BECKER CASE WITH JURY TODAY

New York, May 22.—Whether Charles Becker will go to the electric chair for the murder of Gambler Herman Rosenthal or will be freed "with the apologies of the community," as his counsel put it, probably will be decided before night by the verdict of the jury which for seventeen days has heard evidence and argument in the famous case.

Four men, the gunmen who slew, have died for the murder of Rosenthal. Becker, who the state says plotted and forced the crime, is in the shadow of the chair and it is possible that a fifth life may be exacted, as Dis't Att'y Whitman in summing up intimated his intention to try Jacob Relch, alias Jack Sullivan, as a principal in the murder, if Becker is convicted.

August Jones, 1620 Vine st., seriously injured when street car collided with wagon.

ALL ALONE

By Jim Manee.

When the moon is out
And it's clear as day,
When you've gone to the park
To pass the time away;
When the waves wash high
And the water's rough,
If you haven't got a girl
By gosh, that's tough.

P. S.—"You poor boob, hold your own hands."
