

DRESSES IN HUSBAND'S CLOTHES TO WORK AS FARM HAND FOR HER BABIES

Mrs. Anna Godfrey.

Mrs. Anna Godfrey, 38 years old, wife of a bed-ridden husband, and mother of four children, dressed in her husband's clothes, cut her hair, and walked ten miles to get work as a farmhand.

Eight hours after she left her alley-cottage home, she was found moaning and exhausted on a bench in fashionable Oak Park.

Judge J. R. Caverly, before whom she was brought for masquerading in male attire, discharged her. "You are a brave woman," he said, "and deserve praise rather than punishment for your act."

—o—o—
If the famine in India becomes really severe, Mr. Carnegie will no doubt hustle a library off to the starving natives.