

ate little coats to be worn with one-piece spring frocks.

Mme. Jayne of the Fashion Art League of America was the seeress of styles that gave this tip on the coatlet that will share popularity with the tailored suit next spring.

The Jayne model which will be launched at the Fashion League spring fashion show is made in black velvet, though doubtless the warmer shades of Bolling green, old blue and taupe will be used often in its development.

The straight lines that fall from shoulder to hip line swing gracefully out from the waist and an extra fullness is gained by wide plaits under the arm.

Six big jet buttons, set on in groups of three, are ornamental as well as useful. The costume illustrated is made of dull blue chiffon velvet with a banding of black velvet on the skirt which matches the coat and gives the appearance of a one-piece costume.

MOVIE GOSSIP

Sydney Ainsworth, Essanay star, is a billiard enthusiast.

Dorothy Gish, Griffith star, has left New York for California to visit her sister and mother.

De Wolf Hopper's baby son has made his debut in the movies, appearing in a scene with his famous father.

Henry McRae, director general at Universal City, plans to take a company of players to the Orient in the near future.

Ernest Maupain, Essanay actor, has started a class of jiu jitsu at the Chicago studio. Maupain acquired the art in Paris years ago.

Rumor has it that next spring Mae Marsh and Robert Herron are to wed. For the past few years while they have been playing together in the Griffith studjps, Cupid has been busy shooting arrows.

Griffith has added an emergency hospital to his studio, with an experienced physician in charge, who will give first-aid to injured and indisposed players.

Hazel Dawn and Sidney Olcott are being featured in "My Lady Incoq" on the Paramount program.

Edna Mayo and Henry B. Walthall are co-stars in Essanay's latest release, "The Misleading Lady."

SHE ENJOYED A MEAL OF DOG MEAT WITH IGORROTES

Miss Dorothy Murphy

San Francisco, Cal.—Dining a la Igorrote was great fun for Miss Dorothy Murphy until she learned that the chief delicacy of the feast was fattened dog. Miss Murphy is a New York girl who recently came here from the Philippines on her way home.

While in Northern Luzon she was invited to a banquet and enjoyed the experience. Then some unfeeling person told her what the meat course was.