

BASEBALL—SPORTS OF ALL SORTS—BOXING

Eastern tennis stars did not fare very well in competition at the Panama-Pacific exposition with the California cracks. R. Norris Williams, national champion, the last of the Atlantic coast fellows left in the tournament, was downed by Clarence Griffin, California, 6-3, 5-7, 6-1. In semi-finals Maurice McLoughlin will meet J. Strachan and Griffin will meet William Johnstone. All are native sons. Strachan and Griffin were seen on the Onwentsia courts here a couple of seasons ago.

August Belmont's Stromboli won the Suburban handicap at Belmont park yesterday. Three horses went down in the stretch. Norse King had a leg broken and was afterward killed. Turner, the jockey on Stromboli, was blamed for crowding.

Ralph Cranan, former amateur lightweight champion of California, made an auspicious start in pro company by defeating Joe Azevedo in ten rounds at New York. The ex-amateur had a lead in eight rounds, one was even and the other belonged to Azevedo by a shade.

Frankie Gibbons, local 116-pounder, has deserted the amateur ranks and will fight Willie Findley in a private bout Saturday for side bet of $50.

Tom Conway has a 133-pound aspirant for lightweight honors in his fight stable that should make interesting battling for all comers, if the word of those who have seen the youngster work counts for anything. Friday Tommy will get a workout in a battle with his cousin, Jimmy Kilroy, the well-known North Side manager and promoter.

Following this bout, Conway is going campaigning for the best boys in Chicago. He is especially anxious to match young Tommy with Rabbit Hedlin, Joe Homeland or Willie Burk, and has $250 in real money to bet on his representative's chances. Conway can be reached at 525 Augusta st. or through this office.

Jack Fournier, White Sox first baseman, does not rate with some of the first sackers of the big leagues when it comes to defensive work, but none of them put more earnest determination and willingness to attempt anything in their endeavors than does the big Frenchman.

What Jack may lack in fitness he makes up for in his sincere efforts, and he is getting better at the bag each day. One play yesterday illustrated how hard the Frenchman is trying. To shoot open the Mack eighth Lapp hit a hot one over the first bag and it skidded though the mud like a well-meant triple.
