

intended sacrifice. Saier grabbed up the ball and made a cheesy throw to third, all hands being safe. Then the stuff was off. This combination of punk mechanics and brains was bad enough, but the real weird entertainment was provided in the Cub ninth, when they apparently had Benton on the run.

Mitchell singled and Corriden walked for Bridwell. Bresnahan flied out. Archer singled to deep short for Smith and Mitchell overran third. Tinker had blocked the ball with one hand and shot it to Dodge who stabbed Mike before he could scramble back to the bag. Third-base coaching was responsible for this tragedy. Leach whiffed the side out.

None of the expected trades or sales of Cub pitchers came off, but something is on the fire. Lefty Lefield is sure to go. Richie has a slim chance of sticking with the team. Their only duty now is waving towels in the heated faces of the pitchers and Roger Bresnahan, who is fast acquiring a perfect "32" under the broiling sun.

Heat knocked Charley Smith out yesterday. He finished the game, but collapsed in the clubhouse. He was revived after an hour's work by a physician and was able to go to the hotel. Smith will be all right in a day or two.

They can't beat Walter Johnson all the time. He took revenge on the Athletics in the first game, blanking them with three hits and fanning six. Both of Washington's runs off Brown were secured through the base stealing of Moeller and Milan. Hughes, Gallia and Harper were soaked by the Macks in the second fray. Schang smashing a homer and two singles. Baker doubled and singled. Washington drove Houck from the box, but Bush stopped the mauling.

Chance lost two more to Boston, four of his pitchers receiving a grand lacing. The Red Sox rapped 23 hits in the two engagements. Engle and Lewis each getting four. Leonard and Bedient had no trouble with the Yanks.

Stovall's Browns only got seven hits off Hall and Dauss of Detroit, but every bingle counted in the scoring and were bunched with passes. Weilman puzzled all the Tigers but Gafnor, who pestled three hits.

Stack held Philadelphia to three hits, the Dodgers glomming 18, including eight doubles, off Mayer and Brennan. Smith got two doubles and two singles, Wheat two doubles and a single and Daubert two singles and one double. The defeat put the Phils only a game and a half ahead of the Giants for the lead in the National League race.

James of Boston pitched just as good ball as Tesreau did for the Giants, but two wild throws behind two singles, gave the Giants the game. Maranville and McDonald of the Braves each got two hits.

Miller Huggins has found a manager who can use more pitchers in a game than he can. Fred Clarke pitted four heaters against three for the Cards and the Pirates won in 12 innings. Kommers, Clarke's new outfielder, continued to whale the ball, clouting three singles. Jack Miller swatted two triples and one single.

Claude Derrick has been sold to the Athletics by the Yanks. Derrick was with the Macks before he went to New York. He will be carried as utility infielder.

First appearance of the jinx among the Phillies. Manager Charley Dooin will be out of the game a month with a busted index finger on his right hand. The accident occurred in the second game against Brooklyn Thursday.

Precautions were taken by officials handling the athletic games which start at Grant Park today to prevent any serious illness to athletes because of the heat. A score of trainers and physicians were on the ground ready to assist any runner who might be overcome. The mar-
