

CROCHET NEEDLES BUSY AGAIN; FANCY WORK IS WOMAN'S NEWEST OCCUPATION

BY CAROLINE COE

With the revival of our grandmothers' fashion in dress comes the vogue of our grandmothers' fashions in crocheted laces.

Some of the prettiest of the crocheted laces are made of coronation cord into loops, therefore care should be taken that the stitches be neither too loose nor too tight, for the beauty of the work will depend greatly on the accuracy with which the cord and stitches are arranged.

The foundation stitch can then be braided. This braid comes in three sizes as here illustrated.

The following stitches are used in The Day Book lessons single chain stitch (s. ch. a. or ch. a.); single crochet stitch (s. c. s.); double crochet stitch (d. c. s.) and picot stitch (p. s.)

Unlike the ordinary crochet the foundation of this lace consists in the twisting and crocheting of the coro-crocheted with evenness and freedom. With a little experience in twisting the coronation cord many serviceable and attractive laces and insertions can be made, which are both admirably adapted for the trimming of house linens as well as dresses and articles of wear.

When executing the cord lace or insertion the size of crochet hook and
