

BASEBALL DOPE HOW THEY STAND

Chicago Series.

	W.	L.	Tied.	Pct.
Cubs .....	3	2	2	.600
White Sox.....	2	3	2	.400

World Series (Final).

Boston .....	4	3	1	.571
New York.....	3	4	1	.429

St. Louis Series (Final).

Cardinals .....	4	3	1	.571
Browns .....	3	4	1	.429

Callahan's men refused to relieve the suspense and lose.

Doc White had hard going and Christy Mathewson.

retired in the third. Joe Benz pitched the rest of the game and held Cubs hitless until ninth. Two hits in this frame gave Cubs a start, but a double killing stopped them with one run.

Benz pulled best stunt of the series in sixth. He walked Zimmerman, the fourth ball being a wild pitch that sent Heinie to second. Another wild pitch scored Zim from Rath's burg.

Sox busted everything that Reulbach, Cheney and Smith had to offer. Their rally in the eighth was a thriller. Four hits counted four runs. Harry Lord's single in this round put the Sox one ahead.

Johnson was the only Hose who went through the game without a hit.

Heinie Zim let in one Sox run when he tried to knock the concrete stand over with a heave over Saier's Bermuda.

Wilbur Good got his name in the box scores by pinching for Downs in the ninth and singling. Downs was playing second in place of Evers, on the sick list.

Wilbur celebrated after the game by marrying Miss Grundy Lott. This is a solemn occasion, and we refuse to pull any wheezes.

The winning players will have $21,038 to divide. The losers $14,025.

Great in victory in former years, Christy Mathewson never pitched a better game than yesterday, when he lost a world's series. Bad errors of omission and commission on the part of his backing tossed the game away for the grand old heaver.

"I'm the guy that spread the gloom from Harlem to the Bronx,

"I'm the guy who made New Yorkers cry, 'We're done!'

I'm the guy who stood the Giants on their conks;

"I'm the guy," howled Olaf Henriksen.

The critics, roasting Fred Snodgrass for his $1,200 error,