

reception in Nebraska such as that state has tendered no other man save William Jennings Bryan.

Presidential preference primaries for District of Columbia unanimously approved by house district committee.

It's coming. By 1916 people of every state in union will be in position to say just whom they want for presidential candidates and standard bearers.

And then some of those gentlemen who this year can hear "The call of the people" and get away with it, will get the surprise of their lives.

"The only way the Democratic nomination for president is likely to come my way is through deadlock."—Governor Marshall of Indiana, who is far too busy to go out and hunt up delegates.

Champ Clark "indignantly" denies that he ever asked Governor Foss of Massachusetts to take second place with him on the Democratic ticket this fall.

Now where do you think Governor Foss ever got the idea that Champ had done so?

"To attempt to review the public service which Shelby M. Cullum has rendered would be to call the roll of the achievements of the Republican party."—Federal District Attorney Wilkerson, paying for his job by stumping for Uncle Shelby.

Perhaps Wilkerson is correct, but even so, it is possible that it would not take long to review Uncle Shelby's public service. Some of the "achievements" of the G.

O. P. in late years, are things better not talked of.

Not referring to the Payne-Alldrich tariff bill at all, you know.

"You promised to go through with me, Gifford, and I will not released you from your promise."

—Senator LaFollette, to the welching Gifford Pinchot.

And immediately thereafter Gifford, with the skill of an adept surgeon, released himself from his promise.

Dr. Isaac K. Funk, who died in N. Y., arranged secret code of signals with friend so the spirit of Funk may send back messages to this world.

Which again is one way of getting into the newspapers after you are dead.

One of the great questions of the present day is: Supposing, and it is some supposing, Champ Clark should be the next president, would the annexation of Canada be the first thing Champ would champ about?

"His (Hearst's) particular pleasure has been to seek to destroy every man who speaks for the Democratic party."—Woodrow Wilson, at Jacksonville.

Suffering from an idea that one William Randolph Hearst alone should speak for the Democratic party, governor?

Henry Jacobs, 65, Washington, Pa., and his bride of a few hours, were saved from death in fire today by bride's stalwart son, John Meek.

Walter Brookins, who himself was long most reckless daredevil aviator in America, has organized
