

Loewe when seen at his factory replied in answer to questions regarding his position in the matter:

"By delay we gave the United Hatters ample opportunity to avoid proceedings against individual homes,

At the left is shown the home of Thomas McHugh, built with the savings of many years of toil in the Danbury hat factories. Unless he is helped NOW he will lose this home and also every bit of other property that can be seized by law as his share toward the $252,000 judgment won in the courts against the hatters' union. This is only one of the 125 homes that will be seized by the same process. At the right is the home of D. E. Loewe, head of the firm in whose favor the judgment was handed down by the courts. Below are Mr. and Mrs. William H. Humphreys, Civil war veteran and wife, who face loss of their property.
