

TWO AMERICANS REPORTED SHOT DOWN BY VILLA

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 4.—Bodies of two American Mormon colonists reported shot down by Gen. Villa, were brought into Casas Grandes, Chihauhau, today.

Villa had impressed Americans and their teams into service at Casas Grandes several days ago to haul his ammunition when he began his march on Agua Prieta. When Americans reached Ojitos Pass, Sonora, they asked for their release from service.

Villa's reply was to shoot them down. A friend loaded their bodies on a wagon and brought them back across Chihauhau desert to their families. One identified as member of Taylor family.

Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 4.—Villa, guerrilla leader, had today replaced Villa, general who was once all powerful in Mexico.

Leaving behind just enough troops to keep a watchful eye on Carranzista garrison in Agua Prieta, Villa is leading his tattered main army eastward toward Naco, Sonora, preparatory to conducting irregular warfare in other sections where forces of recognized government are still weak. The west coast of Mexico was said to be his next objective.

ANOTHER SUGAR SHIP FIRE—$27,000 DAMAGE

New York, Nov. 4.—Fires, believed to be of incendiary origin, destroyed $25,000 worth of sugar and caused $2,000 damage to British tramp steamer Euterpe, which was loading in Erie Basin, Brooklyn. Sugar was consigned to Great Britain.

Since the outbreak of the war fires on sugar ships bound for allied ports have occurred almost daily. Government officials have been working on the cases, and it has been hinted that Robert Fay, one of the men in custody for alleged conspiracy to blow up munitions ships, has been linked with former fires.

MONEY MAKES THE LADIES LOVE HIM, BUT THERE'S NO CHANCE

South Norwalk, Conn., Nov. 4.—A few weeks ago Giles Gregory, 78, was in county poorhouse here, unloved and unwanted. Today it seems as though women from Maine to California and from Canada to Texas are clamoring to give Giles comfort in his old age. Giles inherited $45,000 a few days ago.

Miss Jessie Bell, 31 North Sanduszy st., Tiffin, O., declares in a letter that she "just loves old men." "I don't care what your looks are or how old you are—I can be sweet and tender," she wrote.

Mrs. Catherine Green, 636 Schiller st., Columbus, O., wrote: "Do you want company? Remember me in your will for I, too, am old and am nearly worn out supporting myself."

Wrote Molly Winkler, 1235 Hermitage st., Philadelphia: "May God make you wise in spending your money and make me your housekeeper." "I want none of 'em," said Giles.

POLICE BEAT MAN'S HANDS TO "SHAPELESS MASS"

"These dirty Russian Jews think they can run the town."

According to Ellen Gates Starr, co-founder with Jane Addams of Hull House, this was the remark of Officer 2,600 to her yesterday when she asked the reason for wholesale arrests and blood on the faces of strikers. No. 2,600 is Chas. Ticyu. The police stories are that they were "attacked by mobs." No policemen show marks of violence.

Miss Starr is joined by Mrs. Frances Crane Lilley, daughter of R. T. Crane, in statement that the hands of J. M. Levin of 1407 S. Morgan st. were "beaten to a shapeless mass" by police clubs. They saw his hands. His story is that he put his hands on top of his head as protection against police clubs.
