CONDITIONS SO RANK THEY COULDN'T EVEN RAISE BABIES

That's the Real Answer to the Recent Riots at East
Youngstown, Ohio—Industrial Relations Report
Shows How Steel Corporation Was Scared
Into Raising Salaries.

The living conditions among the steel workers at Youngstown, O., have been so rank that the mothers there couldn't even raise babies. Sanitary conditions have been putrid. Putrid is a nasty sounding word, but it is the only word that just fits the condition. Families have been packed together like cattle or pigs in a pen. The workers have been toiling around the molten steel for $500 a year. In the meantime, it is asserted, that during the past two and a half years the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. has paid 12 per cent dividend.

That is the answer to the reason for the recent riots at Youngstown,
