SKINNER COMES BACK TO TELL U. S. OF BRITISH TRADE

ROBERT P. SKINNER

Robert P. Skinner, the American consul general, who arrived in New York Oct. 31, has been summoned to Washington to give the state department a first-hand report on trade conditions in England and the methods used by Great Britain in diverting and holding up American commerce. He admitted that he had heard the report that he was persona non grata in England.

A SURE CURE

A correspondent suggests the following plan to keep from constantly losing your umbrella: "When you get on the train, first hang up your coat to remind you of your umbrella. Then your hat to remind you of your coat."

"Now the point is not to forget your hat. To remember your hat—oh, bother!"

Policemen of Berkeley, Cal., are to be required to attend the University of California. This will be the first college-bred police department in this country.
