

WAS NOT GUILTY IN U. S.

Louis Sherman, 47 years old, a tailor living at 923 South Paulina street, was taken before Judge Scully today charged with bigamy.

The complaint was made by Moses Sherman, 17 years old, who claims the older man as his son.

The boy said that his mother's maiden name was Rachel Cohen, and that Louis Sherman had married her at Molive, Russia, Jan. 1, 1888.

The elder Sherman admitted having lived with Rachel Cohen, and having children by her, but denied he ever had been married to her, or that Moses Sherman was his son.

He said that when he decided to emigrate from Russia to the United States, he asked Rachel Cohen to marry him, and she refused.

He then came to this country alone, he said, and on July 25, 1911, met and married Esther Kalattek at Brooklyn, N. Y.

Judge Scully discharged the elder Sherman, saying that any crime that had been committed had been committed in Russia, and therefore outside his jurisdiction.

* Rachel Cohen came to Chicago with the boy, Moses Sherman. They are both friendless and helpless in a strange country.

Seattle, Wash.—Dora Keen, who led party up to summit of Mt. Blackburn, return here today. Will go east in few days.

DANGER IS NOT OVER

The street railway officials and Mayor Harrison and his aides have been busy since yesterday noon giving out reports that all danger of a street car strike is now over.

All danger of a street car strike is not yet over.

The wage question will come up at a joint conference meeting tomorrow. Until that meeting is over, and the street railway presidents have said whether or not they are going to give the men a wage upon which they and their families can live decently, there still is danger of a strike.

PLAYING SAFE.

Grown old in the service of his master and mistress, James was a privileged retainer.

He was waiting on table one day when a guest asked him for a fish fork. Strangely enough, the request was ignored.

Then the hostess noticed the episode and remarked in a most peremptory manner:

"James, Mrs. Jones hasn't a fish fork. Get her once at once!"

"Madam," came the emphatic reply, "last time Mrs. Jones dined here we lost a fish fork."

A deathbed repentance is of no earthly use.

WEATHER FORECAST

Fair tonight and Saturday for Chicago and vicinity; moderate temperature; light to moderate variable winds.
