

The Last Straw.

An old woman entered a savings bank the other day and walked up to the desk.

"Do you want to withdraw or deposit?" asked the clerk.

"Naw Oi doant. Oi wants to put some in," was the reply.

The clerk pushed up the book for her signature, and said: "Sign on this line, please."

"Above it or below it?"

"Me whole name?"

"Yes."

"Before Oi was married?"

"No, just as it is now."

"Oi can't write."—Cambridge Tribune.

of Gen. W. H. H. Beadle, whose foresight provided the state with a school fund of $200,000,000. And the General was there to see it. It is rare that such a tribute is paid to a living man.

Roosevelt says positively: "I will not be a candidate for the Republican nomination in 1912." And Gifford Pinchot, next friend, says: "I am for Bob La Follette." So is Teddy, or we're no Sherlock Holmes at deducing a conclusion from a given set of facts.

Bernard Shaw says there are few real Irishmen in the United States. "Most of 'em are bogus," he says, but he doesn't dare come over here and tell them so.
