

Porter, leader of the "Vigilantes," that he heard Porter threaten and curse Moore and Robbins, attorneys for I. W. W.

New York.—Dan Walsh, caught stealing ride on freight train, told judge he was going to get work. Judge released him, and paid his fare.

Washington.—Taft got season pass from Ban Johnson, president American League, today. President has been so busy digging his political grave, he hasn't had time to see one game this season.

Last season, one of the favorite press agent stunts of the Cubs, who are owned by "Brother Charlie," was having president drop around to a game whenever attendance was getting slack.

New York.—National Sporting club got writ restraining State Athletic Commission from revoking license. Going to put on show tonight.

Philadelphia.—Frank Levin, marine corps, helped load rifles on U. S. cruiser Prairie, which is going to Cuba. Frank's right leg probably will have to be amputated.

Fond du Lac, Wis.—Arling Parsons, 11 years old, played on railroad tracks. Funeral tomorrow.

New York.—"Gyp," mother of most of smoke eating fire dogs of N. Y. department, killed while answering call with own company.

Washington.—"Job, the long suffering, would have made a most excellent secretary of agriculture."—"Tama Jim" Wilson, the gentleman with whom we have been afflicted as secretary of agriculture for lo these many years.

He certainly could not make a worse one than "Tama Jim."

London.—General Wm. Booth, head of Salvation Army, had cataract operation performed on eye, in hope of thus haing sight restored.

Washington.—Bill introduced by Rep. Lenroot provides $1,000 fine every time Pullman porter makes up unoccupied upper berth and thus cuts off air supply in lower.

Pittsburgh.—Suspicion growing that ticket cage of Homestead nickolodeon is "love-witched. Three ticket sellers have eloped and married within one year.

Columbus, O.—Official count of Tuesday's election returns, now nearing completion, shows that Harmon and Wilson each got 21 districts.

Black River Falls, Wis.—Rumor that dam went out yesterday unfounded. River dangerously high; but dam holding.

Springfield, Ill.—Illinois State Historical Society re-elected Clarke E. Carr, of Galesburg, president.

Washington.—"Lafe" Young and Senator Kenyon have sent in expense accounts for Iowa campaigns. Young says he spent $3,451, Kenyon $1,966, and "all of it except $300 came out of my salary," he added.

Expense accounts of other senators all remind us—of the size of Lorimer's and Ikey Stephenson's,