

THREE WAYS TO COOK CHICKEN.

Chicken Pie—Cut up chicken; place in hot water enough to cover, as it boils away add more, so as to have enough for the pie and for plenty of gravy to serve with it, and boil until tender. Line the sides of a pan with a rich biscuit dough a quarter of an inch thick, then fill with the chicken and a thick gravy well seasoned with salt, pepper, and butter. Lay a few pieces of bacon in. Cover with a crust and bake in a moderate oven one hour.

Chicken En Casserole—Wipe a four-and-one-half pound tender fowl and cut in pieces for serving. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, spread generously with butter and place en casserole. Add one cupful of boiling water, put on cover and bake until chicken is tender; then add one cupful of cream, two cupfuls of fresh mushrooms cut in pieces, and one-half cupful of cooked peas. Again cover, and cook 15 minutes. Thicken sauce with one tablespoon of flour diluted with cold water to pour easily.

Chicken Mousse—The day before the mousse is to be served, cook one cupful of rich chicken stock with the beaten yolks of 2 eggs one minute; season to taste with salt and pepper and, if the flavor is liked, a little celery-salt; add one cupful of the pounded white meat of cold boiled chicken, one tablespoonful of gelatin dissolved in a little cold water. Stir all together well, then press through a sieve. Add a cupful of whipped cream and the dry whipped whites of three eggs. Beat well with an egg beater until nearly cold then turn into a wetted mold and stand on ice until firm.

MARY ANDERSON

How long ago did Mary Anderson retire from the stage? Well, she has a boy of 16 and confesses to 52 years herself, so it's a long time. But the public has never lost its interest in the beautiful Kentucky girl who made Shakespeare's women live again and who, at the height of her fame, got married and settled down to housekeeping in a quaint English village not far from Stratford-on-Avon.

She returns to New York to see "The Garden of Allah" started on the stage, for she collaborated with Robert Hichens in dramatizing the novel. She says she has never for a moment regretted her retirement from public life.

Perhaps, not Mary, but the rest of us have!

A natty young fellow named Bert
Was a regular devil to flirt;
But when hit in the eye,
He exclaimed: "Gracious, My
What a deucedly stunning young skirt!"
