MRS. GEORGE HAMILTON, Jr.
 An autumn bride, who as Miss Marion Hamilton, was married at her home in Omaha, Neb., in the autumn and is now making her home in Washington.

Children's Benefit Ball To Be Held December 26

The annual benefit ball for the Children's Country Home, to be given in the saloon des nations of the Washington Hotel the night of December 26, shows clearly the interest that Washington society feels in the home, and Mrs. James W. Wadsworth, jr., president, has largely augmented the list of box holders already published with names of national importance. Besides the stated members of official and resident society who are annual guests, there will be present to further enliven the evening many of the students home for the Christmas holidays.

Secretary Melion was among the first to have a box set aside for him, and it is understood he will have a number of prominent guests for the evening. Others who have reserved boxes include Mrs. Edward B. Melion, Mrs. Marshall Field, Mrs. John R. Williams and Mrs. Joseph Lester.

American Legion Post To Entertain "Buddies"

Plans have been prepared by the entertainment committee of George Washington Post, No. 1, of the American Legion to furnish members of other posts, visiting members of other posts, the department officers, the ladies' auxiliary units and several wounded "buddies" from Walter Reed General Hospital and other hospitals a most delightful evening at its second social evening of the season, Wednesday, December 20 at 8:30 o'clock, in its new building, 1828 Eye street northwest, when members or guests may indulge in dancing, gossip, or future events, cards and "chow" and in the main forget the cares and worries of the present.

Groups for Child Welfare Pageant Considered

At the meeting yesterday at Miss Gwynn's home to arrange the groups for the pageant for the Child Welfare Society, arranged by Mrs. Walter Tuckerman, there were present Mrs. Philip Handley, chairman of the program committee; Mrs. Henry Breckenridge, chairman of printing; Mrs. Sylvanus Stokes, who is providing some fascinating costumes for the pageant; Mrs. William Reburn, chairman of the junior ticket committee; Mrs. George McNamee, who has promised also to design some costumes; Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., and Miss Evelyn Wadsworth, Miss Gladys Chapman Smith, Miss Anna Montgomery, Miss Mary Montgomery, Miss Patricia Adams, Miss Frances Hampton, Miss Caroline Nash, Miss Trumbull, Princess Bertha Cantacuzene and Miss Mack Gwynn. All of these will have prominent parts in the pageant, together with nearly a hundred prominent married women, debutantes and diplomats.

CHEVY CHASE.

Mrs. George G. Noble-Jones of Hesketh street returned Tuesday from Rome, Italy, where she has been visiting relatives for several months. She stopped in Paris for several weeks before sailing for home.

The Young People's Society of All Saints' Episcopal Church will give a dance on Thursday evening, December 21, at 9 o'clock, at the Chevy Chase Library.

Mrs. Robert R. Mahoney of Ingotar street repeated the program which she gave several weeks ago at a musical on Friday evening for the benefit of the Episcopal mission at Barcroft, Va.

Following a custom long prevalent in continental Europe, the children of Chevy Chase and of Montgomery county have formed a band of strolling minstrels to go from house to house on Christmas eve and sing Christmas carols, the fund thus raised to be used for the benefit of the Social Service League of Montgomery county. A lighted candle will be placed in the window of homes wishing to welcome the young musicians, the stroll being about near the hour of 7 o'clock.

The Woman's Club of Chevy Chase will meet Wednesday, December 20, at 1 o'clock p.m. in the Maryland schoolhouse. Luncheon will be served. The literary and social sessions will give a delightfully arranged Christmas program. It is requested that donations for the Social Service League of Montgomery county be delivered at this meeting for distribution.
