

THIS MAN KEEPS A LOT OF 'EM FIGURING!

Here's a picture of a very promising presidential candidate, only the artist has left out all the lines. You can fill them in easily, however, with a pencil. Start at the "1" dot, drawing a straight line to the "2" dot, then another straight line to the "3" dot and so on by consecutive numbers till you have touched all the dots.

Remember to draw straight lines from dot to dot, regardless of other lines you may cross.

If a man was built so he could pat himself on the back his hands would look as if they had been run through a corn sheller.
