OCTOGENARIAN GIOLITTI AGAIN RULING ITALY

BY EDGAR ANSEL MOWBRER. By Cable to The Star and Chicago Daily News. Copyright, 1922. ROME, August 3.—The octogenarian, Giovanni Giolitti, is again the dictator of the Italian political life. Not even the fascist, with whom he seems closely connected, will defy his orders. Giolitti's uncanny skill in parliamentary tactics and his foresight in judging the parliamentary situation have forced his adversaries to accept the new ministry.

LEAD FISH IS FEATURE OF NIGHT FLYING TESTS

Postal Trip Through Dark Skies Assured When Bolling Field Experiments Completed.

Generally speaking, all that remains to make night flying in the Post Office Department's air mail service possible is to lead a lead fish on the end of a 300-foot copper wire and let it float in the breeze as the airplane whisks through the inky darkness.

SPEECH CLINIC IS FREE.
