

THIS COW EARNS MORE THAN THE AVERAGE MAN—$105.32 A MONTH

Zell Zobeda earned $105.32 in December, which was, on the whole, but an average month for her. Her board cost $12, leaving a net profit of $93.32, which beats the average man's earnings and profits considerable.

Zell Zobeda is a cow, and a mighty good cow. She lives at Ames, Iowa. Zell is a Holstein-Friesian, seven years old; not one of those long-pedigree animals, just an ordinary well bred and well cared for cow.

When Zell was a heifer, the Iowa state college bought her and trained her up the way good cows should go. Result: 2,106.4 pounds of milk in a month, 85.89 pounds of butter-fat, 107 pounds of 80 per cent butter. Zell could keep a family on her earnings, and a few more like her would make a farmer weary carrying the money to the bank.

There was a man and he struck a match

On the wall in a powder mill.
And now the mill and the match
he struck

And the man are very still.

A cannon's report has been heard at a distance of 146 miles. But that wasn't our own Joe Cannon. When he made a report to the house the whole United States heard it.
