

The Sunday Star.

WASHINGTON, D. C., DECEMBER 31, 1922.

NEAR EAST RELIEF'S
Christmas
FOOD SHIP
FOR AMERICA'S ORPHAN WARDS
IN THE NEAR EAST

A Christmas gift for the Irish, when the British troops left Dublin for home. They left the Irish Free State army and constabulary in charge.

Underwood & Underwood

Consecration of $2,000,000 Christmas gift of food and clothing for near east refugees. The photograph shows Bishop Herbert Shipman aboard the S. S. Sabatowan just before the vessel left the Brooklyn pier. Money for the relief expedition was donated all over the United States.

Underwood & Underwood

Recalling other days. German square-rigger, interned in a Chilean port during the war, recently acquired by moving picture interests in this country. The ship is now "movie" property.

Wide World Photo.

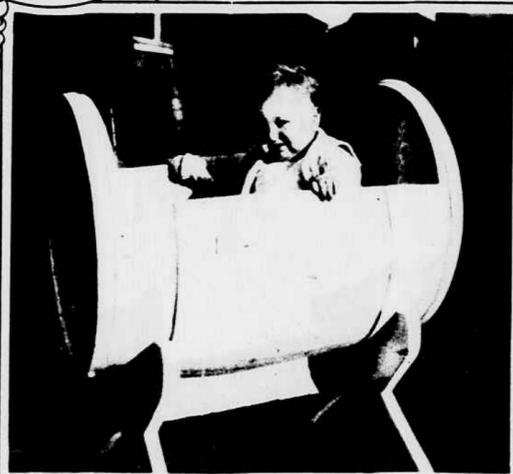

Allies help Greek refugees escape from Constantinople. The refugees are being taken on British and American ships in the harbor.

International

New governor general of Irish Free State, Tim Healy, K. C., submits to the movie man. Photo shows him chatting with a national army warrant officer.

Underwood & Underwood

Baby's boudoir is a barrel. This type berth was recently introduced in a children's hospital at Oakland, Calif.

Underwood & Underwood

Fair co-ed rifle team of Northwestern University uses skates in outdoor gallery, the idea being to combine two outdoor sports.

Wide World Photo.