Georgetown University School of Foreign Service, while a fourth, Consul General Edgar L. Taylor, Richmond, is another student. Division.

Important foreign posts under the Department of Commerce have just been filled by three students of the Georgetown University School of Foreign Service, while a fourth, Consul General Edgar L. Taylor, Richmond, is another student. Division.

Important foreign posts under the Department of Commerce have just been filled by three students of the Georgetown University School of Foreign Service, while a fourth, Consul General Edgar L. Taylor, Richmond, is another student. Division.

Important foreign posts under the Department of Commerce have just been filled by three students of the Georgetown University School of Foreign Service, while a fourth, Consul General Edgar L. Taylor, Richmond, is another student. Division.

Important foreign posts under the Department of Commerce have just been filled by three students of the Georgetown University School of Foreign Service, while a fourth, Consul General Edgar L. Taylor, Richmond, is another student. Division.

GOVERNOR OF MICHIGAN TAKES ACTION ON REPORTS MADE OF DETROIT'S DOWN-RIVER DISTRICT

By the Associated Press. DETROIT, Mich., July 8.—The down-river district of Detroit, termed by state and federal authorities as "one of the worst spots in the United States" is to be "cleansed up" under orders of Gov. Alex. J. Groves, following a conference here today with county, state and national officers. The governor directed that state police in sufficient numbers to clean things up be sent into the district. The district embraces the villages of Ecorse River, Lincoln Park and the city of Wyandotte, across the river from Detroit. A police patrolman was killed and the chief of police of Ecorse wounded, in a battle with a gang of hoodlums, according to local authorities.

By the Associated Press. DETROIT, Mich., July 8.—The down-river district of Detroit, termed by state and federal authorities as "one of the worst spots in the United States" is to be "cleansed up" under orders of Gov. Alex. J. Groves, following a conference here today with county, state and national officers. The governor directed that state police in sufficient numbers to clean things up be sent into the district. The district embraces the villages of Ecorse River, Lincoln Park and the city of Wyandotte, across the river from Detroit. A police patrolman was killed and the chief of police of Ecorse wounded, in a battle with a gang of hoodlums, according to local authorities.

By the Associated Press. DETROIT, Mich., July 8.—The down-river district of Detroit, termed by state and federal authorities as "one of the worst spots in the United States" is to be "cleansed up" under orders of Gov. Alex. J. Groves, following a conference here today with county, state and national officers. The governor directed that state police in sufficient numbers to clean things up be sent into the district. The district embraces the villages of Ecorse River, Lincoln Park and the city of Wyandotte, across the river from Detroit. A police patrolman was killed and the chief of police of Ecorse wounded, in a battle with a gang of hoodlums, according to local authorities.

By the Associated Press. DETROIT, Mich., July 8.—The down-river district of Detroit, termed by state and federal authorities as "one of the worst spots in the United States" is to be "cleansed up" under orders of Gov. Alex. J. Groves, following a conference here today with county, state and national officers. The governor directed that state police in sufficient numbers to clean things up be sent into the district. The district embraces the villages of Ecorse River, Lincoln Park and the city of Wyandotte, across the river from Detroit. A police patrolman was killed and the chief of police of Ecorse wounded, in a battle with a gang of hoodlums, according to local authorities.

By the Associated Press. DETROIT, Mich., July 8.—The down-river district of Detroit, termed by state and federal authorities as "one of the worst spots in the United States" is to be "cleansed up" under orders of Gov. Alex. J. Groves, following a conference here today with county, state and national officers. The governor directed that state police in sufficient numbers to clean things up be sent into the district. The district embraces the villages of Ecorse River, Lincoln Park and the city of Wyandotte, across the river from Detroit. A police patrolman was killed and the chief of police of Ecorse wounded, in a battle with a gang of hoodlums, according to local authorities.

By the Associated Press. DETROIT, Mich., July 8.—The down-river district of Detroit, termed by state and federal authorities as "one of the worst spots in the United States" is to be "cleansed up" under orders of Gov. Alex. J. Groves, following a conference here today with county, state and national officers. The governor directed that state police in sufficient numbers to clean things up be sent into the district. The district embraces the villages of Ecorse River, Lincoln Park and the city of Wyandotte, across the river from Detroit. A police patrolman was killed and the chief of police of Ecorse wounded, in a battle with a gang of hoodlums, according to local authorities.