WHAT DOES INSULL PAY FOR COAL?

THE LAWSON CASE

Comment in Chicago on life sentence of John R. Lawson in Colorado: Frank P. Walsh, chairman U. S. industrial com'n: "Lawson's crime was defiance of the Rockefellers. He was eight miles from the scene at the time of the murder for which he is sentenced. It is a mockery of justice, a threat to the republic."

Ed Nockels, sec'y Chicago Federation of Labor: "A Rockefeller lawyer especially appointed to try strike cases as a judge, did the dirty work. American justice—bah!"

John C. Kennedy, alderman of 27th ward: "This is the stuff that breeds violence. It breaks the faith of men in peaceful methods."

W. D. Haywood, sec'y I. W. W.: "United Mine Workers ought to call a nation-wide general strike. No coal to the United States till the prison doors open for Lawson."

Electricity Cost Boosted by Big Coal Bill, Says

J. B. Hogarth

See Chicago by night. Everywhere electric signs reading: "Use Edison service." Electric pictures of women washing, ironing and cooking by electricity.

And always that name "Edison"—the magic name of one man in America everybody knows is not a crook, but an honest man.

Now comes J. B. Hogarth, a citizen of Chicago, with a petition today to state utilities commission. And Hogarth says:

The Commonwealth Edison Co. pays too much for coal. Its annual
