

Rumhauser for judge of Superior Court; Little Nemo for county clerk; Skinney Shaner for chief of police, and Jennie, of the several mistakes, for supt. of schools. Harry Thaw and Simon O'Donnell may even be urged to take some sort of offices. Just where the Barrett brothers will be placed has not been determined.

For it is true that the Hearst army contemplates the invasion of Chicago and it is also true that Hearst wants to forget the political game for awhile. It has been a source of too many of his nervous headaches.

Hearst has been in Chicago conferring with Harrison M. Parker over various ways to obtain more advertising. They have personally superintended the campaign.

One of the strong signs of Andy's downfall has been the engaging of a new city editor to take the place on the Examiner formerly occupied by his brother Fred, who is now on a "vacation." But Andy still insists he is a power.

Many reasons have been ascribed for the rumored downfall of Lawrence. His drop as a politician has undoubtedly been caused by his "grab-it-all" methods. When Mayor Harrison was elected mayor, Lawrence had Campbell appointed head of the civil service, Charley Fitzmorris appointed the mayor's secretary, Bill Stuart appointed chief clerk of the election board. These men were directly from the Hearst service. In addition he filled up the majority of the other fat jobs.

His first fall from power came when State's Attorney Hoyne refused to turn over his entire list of appointees to him.

And then while Andy was striving to retain his wobbly throne came the worse crash of all. It was when the Butts legislative committee came here to investigate the voting machine deal. Lawrence immediately left for California.

The deposing of Lawrence at this time also robs him of enjoying the fruits of the police reorganization plan which he fought for so long. But Andy still has hopes.

Curtain.

CUT INTO JOHN D.'S DOUGH FOR $2,000—ARRESTED

New York, Oct. 25.—Mrs. James V. Rutherford was arrested at Atlantic Highlands, N. J., charged with cutting in on one of John D. Rockefeller's sources of income to the tune of $2,000.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Rutherford was employed in the coupon department of the Southern Pacific as Miss Eveline Porriette. On Sept. 20, Rockefeller sent in 100 "convertible fours" coupons, valued at $20 each for redemption.

When the coupons reached Miss Porriette, she discovered that the punch used in cancelling such paper had not stamped them. They were still good for $2,000 and Miss Porriette placed them in a New Jersey bank.

She was released on bail, and is understood to have returned $1,600 of the money she obtained.

WOMEN'S TRADE UNION LEAGUE HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The annual Hallowe'en dancing party of the Women's Trade Union League will be given at the LaSalle Hotel on Saturday evening, November 1, and, as the affair is to be informal, with some fancy dancing, it is predicted that it will be the usual big success.

Miss Jane Adams and Mrs. Raymond Robins are among the list of hostesses which includes women prominently connected with the trade union movement.

Tickets are sold at fifty cents each, and may be obtained at the office of the League, 166 West Washington street.

Telephone operators in Egypt are required to speak English, French, Italian, Greek and Arabic.
