THE BECKER CASE

New York, Oct. 26.—The execution of Police Lieut. Charles Becker probably will be set for the second week in December by Justice Goff.

Long before that time, Becker's attorneys will have appealed to the Appellate court, and the filing of that appeal will act as a stay of execution.

It is quite likely that the Becker case will hang in the air for years.

The only similar case in New York history is the Molineux one. Molineux was convicted before Justice Goff, then recorder.

The case was appealed. The Appellate court did not act on the
