

There were many complaints from the players against playing yesterday, just as on Thursday. But the club owners must have a whack at the coin of the fans in tomorrow's game, as by playing each game scheduled the athletes are out of the melon cutting tonight. It will be the smallest sum of money the players have ever had to divide, and next season there may be some of them who will not care much whether there is a series or not.

So far as the result was concerned the first game of the world's series ran true to form. But the manner in which it was won was a surprise. Shore for the Red Sox easily out-pitched Alexander and the Phils copped through luck. Each of their five
